In compliance with the provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois, the eighty-second annual meeting was held in the City of Chicago, at Oriental Consistory Bldg., commencing on Tuesday, the 11th day of October, A. D. 1921, A. L. 5921, at 9 o'clock a. m., ar.d was opened in ample form by Bro. Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, most worshipful grand master.

The Grand Master appointed the following brethren to fill vacancies:

Rev. Bro. J. G. Wright, grand chaplain, Greenville, in place of Rev. Bro. J. N. Elliott.

Bro. George W. Cyrus, grand steward, Camp Point, in place of Bro. John W. Baugh.

Bro. Harry C. Murch, grand steward, Carbondale, in place of Bro. H. S. Albin.

Musical Entertainment

Previous to the opening of grand lodge the Boys' and Girls' Band of the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home at LaGrange gave a delightful musical entertainment which was thoroughly enjoyed by every member of the grand lodge. A vote of thanks was given them which was indulged in by every member attending the session.

Prayer

Rev. Bro. J. G. Wright, grand chaplain, Greenville, led the devotions.

The grand marshal, with the grand stewards, retired and returned with the flag, and presented it to the grand master who placed it in the grand East while the brethren sang "America."

Tribute to Brother Isaac Cutter

Brother Alexander H. Bell delivered the following tribute to our late grand secretary, Brother Isaac Cutter.

To those of you who have attended sessions of this grand lodge at any time within the last fifteen years, this platform from which I now address you presents a most unusual appearance. Our brother, Isaac Cutter, whose continued presence upon this platform for so many years, gave to our opening sessions so much of welcome and good cheer, is not with us this morning. This distinguished and beloved brother, after many years of faithful service, was called from us by our Supreme Grand Master whom he had served so faithfully.

When the information flashed over the wires that Isaac Cutter was no more, every heart was bowed in mourning and every Mason in Illinois joined in the universal grief.

Brother Cutter was chosen grand secretary at the session of this grand lodge in 1906, and at each succeeding annual session he was re-elected to that position. He died in the harness. He had served as a member of the Board of Grand Examiners several years before he became grand secretary. In whatever place he served, his worth was recognized by all. As grand secretary he had formed a wider Masonic acquaintance in this state and beyond its borders, than any man in this grand jurisdiction.

Brother Cutter was a most likeable man. He possessed that invaluable and indescribable charm of personality, individuality, presence and manner which brought him a cordial welcome wherever he went. Jovial and whole-hearted, sincere and dependable at all times, he became endeared to our great brotherhood in such measure that his death brought a profound and painful shock to us all.

It is impossible to specify and with precision to define those traits, qualities and personal attributes which win and hold our affection. They elude all effort at definition. They cannot be segregated and scrutinized. Whatever they may be, Brother Cutter possessed those qualities in well-rounded measure. He brought into this grand lodge and into all of its constituent lodges which he visited, and diffused among our brotherhood generally, a genial and fraternal spirit. He breathed the atmosphere of genuine brotherhood, and radiated from his personality an aura of warmth and light that charmed and enriched all who came within its radiance. Everybody liked our Brother Cutter. Many loved him, and his generous heart with warm embrace held us all in abiding affection.

Brother Cutter's remarkable work and the acute sense of loss which now broods over all, are not to be attributed wholly to his kindliness of heart and urbanity of manner. Back of all this, and forming the rigid framework upon which these more graceful and engaging qualities were supported, were a stern integrity, and an earnest, persistent purpose to do each minute of his life the very best that he could in the service of his fellow men. To do his duty fully and to leave nothing undone that promptness and fidelity could accomplish, were the dominant thoughts with him and guided and inspired him every moment of his life.

Brother Cutter was a faithful and efficient grand secretary. His work was well done, completely done, promptly done. We have grown so much accustomed to his kindly presence and to his zealous interest in our work, that we feel that his loss, if not irreparable, is indeed deeply afflictive. This brother stood among us as a great leader and as an inspiration to all who sought more light. We need not mourn for him. While we deplore our own loss, and wonder how we can get along without him, we must remember that he has lost nothing. Death to him was not obliteration but change; not extinction but exaltation. While we mourn for the loss we have all sustained, he no doubt exults that he has shaken off the earthly tenement which so long confined him, and has risen in immortal glory to realms beyond the skies. All earthly attachments are transient. The most desolating thing about this life and this world is that the warmest attachments of friendship and brotherly love, the fondest love for dear ones, must soon be sundered. We can be together only a little while and then the parting comes. Like vessels passing on the sea, we hail and answer and are gone.

Had Brother Cutter been permitted to remain in this life, we would have enjoyed his society and would have profited by his service. But what had he to gain by longer life? He was ready to go. He had fought a good fight. He has finished his course. He had served his fellow men faithfully and long. He had at all times sought to do the will of his Supreme Grand Master. He had carned his eternal reward. He is honored and respected by all who knew him, and loved by thousands of his brethren in Freemasonry. No member of his family, no friend, no Mason, need offer explanation or apology for any act of his. He left us at the very acme of his career. His work was done. His race was run. His day was finished. His rest was earned. When he lay himself down to rest, weary of the burdens which he bore, his soul emancipated, disenthralled, radiant with light from above, rose in joyous exaltation to take its place as a just and upright Mason in the grand lodge above.

Isaac Cutter was my close friend. I knew him well. I was intimately associated with him during my services as your grand master. He was then grand secretary. I have been intimately associated with him ever since. I learned to appreciate his worth and God knows how I miss him. Brethren, we may be comforted and sustained by the unfaltering conviction that he has gone to his eternal home; that he is waiting for us there with welcoming smile ready to vouch for you and me when we knock at Heaven's gate.

Isaac Cutter is dead 'tis true. There is none to take his place here, 'tis true. But his life, his teachings, his example, are an open book before us. We can best honor him by steadfastly keeping in the paths along which he led us. Doth any man conceive that the voice of Isaac Cutter shall be heard here no more? Nay, verily I say unto you, that here, now, and hereafter, in every season of stress, he shall speak unto us like a voice crying out in the wilderness to make darkness light before us and crooked things straight. Brethren, a great and good brother has gone on before. He stands upon the heights beyond with hands outstretched in loving benediction on us all.

Report of Grand Master

The grand master, Bro. Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, presented his annual report.

TO THE BRETHREN OF THE GRAND LODGE:

"One ship drives East, Another drives West, While the self-same breezes blow; "Tis the set of the sails and not the gales That bids them where to go."

Billows of discontent have rolled over the ocean of human society during recent years while the world has been struggling to reach normal conditions. Avarice and selfish aggrandizement have wrought havoc and brought misery to many millions. In other lands vast numbers of human beings are crying for bread. Appealing hands are held out across the sea to America, the land of opportunity and plenty. Our people are ever responsive to the cry of distress. It is very significant that human distress is greatest in all countries that are most devoid of the spirit of fraternity. In these lands a negative answer comes to the question, "Am I my brother's keeper?'' Where Masoury prevails brotherhood makes men responsive to each other's needs. Masonry flourishes in Anglo-Saxon countries and the English-speaking people are steadily advancing toward higher ideals of humanity. In America our great fraternity continues its marvelous growth and progress. Few dared to hope that the immense net increase of last year could be maintained. But it has been exceeded. Many thought the depression in business would seriously curtail the growth of former years. In the 49 grand jurisdictions of the United States there are more than 2,000,000 of the best men enrolled under the banner of the Ancient Fraternity. Mere growth in numbers, however, is not all or even most to be desired. Careful scrutiny of the character and the proper use of the ballot are vital. There have been 19 new lodges instituted during the past year, making a total of 902 when charters are issued.

Before proceeding, however, to report the transactions in the ordinary affairs of the year let us bow in solemn consideration of the losses we have sustained in death's depletion of our ranks.

ISAAC CUTTER

On June 15, 1921, at Blessing Hospital at Quincy, the great soul of Isaac Cutter took its flight. For years he had been afflicted with a disease which proved to be incurable. After twelve weeks of suffering in the hospital, he passed peacefully over the river into the new life in the Silent Land. Few men touched the hearts of the Masons as did Brother Cutter. He was universally beloved and no one will be more missed than "Uncle Ike," as he was affectionately called by his brethren. For 15 years he had filled the office of Grand Secretary. His work had been so successful that he was each year re-elected without opposition. As a man and a loyal American citizen he stood very high in the estimation of all people who came in contact with him. From the first step he took in Masonry in 1892 to the end of his career he was intensely devoted to the fraternity. No man ever was more loyal to its principles and teachings than Brother On Sunday, June 19th, his funeral took place at his home in Camp Point, Brother Richard C. Davenport, Junior Grand Warden, conducting the ritualistic eeremonics. Owing to a death in my own family I was prevented from being present to pay my tribute to his memory. Brother Arthur E. Wood, Senior Grand Warden, had charge on behalf of the Grand Lodge. Further details of his great work will be left to the Committee on Obituaries.

BROTHER CUTTER'S SUCCESSOR

The death of Brother Cutter came at the most critical time of the year in the business of the Grand Lodge. From July 1 to August 15th the annual reports and remittances from all the lodges of the State were to be made. This involved the collection of almost $300,000.00. In order that the vast amount of work involved might be done without serious inconvenience, I looked the field over for a successor to Brother Cutter who was able to take up the work where he laid it down. From his long service and activity and general knowledge of all phases of Masonie activity, my first thought turned to Brother Owen Scott, Past Grand Master. He was, therefore, appointed on June 15th and has continued in active service. It is not possible to overstate my obligation to him in giving up his personal affairs and giving his entire time to the office of Grand Secretary. He has performed the duties without hesitation and to my entire satisfaction.

AMERICAN LANGUAGE ONLY

Petitions have come to me from lodges formerly working in the German language asking that they might be permitted to resume the use of their mother tongue. Twice the Grand Lodge has passed on this question and answered in no uncertain tone. It does not appear to me that any change in conditions will warrant consideration of this proposal. Few members of these lodges are confined to the German language. They understand our national tongue and can speak it as well as most of those who are native to our land. We live in America, and all Masons, whether born here or abroad, should be full Americans and speak the American language. In view of this I declined to entertain these petitions.

EPIDEMIC OF ORGANIZATIONS

One year ago I found it necessary to call attention to action of bodies other than Masonic who make as a pre-requisite membership in the Ancient Craft. Since then there has appeared almost an epidemic of other societies being formed on similar lines. At least two organizations for boys, and even of girls, under the age required in Masonry, are being formed. Considering all this the question is, where is it going to end. In one Grand Jurisdiction legislation has been enacted prohibiting Masons from becoming members of so-called "higher bodies" for a period of one year. It no doubt has come to your notice that the Grand Master of Pennsylvania has issued an edict forbidding Masons to become members of the Order of the Eastern Star. He has also ordered all Masons to sever their membership with the Order of the Eastern Star within six months from the date of his edict. Some self-styled Masonic thinkers have questioned the power of the Grand Lodges to interfere with the membership of Masons in the so-called "higher bodies." Such a contention is childish. Every Mason is subject to the discipline of the Grand Lodge and its legally constituted authority.

FRAUDULENT CONCEALMENT OF REJECTION

During my term of office as Grand Master many instances have come to my attention where persons had been rejected and afterward petitioned another lodge for the degrees. In the second petition they remembered everything with great minuteness, except the fact that they had previously been rejected. When charges are preferred for fraudulent concealment of rejection, they are found guilty and very properly expelled. An appeal comes to this Grand Lodge and on some technicality or plea of ignorance the action of the lodge is often set aside. These petitioners go on and enjoy the stolen fruit and are honored members of the fraternity. Presumably at least only the unworthy and the unfit are rejected. The fact that a man was rejected for the degrees in Masonry is something he can never forget. When he signs his petition and makes a false answer to the question of a previous rejection, he is a fraud and a deceiver and has no place in Masonry. This Grand Lodge cannot afford to pass lightly over that which is fundamental to the Craft. It has occurred to me that the blank petition prescribed by this body should be revised, so that there can be no excuse for such fraudulent actions. I, therefore, recommend that the committee on Appeals and Grievances be requested to make necessary changes in the prescribed form and submit them for approval.

SHORT FORM OF OPENING

Permission to change to the short form of opening under certain conditions has been most acceptable to all lodges. It has saved time and has been a great help in the busy work that has crowded upon the Craft in the past few years. In looking over the results and observing this desirable change I am constrained to advise that the short form of opening be permitted at all meetings of all lodges. Under Section 572 of our Code this can be done by a two-thirds vote of the Grand Lodge.

OUR HOMES

Not since the establishment of our Homes have conditions been better than during the past year. The change in the law one year ago providing a separate board of managers for each Home has worked with great satisfaction to all. Never in the history of the Grand Lodge has there been better team-work and a higher degree of efficiency among the men who constitute the two boards. The brethren have worked incessantly and unselfishly for the good of the children at LaGrange and the aged and infirm at Sullivan. The Grand Lodge is fortunate to find six men of such high standing as citizens and Masons who are willing to devote their time and talents to this work.

In connection with the reports on the Homes, it is fitting to record the bequest of our late Brother John H. Millen, member of St. John's Lodge No. 13, F. and A.M., of Dayton, Ohio, to the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home at LaGrange. The property consisted of bonds, bank stock, etc., and amounted to approximately $30,000.00. The gift is most liberal and the spirit of Fraternity which prompted our brother to remember the orphans is magnificent. Details will appear in the report of the Board of Managers of the Home.

BONDS FOR ALL OFFICERS

After mature consideration it is my judgment that this Grand Lodge should take the necessary steps to have a bond by some reliable bonding company, covering the secretary and treasurer of each lodge in the State as well as the Grand Lodge officers. To determine this, I suggest that a special committee of three be appointed to investigate this matter. Upon the report of this committee, I recommend that the Grand Master be authorized to enter into such a contract if he deems advisable. The fees for this bond shall be paid out of the funds of the Grand Lodge.

MASONIC SCHOOLS

Little can be said to add to the good work done by our Board of Grand Examiners during the year. Schools were held in six different places, the last in Chicago. Each vied with the others in reaching a higher degree of efficiency. All were well attended. At Springfield there were many past grand efficers. Three of these were past grand masters, neither of whom lived there. Sometimes there exists the feeling that brethren after filling places of honor and distinction have little further interest in the affairs of the Craft. This impression is not true as to past grand officers in Illinois,

MASONIC LOTTERIES FORBIDDEN

Masonry does not look with the least degree of allowance upon raffles, lotteries or gift enterprises. The law as given in Section 325 is so simple and positive that no one needs to err. Yet, in a lodge in the State during the year past a regular lottery for the benefit of a building fund was promoted. An automobile and a number of other valuable articles were offered to those who were the fortunate possessors of the proper tickets. The District Deputy Grand Master very properly reported the case to me. I ordered all money returned and the whole scheme suppressed. If lodges cannot provide themselves meeting places without resorting to plans and schemes which violate the Masonic as well as the laws of the State and nation they should be content to rent lodge rooms indefinitely.

CHARTER ARRESTED

It became my unpleasant duty to arrest the charter of Henderson Lodge No. 820, located at Kenney. The facts will be fully disclosed in the record in the case. Charges of a serious nature were preferred and accepted by the lodge against a member. A commission was appointed to hear the case. When the time for trial came it was found that legal notice had not been sent to resident members. The Commission reported and further action was deferred. In the meantime new charges, or a modification of the original ones, came again before the lodge and were by vote refused. After a conference with the Master and Secretary I ordered that proper notice be again sent and charges accepted. Among other things, I directed that no dimit should be issued to the accused until the charges were disposed of. Later I went to Kenney and proposed in open lodge to extend the time in which they could receive the charges, give the legal notice and place the accused on trial. It developed that my orders had been disobeyed and that a dimit had been issued and sent to the accused. I found that instead of complying with the law, the lodge was trying to evade it. The authority of the Grand Lodge had been openly defied. In view of the flagrant and wilful violations of the law after every opportunity had been given for compliance, I arrested the charter and suspended the functions of the lodge. I submit this case with the records for the disposition of the Grand Lodge.

MASTER DEPOSED

Serious complaint was made against F. J. Newton, Worshipful Master of Meteor Lodge No. 283, located at Sandwich. The charges were of such a nature as to bring the institution of Masonry into disrepute in the community. In order to get the facts in the case, I appointed a commission consisting of Paul A. Neufer, Chairman, Edgar J. Phillips, and Grover C. Niemeyer who went to Sandwich and after a thorough investigation the majority of the commission recommended that the Master be deposed. One member of the Commission dissented from this decision. Thereupon I referred the ease to the Jurisprudence Committee which after reviewing the evidence as reported by the commission unanimously decided that the Master should be deposed. In line with the findings of the Jurisprudence Committee I appointed Brother Elmer E. Beach, Deputy Grand Master, as my proxy who went to Sandwich on Friday, September 9th and carried out the orders deposing the Master and placing the lodge in charge of the Senior Warden. This was a very aggravated case and required drastic action. I submit the record in the case that it may go to the committee for further investigation and action by the Grand Lodge.

In connection with the decision by the Committee on Jurisprudence the question of who should pay the fees was involved. I held that the accusers should pay the costs of the case. The Jurisprudence Committee took the other view. I still feel that under the law and the reason for it, my holding was correct. However, as the Jurisprudence Committee decided differently I submitted to their decision and ordered the lodge to pay the costs.

MUST STILL BE REPORTED

Code 146 K regarding the publication of rejections, suspensions, expulsions and reinstatements, repealed at the 1920 session of the Grand Lodge, did not affect Code 410 D, which reads:

"The secretary shall transmit promptly to the Grand Secretary notice of all rejections for degrees, expulsions, and reinstatements with the date of same. * * * *

There is an excellent reason why the requirements of Code 410 D should be complied with. The complete card index system in the Grand Secretary's office should contain this information in order that those making inquiries may be supplied with the facts.

In Conclusion

It has been my ambition to be worthy of the commendation "Well done good and faithful servant." I have had no personal aims or ends to achieve. My sole purpose has been to serve the craft to the extent of my ability. I have rejoiced at the wonderful growth and progress of Masonry during the time I have been Grand Master. In yielding the gavel of authority to my successor, I do so feeling that, though my mistakes may have been many, I have had an eye single to the welfare of the Craft. I leave the great office of Grand Master with no feelings of bitterness or resentment toward any one, but with a heart full of good will to everyone. Depths of gratitude go out to all who have so well and willingly answered every call for service. No man ever had more loyal co-operation than has been cheerfully accorded me. My two and one-half years of service as Grand Master will be the high-water mark of my life.

"Not what we have, but what we use Not what we see, but what we choose— These are the things that mar or bless The sun of human happiness.

The things nearby, not things afar, Not what we seem, but what we are— These are the things that make or break That give the heart its joy or ache.

Not what seems fair, but what is true, Not what we dream, but what we do— These are the things that shine like gems, Like stars in fortune's diadems.

Not as we take, but as we give, Not as we pray, but as we live— These are the things that make for peace, Both now and after time shall cease."

The following is a detailed report of the Grand Master's office:

Report-Committee on Correspondence

Bro. Delmar D. Darrah presented the following report as Committee on Correspondence. It was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

Your Committee on Fraternal Correspondence would report that a comprehensive review of such proceedings of other grand lodges as have been received has been made and the same is now in the hands of the printer.

On account of contention about hours of work and wages, it was necessary for the company, which holds the grand lodge printing contract, to suspend active operation for a number of weeks. Hence, it is impossible to present the report on foreign correspondence in printed form at this session of the grand lodge.

Several grand lodges have not been reviewed due to the fact that the proceedings of these grand bodies were not received in time to be included in the report for 1921.

Your committee, therefore, requests that the report be received and printed with the annual proceedings.

Fraternally submitted,

Delmar D. Darrah,

Committee on Foreign Correspondence.

OWEN SCOTT,

Grand Secretary.

Report-Committee on Grand Master's Annual Report

Bro. Charles H. Spilman, chairman of the Committee on Grand Master's Report, presented the report of that committee. On motion, it was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

The story of Freemasonry is never a completed narrative. It is written day by day through each jurisdiction and is developed from hour to hour in the lives of men. But there must be occasional summing up of the doings of the craft, and in his formal annual report the grand master comes before you with a review of some of the accomplishments in Illinois during the past twelvementh.

He finds that a glance around the troubled earth reveals a potent fact, which is that the nations where distress greatly prevails, now and at other times, are the ones where brotherhood does not exist; that in the English speaking countries where fraternities flourish, there is the spirit of toleration, of mutual regard and confidence, and of the desire to be helpful one to another. No stronger argument has ever been presented than this expression of Grand Master Fitzgerrell. In it Masonry is justified in a practical way and our old theory that to know each other is to render the nation safe, is fully proven.

The reference to the loss of the right worshipful grand secretary, Isaac Cntter, who was a personal friend of every officer and member of this grand lodge, is committed to the attention of the Committee on Obituaries; and the action of the grand master in promptly meeting the emergency by filling the responsible post with an experienced brother is approved.

On two occasions the actions of the grand master in regard to lodges in other language than that of the country, have been reviewed by committees and formally endorsed by this grand lodge. The English language is the only language recognized within this grand lodge. Therefore the action in the present instance, which presents no phases that are new, but just the same old question, is approved without reference.

The principle, "It is for Masonry to know its own," has long ago been definitely established. The constitution of the Illinois grand lodge defines clearly the question of Masonic recognition. The fact that there are constantly being created groups of individuals who proclaim some connection with Masonry, who seek in some measure to trade upon that fraternal designation, or who produce in the public mind an unfortunate idea of Masonry through their machinations, does not affect the fundamental truth enunciated by the grand master. The grand lodge powers have never been abridged and they should never be questioned.

Lodges are frequently troubled with the petitioner who neglects to mention a previous application and rejection. It is a fruitful source of trouble between lodges and between individual members. Anything which will be helpful in preventing such situations arising is welcome and the suggestion concerning the possibility of amending the petition form is referred for primary consideration to the Committee on Appeals and Grievances.

The grand lodge should have opportunity to avail itself of the views of the Board of Grand Examiners on the possible application of the suggestion concerning short form opening, and the subject is so referred.

The splendid condition of the Masonic Homes, due to highly efficient management and supervision is pleasing to all, and the generous gift to their cause is deserving of the special mention made of it.

Much embarrassment to subordinate lodges and to individual officers may be prevented, and the good of the order conserved if a plan such as is advocated for the general bonding of officers handling lodge finances may be worked out and this consideration is assigned to a special committee to be named by the grand master.

The Schools of Instruction are growing in strength and usefulness, owing to the mutual participation in their advantages by the novices in the craft and by those who may give to them the results of years of experience.

Masonry, in its operations, never comes in conflict with any of the civil laws, and the action of the grand master in putting a stop to a lottery carried on in the name of the Masonic fraternity is cordially approved.

Actions relative to Henderson Lodge No. 820 and Meteor Lodge No. 283 are directed to the attention of the Jurisprudence Committee. In this connection your committee does not concur in the position of the grand master in regard to the fees attaching to a case of discipline. We believe that any brother who knows of any matter which involves the rights, dignity or honor of a member, a lodge, or this grand lodge, should be privileged to set in motion the proper inquiry without being in any way penalized, such as by the assessment of costs. We approve the action thus far reported from the Jurisprudence Committee in this regard.

All other matters of detailed action contained in the report, such as appointments, instituting and constituting, corner-stone laying, etc., have been carefully examined into and are herewith approved, being thoroughly in line with Masonic usage and custom in every instance.

It was decreed by Fate that Brother Daniel G. Fitzgerrell should wield the gavel of authority in the Grand East of Illinois for a longer period than any other grand master in its eighty-two years of existence. The greatest number of lodges have been instituted and constituted this year that are of record for a similar period. The greatest prosperity of a material kind has been experienced.

And with these records has come the greatest demand upon the time, the patience and the wisdom of the one whom you selected to direct these affairs. The transactions of the office of grand master show that in all things he has kept the faith, has upheld the ancient landmarks and has so administered the laws as to assure the dignity and standing of Freemasonry undiminished and untrammeled. He deserves to be remembered among the great upholders of the fraternity.

Fraternally submitted,

C. H. SPILMAN,
WM. FAIRLEE,
H. M. PALMER,
Committee.

Report—Committee to Compile By-Laws

The committee to compile the by-laws and revise the code, presented their report, and it was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of Illinois:

Your committee appointed to compile the by-laws and revise the code respectfully report that their duties were completed very shortly after the session of grand lodge, 1921, closed, the new codes printed and distributed as ordered.

Fraternally submitted,

OWEN SCOTT,
ALONZO DOLAN,
Committee.

Report—Committee on Chartered Lodges

Bro. Phil C. Barclay presented the report of the Committee on Chartered Lodges. It was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

Report—Committee on New Legislation

Bro. Geo. M. Moulton made the following report for the Committee on New Legislation. The report was adopted. Also the proposed amendment by the requisite two-thirds vote.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

Your Committee on New Legislation, to whom has been referred the report which it made to the grand lodge concerning the decision of Grand Master Wheeler, made at the annual meeting in 1916, having reference to the manner in which a brother may change his name, submits the following for consideration of grand lodge:

"419. When a brother has legally changed his name according to the laws of the State of Illinois, he shall be required to notify the Secretary of his Lodge promptly thereof, accompanying such notification with documentary evidence showing conclusively that his name has in fact been changed in conformity with the civil laws. Upon receipt of such notification the Secretary of the Lodge shall change the name accordingly on the Lodge records and shall promptly notify the Secretary of the Grand Lodge of such change."

Your committee recommends that this be adopted as an amendment to the grand lodge by-laws.

Fraternally submitted,

GEO. M. MOULTON,
WILLIAM WILHARTZ,
JOS. J. SHAW,

Committee.

All the above brethren having met the requirements, your committee recommends that the several changes of names be made on the records of their several lodges and the records of the grand lodge.

- No. 29. Bro. Mark Ashworth, residing at Matteon, Ill., was formerly a member of Elmwood Lodge No. 589, located at Humbolt, Ill., which lodge is now defunet. On or about May 26, 1877, Bro. Ashworth was suspended for non-payment of dues, the amount being $14.50. He now asks this grand lodge to restore him to good standing in the fraternity and presents a check for the amount for which he was suspended. Accompanying this request is the recommendation of Mattoon Lodge No. 260 that his request be granted. Your committee recommends that Bro. Ashworth be restored to good standing in the fraternity.
- No. 30. Wright's Grove Lodge No. 779, requests the restoration of Bro. Earle Accola who was expelled from that lodge on October 1, 1908, his offense being defrauding the U. S. Government mails. An investigation by a duly appointed committee of the lodge reports that Brother Accola was influenced in his offense by men much older than himself who were really responsible for his fall. The vote of the lodge upon the recommendation of his restoration was unanimous. Your committee recommend that Bro. Accola be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

No. 31. Bro. E. D. Foulkes, residing in Chicago, but formerly at Bath, Ill., at which time he was a member of Bath Lodge No. 494. On or about July 7, 1885, Brother Foulkes was suspended for non-payment of dues in the amount of $12.00. He now asks this grand lodge to restore him to good standing in the fraternity, accompanies his request with a check for the amount of which he was suspended, and the recommendation of several Master Masons in good standing that his request be granted. Your committee recommends that Brother Foulkes be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

No. 32. Makanda Lodge No. 434, Makanda, recommends the restoration of Bro. Frank Hagler, expelled by that lodge on or about August 30, 1917. It would seem that the principal offense of Brother Hagler was the disobedience of a summous to appear and answer charges, which summons Brother Hagler claims was not served. The petition for the recommendation by Makanda Lodge was regularly presented and regularly acted upon. Your committee recommends that Bro. Frank Hagler be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

No. 33. Bro. J. F. Maxey, residing at Pomona, Kansas, but formerly at Humbolt, Ill., at which time he was a member of Elwood Lodge No. 589, located at Humbolt, but now defunct, was on or about August 10, 1878, suspended for non-payment of dues in the amount of $6.00. He now asks this grand lodge to restore him to good standing in the fraternity and accompanies his request with the amount for which he was suspended. He also presents a recommendation by McKinley Lodge No. 41, A.F. & A.M., of Pomona, Kansas, that his request be granted. Brother Maxey has lived at Pomona for the last forty years and the lodge at that place recommends him as being of good morals, good reputation and an upright citizen. Your committee recommends that Bro. J. F. Maxey be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

No. 34. Cosmpolitan Lodge No. 1020, Chicago, requests the restoration of Bro. Abe Solomon who was expelled from that lodge in November, 1920. Brother Solomon was charged with falsely claiming a residence in Chicago in order to secure the degrees in Cosmopolitan Lodge. Later investigation proves conclusively that Brother Solomon could technically claim his residence in Chicago and was so advised by those whom he considered authority on such matters. Your committee recommends that Brother Solomon be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

No. 35. Chicago Heights Lodge No. 851, Chicago Heights, requests the restoration of Edwin O. Gord, who was expelled from that Lodge on September 8, 1908. His offense was withholding a petition and the fee. His request was regularly passed upon by Chicago Heights Lodge and your committee recommends that Brother Gord be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

No. 36. Seneca Lodge No. 532, Seneca, requests the restoration of Edward L. Griffith, who was expelled from that lodge on December 15, 1905. The request of Brother Griffith was regularly acted upon by Seneca Lodge, and your committee recommends that Bro. Edward L. Griffith be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

No. 37. Rome Lodge No. 721, at Dix, requests the restoration of George H. Fyke, who was expelled from that lodge on or about November 20, 1912. The request of Brother Fyke was regularly acted upon by Rome Lodge and your committee recommends that Bro. George H. Fyke be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

No. 38. St. Andrews Lodge No. 863, Chicago, requests the restoration of Frank U. Plopper, who was suspended from that lodge on or about September 20, 1920. His offense being as follows: On June 6, 1916, Bro. Frank U. Plopper petitioned Manitowoc Lodge No. 65, A.F. & A.M., located at Manitowoe, Wis., and was rejected. On December 10, 1918, he petitioned St. Andrews Lodge No. 863 of Chicago, signing a petition which contained the usual qualification that the candidate had never before petitioned a Masonic lodge for the degrees. He also answered the usual interrogatory of the secretary, in the negative, when asked if he had ever before petitioned a Masonic lodge for the degrees. He also stated in his petition to St. Andrews Lodge that he had been a resident of Illinois for six years next preceding the date of said petition, when in point of fact he had been rejected in Manitowoe Lodge only two and a half years previous. Your committee is of the opinion that the offense of Brother Plopper is of such magnitude as to merit a longer term of expulsion than from September last to the present date. We, therefore, recommend that the request of St. Andrews Lodge for the restoration of Bro. Frank U. Plopper be not granted.

No. 39. Thirty or more Master Masons, residing in or near the town of St. Anne, Iroquois County, having secured the permission of the Most Worshipful Grand Master to take the necessary steps toward organizing a Masonic lodge at that place, regularly petitioned the three nearest Masonic lodges for their recommendations. Two of the three lodges readily recommended the organization of the new lodge at St. Anne. The lodge at Aroma, by a close vote, refused to give its recommendation. The brethren of St. Anne, having met all other requirements, presented their petition to the Most Worshipful Grand Master, and he in turn, has referred it to this committee. Your committee is of the opinion that the organization of a Masonic lodge at St. Anne will not seriously handicap or cripple the interests of Aroma lodge. We, therefore, recommend that the brethren of St. Anne be granted a dispensation to organize a Masonic lodge at that place.

No. 40. Galatia Lodge No. 684, Galatia, requests the restoration of Jesse B. Sprague, who was expelled from that lodge on September 13, 1919. Your committee is assured that Brother Sprague has, by good resolution and proper conduct, made amends for the offense for which he was sentenced. We therefore recommend that the request of Galatia lodge be granted and that Bro. Jesse B. Sprague be restored to good standing in the fraternity.

J. E. Jeffers,
J. H. Mitchell,
S. C. D. Rea,

Committee.

Report—Committee on Appeals and Grievances

Bro. Alexander H. Bell presented the report of the Committee on Appeals and Grievances. The report was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

The undersigned, as your Committee on Appeals and Grievances, respectfully report that a number of cases have been submitted to us on appeal to the grand lodge, as follows:

Parian Ledge No. 977

Your committee is of the opinion that the findings of the commission were in all respects justified by the evidence and we recommend, therefore, that the action of the commission, in finding the brother guilty and indefinitely suspending him from all the rights and privileges of Masonry, be sustained.

Mt. Vernon Lodge No. 31 vs.

We recommend that the action of Mt. Vernon Lodge No. 31 in finding the brother not guilty of the charges and specifications preferred against him be sustained.

SHEKINAH LODGE No. 241 VS.

We recommend that the action of the trial commission in finding the brother guilty and fixing his punishment at expulsion, be set aside, and that he be restored to all the rights and privileges of Masonry. We further recommend that the case be remanded and that the grand master appoint a new trial commission to take charge of and try the case.

Peoria Lodge No. 15 Temple Lodge No. 46 Temple Lodge No. 46 vs. vs.

Your committee has examined the record with much care. We are clearly of the opinion that all three of these brethren are guilty as charged. We recommend that the action of the commission in finding Brethren S. and B. guilty and in recommending their expulsion be sustained and they be expelled from all the rights and privileges of Masonry. We recommend that the action of Peoria Lodge No. 15 in finding Brother P. guilty be sustained; that the action of that lodge in fixing the punishment of Brother P. at reprimand be set aside and that he be expelled from all the rights and privileges of Masonry.

Mt. Vernon Lodge No. 31

Your committee has carefully examined this case and are much impressed with the consideration that the brethren of Mr. Vernon Lodge who were familiar with everything appertaining to the charges and specifications were fully qualified to judge as to the guilt of the accused. We recommend therefore that the action of Mr. Vernon Lodge No. 31 in finding Brother C. not guilty be sustained.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

A. H. BELL,
CHARLES H. MARTIN,
WILLIAM E. HADLEY,
ROBERT N. HOLT,
ELMER D. BROTHERS,

Committee.

Report-Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home

Bro. Robert J. Daly, presented the report of the Board of Managers of the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home at La-Grange. So much of the report as related to appropriations was referred to the Finance Committee. The remainder of the report was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

Your Board of Managers in charge of the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home fraternally submits the following report of its administration for the year ending September 30, 1921.

Pursuant to the action at the last meeting of the grand lodge placing the supervision of the Masonic Homes under separate boards, the grand master appointed the Board of Managers for the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home as follows: Brethren William D. Price for one year, Robert J. Daly for two years, Robert C. Fletcher for three years, with the grand master, Daniel G. Fitzgerrell and the R.W. deputy grand master, Brother Elmer E. Beach, as members ex-officio.

Immediately following the closing of the grand lodge meeting, the new board met and effected its organization as follows: Brethren Robert J. Daly, President, Robert C. Fletcher, Treasurer, William D. Price, Secretary.

By action of the board, Brother and Mrs. George L. Hilliker were continued as superintendent and matron and Brother Arthur E. Higgins, M.D., as physician for the home.

OFFICIAL BONDS

The bond of the treasurer was fixed at twenty thousand dollars, ($20,000) and that of the superintendent at five thousand dollars, ($5,000).

Surety company bonds for these amounts have been furnished by these officers.

The board has held four called meetings during the year. The appointive members of the board have met regularly on the second Monday of each month at the home and following the established custom of former years, the supervision of the home has alternated month by month among the appointive members.

There is nothing unusual to report about our family during the past year. Except for the minor ills incident to childhood, the health conditions have been excellent. We believe that in a great measure this is a consequence of the improved playground facilities made possible by the splendid gift of Oriental Consistory. The school reports of our children show steady progress in their studies.

MANUAL TRAINING

Full use has been made of the facilities provided by the addition of the manual training building which embrace rooms for the print shop, the woodworking shop and domestic science. The print shop, under the supervision of Bro. A. E. Harvie, has furnished excellent instruction for the boys and has been self-sustaining. As in previous years, instruction in woodworking and domestic science has been given during the summer months.

The management of the home has sustained a severe loss in the death of the matron, Mrs. Hilliker, which occurred on Saturday evening, September 17. She was a woman of rare qualifications for her work and during her five years' residence in the home has made a permanent place for herself in the affections of the children.

IMPROVEMENTS

At the grand lodge meeting of 1919, the Board of Managers of the Masonic Homes recommended the construction of an addition at the south end of the home building for girls' dormitories and one at the north end for boys' dormitories and also of a separate building for heating and power plants, laundry and manual training, for which an appropriation of one hundred thirty-five thousand dollars, ($135,000) was made.

After having plans made for these buildings, including an extension of the south dormitory wing for hospital purposes and securing estimates of their cost, it was found that the appropriation was not sufficient owing to the very high costs of building construction. Accordingly after consultation with the grand master, it was decided to proceed with the construction of the power plant and manual training building, together with the tunnel connecting it with the main building. This work has been completed at a cost of eighty-seven thousand, three hundred thirty-seven dollars and twenty-three cents, ($87,337.23), and the building is in use.

In 1920, by recommendation of the Finance Committee and action of the grand lodge, the balance remaining in the National Defense Fund amounting to fifty-seven thousand, one hundred seventy-two dollars and forty-seven cents, ($57,172.47), was made available for additional construction at the home. It was then decided to proceed with the construction of the south dormitory and hospital section which has been completed at a cost of ninety-seven thousand, nine hundred forty-four dollars and twenty-nine cents, ($97,944.29), and is now occupied.

The total cost of additional buildings including architect's fees has been one hundred eighty-five thousand, eight hundred sixty-eight dollars and eleven cents, ($185,868.11).

The total appropriations by the grand lodge for building purposes have been one hundred ninety-two thousand, one hundred seventy-two dollars and forty-seven cents, ($192,172.47) to which must be added the Millen hospital building bequest of thirty-two thousand, four hundred six dollars and seventy-five cents, ($32,406.75), making the total amount of the building fund two hundred twenty-four thousand, five hundred seventy-nine dollars and twenty-two cents, ($224,579.22), and leaving unexpended in the building fund a balance of thirty-nine thousand, two hundred ninety-seven dollars and seventy cents, ($39,297.70).

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that the building programme as outlined in 1919 is not yet complete. Owing to the steady increase in the number of our children, especially boys, the need for the north dormitory wing is more pressing than ever.

With the increase in numbers, our dining room is inadequate to its needs and additional space for this purpose is an imperative necessity. We recommend an addition to the present dining room.

BEQUEST OF JOHN H. MILLEN

By the will of Bro. John H. Millen, a member of St. John's Lodge No. 13 F. & A. M. of Dayton, Ohio, and for a time a resident of Chicago, thirty-two thousand four hundred six dollars and seventy-five cents ($32,406.75) was given to the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home for "the construction of a building to be used preferably for manual training or for educational, amusement, sleeping, or hospital purposes." This bequest has been received by the board and turned over to the grand treasurer to be credited to the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home building fund and has been used for the construction of the hospital. A suitable bronze tablet,

JOHN H. MILLEN

Born October 7, 1861, at Alton, Ill.

Died June 4, 1921, at Sacramento, Cal.

UM OFT E LINNIS

commemorating this bequest, has been placed at the entrance to the hospital.

OTHER BEQUESTS

The will of Bro. Edward F. Toomey, a member of Old Glory Lodge No. 975, bequeaths approximately twenty-five thousand dollars, ($25,000) to the Masonic Orphans' Home. The will of Bro. Robert T. Wilbank, bequeaths an amount not yet known. The will of Bro. George R. Hoadley bequeaths an annuity of one hundred dollars, ($100) per year to the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home for a number of years as yet undetermined.

We expect that during the coming year the probates of these wills will be completed and that in our next report the exact amounts derived from these bequests can be definitely reported.

We have received from the Ladies Auxiliary of Chicago Commandery No. 19 K.T., the sum of eight hundred sixteen dollars and thirty cents, ($816.30) for gymnastic equipment which has been placed at interest. We hope to provide in the proposed new north addition, gymnasium facilities at which time this sum will be expended for the purpose designated.

FURNISHING FUND

The grand lodge having made no appropriation for furnishing the new buildings and as many bodies and individuals had expressed a desire to contribute for this purpose, your board, after consultation with and the approval of the grand master, received many contributions for this purpose, the total amount being twenty thousand, four hundred ninety dollars and thirty-nine cents, ($20,490.39).

A tablet giving the names of all these bodies and individuals is placed in the south building. A list of these names is appended hereto. These generous contributions have enabled us to furnish and equip the new buildings in a complete and satisfactory manner.

DISBURSEMENT OF APPROPRIATIONS

At the last meeting of the grand lodge, the following appropriations were made:

For refrigerating plant	$ 2,500.00
For laundry equipment	3,450.00
For repairs, minor alterations and additional equipment.	2,500.00
For new water softening plant	5,500.00
For maintenance	46,000,00

These several amounts have been expended for the purposes indicated excepting an unexpended balance of two hundred seventy-seven dollars, and thirteen cents, ($277.13), of the amount appropriated for maintenance which has been returned to the grand secretary, and three thousand three hundred thirty-two dollars and twenty cents, ($3,332.20), remaining in the water softener fund. The water softener has been completed but according to the contract the final payment is not yet due. We, therefore, recommend that this amount be left in the hands of the board.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Your board respectfully recommends the appropriation of the following amounts:

For maintenance	$46,000.00
For new north dormitory wing, dining room extension and for Sundry alterations and repairs consequent thereto	56,000.00
Furnishings	6,000.00

The reports of the treasurer, secretary and superintendent are appended hereto, all of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF AUDITOR

Mr. Robert J. Daly, President, Board of Managers, Illinois Masonie Home, La Grange, Illinois.

DEAR SIR:

This certifies that I have examined the records of the Secretary and the Treasurer of the Illinois Masonie Home at La Grange, Illinois, for the year ending September 30, 1921, and that, in my opinion, the statements attached hereto are a correct exhibit of the period ended on that date.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. R. PETERS, Auditor.

Dated at Chicago, Illinois, October 6, 1921.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF ILLINOIS MASONIC ORPHANS' HOME

To the Board of Managers of the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home: DEAR BRETHREN:

Herewith I submit my sixth annual report as Superintendent of this Home.

At the date of this report, September 30, all of the children are well and healthy with the exception of one little girl who is recovering from an attack of pneumonia. On July 6, one of our little boys, Louis Cunningham, died very suddenly of meningitis. He was sick but a very few hours. Aside from these two cases, we have had practically no sickness during the past year.

During the late winter and early spring, we had some twenty cases of mumps. None of the children were confined to their beds, but of course, it caused the usual loss of school privileges.

Owing to the intensely dry summer, our garden was not as productive as we hoped it would be. We are, however, now having fresh vegetables from the garden, tomatoes, string beans, cabbages, beets and Swiss chard.

In manual training not as much was accomplished as the year before for two reasons. First, the machinery placed in the manual training room was not ready for use until early in August. Second, the boys in the manual training class were all new to machine work and but two had previously had any manual training work.

The domestic science course accomplished more. Each of the twelve girls in the class made themselves a gingham dress and a woolen dress, and did excellent work in cooking.

With the printing plant, manual training and domestic science classes all at work, the vacation period passed rapidly and happily.

PRINT SHOP

During the year the following gifts have been received for the benefit of the Print Shop:

Integrity Lodge No. 997	$32.00
Bohemia Chapter No. 763 O. E. S	5.00
Square Lodge No. 978	6.25
Villa Grove Lodge No. 885	1.00
James R. Dick	5.50
Cleveland Chapter No. 696 O. E. S	15.00
Elmhurst Lodge No. 941	2.50
Total	¢67 95

Our little shop has had a very successful year, particularly since Bro. A. E. Harvie has been placed in charge. Not only has it paid its running expenses, stock and salaries, but it has enlarged its equipment of type. It also purchased, at the expense of about $200.00, an addressograph for use in mailing out "The Gossip."

There has been an added activity to the home in the last year. All of the children, large and small are given singing lessons Saturday afternoon of each week by one of the teachers in La Grange schools.

The value of these several activities, the print shop, manual training, domestic science, band and singing lessons cannot be over-estimated. It is an immeasurable benefit to our home life, giving an interest that nothing can touch. With our increase in membership, must necessarily follow an increase in the number of activities. At present our vocational training is confined to woodworking, printing, cooking and sewing. The training and the equipment for work is excellent but to meet the demand of our large and increasing family, a greater number of lines of vocational training should be installed. If we could provide something like kindergarten work for those from five to nine and a higher grade of vocational training for those from ten years up who are not in the printing, manual training or domestic science classes, and continue this during the same period in the summer that we have our manual training, I am sure we would find that the benefits derived therefrom would far outweigh the expense. Appended hereto is a detailed report of the membership of the home and the various gifts received during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

G. S. HILLIKER,
Superintendent.

Resolution

The following resolution was presented by Bro. James McCredie. It was referred to the Finance Committee.

WHEREAS, the authorities in charge of the public schools at La Grange, Illinois, are engaged in erecting additional buildings for the use of the public schools in La Grange, Illinois,

Now Therefore, inasmuch as the children in our Masonic Orphans' Home at La Grange, Illinois, are attendants at such public schools, and because of the interest of this grand lodge in the public schools at La Grange, Illinois, it is therefore,

RESOLVED, that this grand lodge as a voluntary contribution donate the sum of six thousand ($6,000.00) dollars to the Board of Education of the school district wherein La Grange, Illinois, is situated, to be used as a part of the building funds in the erection of such buildings.

RESOLVED, that the warrant of this grand lodge for the amount above named, be issued to the proper corporate body in charge under the laws of Illinois of the public schools of such school district.

Report-Illinois Masonic Home, Sullivan

Bro. James McCredie presented the report of the Board of Managers of the Illinois Masonic Home at Sullivan. So much of the report as related to appropriations was referred to the Finance Committee. The remainder of the report was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

Your Board of Managers in charge of the Illinois Masonic Home at Sullivan submit their report for the year ending September 30, 1921.

Following the closing of the grand lodge meeting, the board met and elected the following officers:

James McCredie, president.

Charles C. Davis, treasurer.

Alonzo Dolan, secretary.

During the past year everything has been running along very smoothly and harmoniously for which reason we have nothing special to present for your attention.

On December 1, 1920, Bro. J. B. Smith of Clay City, who had been superintendent, resigned, and Mr. A. E. McCorvie, of Belvidere, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Mr. McCorvie is a very efficient superintendent and the board of managers feel that he has been and will be of very great value to the home.

APPROPRIATIONS

The following statement shows the appropriations made by the grand lodge in 1920, the amounts drawn, and the unexpended balances returned to the grand lodge at the close of business, September 30, 1921.

	Appropriatio	n Drawn	Returned
Covering pipes	$7,500	$7,500	$ 392.83
Fire pumps	1,000	(not drawn)
Changing windows	1,000	1,000	281.47
Power house chimney	4,000	(not drawn)
Mattresses	1,500	1,500	739.89
Furnishings	2,700	2,700	244.90
Weather stripping	500	500
Moving picture machine	1,000	1,000	1,000.00
Maintenance	80,000	80,000	2,866.56

Painting 1,500	1,500
Solarium	500	150.00
*Plumbing	7,500	7,000.00

*Contract let recently; holding the balance $7,000.00.

The contract for replacing the plumbing in the men's building was not let until September of this year. While the work was needed badly we did not feel justified in letting the contract until prices had come down to what we thought was a reasonable figure.

The appropriation for the fire pump and the power house chimney were not drawn because of a change in our plans which made it unnecessary at this time.

The appropriation for the moving picture machine was not used as money to purchase it was provided in another way.

We were unable to build the sun parlor on the hospital building with the generous sum of $10,000 appropriated by the Grand Chapter Royal Arch Masons on account of high prices of labor and materials. Only enough money was drawn from the fund to pay the architect for the plans. The sun parlor will probably be built the coming year inside the appropriation.

The unexpended balances left in the several funds were turned over to the grand secretary on the last day of September.

The reports of the treasurer and the books of the institution have been audited by Bro. A. B. Steuban, of the Secretary of State's office, and may be found in the proceedings.

A GIFT

Constantia Lodge No. 783 of Chicago, through their efforts, gave to the home a gift of $600 which was gratefully received.

ROAD FIIND

There remains in the hands of the treasurer of the board a balance of $1250.25, of a special road fund appropriated several years ago for repairs and maintenance of the roadway between the home and Sullivan. The committee requests that this fund be allowed to remain in their hands to be used for the same purpose.

Amounts Needed 1921-22

For the coming year 1921-22 your board recommends the appropriation of $75,000.00 for maintenance. We further recommend the appropriation for the following purposes of the several amounts enumerated:

Implement sheds	 $1,500.00
Power line, etc.	 5,000.00

Mattresses	600.00
Painting	2,500.00
Auto and truck	2,500.00

Farm machinery	1,500.00
Power vacuum cleaner	500.00
Ventilating fans	400.00
Clothing, bed linen, towels, etc	5,000.00

All of which is respectfully submitted.

James McCredie, C. C. Davis, Alonzo Dolan, Board of Managers.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF ILLINOIS MASONIC HOME

Sullivan, Illinois, September 30, 1921.

To the Board of Managers of the Illinois Masonic Home: Gentlemen:

I herewith submit a report of Home conditions since the first of January, 1921, the date when I took charge. At the time I came here, there was considerable sickness, and we had many deaths during the months of January and February and in the early spring. Taken as a whole, health conditions have been very good considering the physical condition and the age of the members.

The water in the wells and the reservoirs has been fairly good in quality, and we have an ample supply at this time. We discovered a leak in the sewer system, whereby the water was being syphoned from the reservoir into the creek in large quantities, and the same was immediately remedied. Some minor repairs are needed from time to time.

Religious services are held every Sunday, with the exception of July and August, during which time we held five services in two months.

Gil. W. Barnard Commandery of Sullivan held their Easter services at the Home, which was very much appreciated. Brother Mathers, of Chicago, gave a very interesting illustrated lecture one evening last spring.

We are all very appreciative of the splendid entertainments given by a quartette from Danville Consistory, the Patterson Carnival Company, the Percy Singers and Players, the Bushart Concert Company and Goforth's Orchestra of Bloomington, all of which was gratis. We also have had two fine lectures and three concerts by outside talent, which was paid for out of the Entertainment Fund.

On Decoration Day, the graves of the deceased members in the Home cemetery and the Sullivan cemetery were decorated.

On the 4th of July we had a splendid band concert, both afternoon and evening, by the Sullivan Band, and a good display of fireworks at night, which was greatly enjoyed by the members and employees of the Home, besides the people of Sullivan and vicinity, there being about 2,000 on the grounds and adjoining roads.

All holidays were celebrated in true holiday fashion. During the Chautauqua season a goodly number of our people attended the afternoon program at Sullivan, and a few in the evening.

A new cream separator has been purchased, and a new grain binder, and a ventilating system put in the main kitchen. The moving picture machine which was installed last January furnishes us with movies once a week, and is a fine innovation for the Home.

The crops on the farm were very good and we have a good timothy hay crop, having about 40 tons of the hay to sell. We have an abundance of good pasture.

We sold a mixed car of cattle and hogs in May, and a couple of small bunches of hogs since. As there was no supply of feed on hand the first of January, we had to buy a good deal of hay and corn during the spring to tide us over. As we do not have a large amount of plow land, we can hardly raise enough to feed the amount of stock we keep. We have a nice bunch of Holstein heifers, besides the dairy herd, also a nice bunch of spring shoats and thirteen head of Durham and Shorthorn Steers, which we are feeding to butcher for the Home use.

You will notice a considerable drop in the value of the farm inventory, which is due to the depreciation in market prices on grain and stock. The cattle and horses have been inventoried at a much lower value than last year. The inventory this year was taken by Brother McIntire and Bay, both progressive farmers of Sullivan, and values made at what they considered a fair market price.

A number of new flower beds were set out and they did very nicely this summer. This fall we are landscaping and getting ready to set out considerable shrubbery, etc., around the Home and hospital.

The rooms and halls in the men's building were painted last winter and spring, and all of the interior of the hospital. We are sorry to say that the plaster has been coming off quite badly in several of the hospital rooms.

On the whole, conditions among the members and throughout the Home are very good.

Respectfully submitted,

A. E. McCorvie,

Oration

Bro. Leroy A. Goddard, grand orator, delivered the annual oration. A rising vote of thanks was given the orator and it was ordered printed in the proceedings.

M.W. Grand Master and Brethren of the Grand Lodge:

The consequent chaotic conditions of the after effects of war and a resultant vibration of discontent environ us yet to a great extent, but it is the same world that a few years ago was enjoying prosperity and good will among men. While we have apparently passed through the night of destruction, there is a pressing need for that guidance that will lead us aright on into the morning of reconstruction, and this is Masonry's opportunity; so my suggestions to you at this time are on the subject of

MASONIC LEADERSHIP

The paramount value of Masonic Leadership is loyalty to God and to country, obedience to law and the constituted authorities, and fealty to the flag, not only as a Masonic obligation but as a zealous impulse, a principle of life, fundamental and sacred, incumbent upon every individual Mason.

It is estimated that the world war exacted from all countries engaged over three hundred forty-eight billion dollars, and forty-three million lives, the great majority of which were young men between the ages of twenty-two and forty-four years. The war's problems were so vital, so terrible and came so thick and fast that the slightest reflection now causes a shudder, but there were organized activities to meet them. The patriotic appeal was persistently made to our people. Our most eloquent orators were enlisted to inspire the incentive of loyalty. Organizations everywhere were working with zeal and energy, and back of all this was the real fear of losing our cause and probably seeing our Government perish from the earth. Let me add that the contributive help of the Masons in this conflict in time, labor, men and money can never be told nor known.

Our problems did not cease, however, on the 11th day of November, 1918, when the armistice was signed, after we had successfully met the adversary on the battlefield. This country never before faced peace problems as serious and as important as it does today, and these must be met with cool, deliberative and sane judgment, and by the constructive work of the best there is in American manhood. Our ideals of Government and our obligations of loyal service are right now facing a supreme test in some respects more trying than in times of war. Now, we are literally infested by treacherous cliques, subtle and intriguing, working zealously and constantly to bring about political, social and industrial destruction.

Let us sink it deep into our hearts that Masonry and patriotism are synonymous terms, and that fealty to Masonry recognizes no compromise with treason in any shape, form or fashion, but demands that spirit of patriotism not only of loyalty to the flag but loyalty also to the high ideals of individual citizenship.

A necessary result of war is that society is very much disturbed and old traditions are being overthrown. We are in the midst of an effervescing state, a condition of unrest. Labor is restless and capital is guessing. Radicals are spreading the false doctrine among working men that frugality and industry as primary virtues are old fashioned and worn out, while conscienceless profiteers and financial anarchists bring shame to honest business men seeking fair returns for their capital and energy through legitimate business methods. It is absolutely immoral to demand a full day's pay for less than an honest day's work, and every free, law-abiding American citizen should be guaranteed his privilege to work to sustain his family and himself and educate his children, provided the work is honorable and the purpose is honorable and lawful. It is equally immoral for a corporation or trust to curtail the output of a commodity solely to harvest increased profits, and he is more guilty who refuses just and equitable remuneration for labor solely because the power is possessed to do so. If by some process we could unfold to view the extent of crooked leadership and graft by which honest labor and legitimate business are confronted, our amazement and our shameful surprise would know no bounds.

Deplorable as are these conditions, their importance is really dwarfed by the proportion of brazen disloyalty, treason, bolshevism, I. W. W.-ism and other like "isms" that exist all around us. These radicals are permitted to pursue their activities of propaganda practically unmolested. They openly attack our form of Government and our American institutions, We are told that there are two million bolshevists or communists within our borders, a number equal to our American expeditionary force in the World War, the leaders of whom believe that they will succeed in time, not only in wrecking our Government, but in overthrowing practically all the present organized governments of the world.

There is but one attitude for Masons to take toward these pernicious ageneies, these fomenters of hatred. The loyal citizen must set his face against every loose-tongued and traitorous agitator, against every conspirator against our Government and against every organization that seeks to overthrow law and that defies constituted authority. Nor must there be any compromise with those who for financial or other gain will passively acquiesce in the activities of these perfidious schemers. You cannot afford to put on the soft pedal or to be non-committal. Don't try to straddle. Don't be a bat. A bat is neither beast nor fowl, consequently it is the most hated by both and has no friend in either. I have as much respect for the outspoken bolshevist as I have for the man who for personal or political reasons or through fear fails to come out in the open on either side.

Neither is this a question of wealth or of poverty. The injustice of wealth is a convenient excuse even for some of our college professors to preach bolshevism. Wealth is a crime if gained or used dishenorably. Wealth is honorable if acquired by honest industry and frugality and if it is used humanely. How could we have colleges, churches or libraries without such honorably prosperous men? In Chicago alone, multiplied millions are given annually to feed the hungry, house the poor and helpless, care for the sick and educate the youth. Shall these givers be condemned because by thrift and industry they are successful?

Landable ambition is not a crime; honorable success is not a curse.

I did not accept this appointment as Grand Orator, and it was not my intention to try to respond until just recently a little incident gave me the theme. Consequently this is an eleventh hour production. I asked one of our leading lawyers, an active Mason, what he considered the foremost obligation of our Fraternity. His quick answer was that "Masons should be loyal."

We are told that in this Chicago district there are more than fifty thousand Bolshevists, Anarchists and I. W. W.'s whose determination is to overthrow the Government, and not by the use of the ballot or other legal process. Their first drive apparently was to destroy not property alone, but life, if necessary, but finding such extreme radicalism was reacting against them and their malicious purposes, they are now resorting to propaganda work, at least till their combative strength is increased.

Our Fraternity has a membership of more than two hundred and thirty thousand in Illinois, nearly one hundred and twenty thousand in Cook County; men of education and social influence, and men who have been taught loyalty to God and to Country in every step of their Masonic advancement. We cannot deny being fully aware of this danger lurking in our midst—we know it. Neither can we, like an ostrich, bury our heads and think we are concealed from this peril. Then with law, truth and justice on our side, are we to sulk and do nothing? Or, shall we as Masons be true to our obligations, our Fraternity and our Country?

We have two and one half million Freemasons in the United States who should not only themselves be loyal but who can be a tremendous power in offsetting pernicious propaganda by persistent constructive propaganda. In other words the call is for Masonie leadership to put in force our united co-operative strength against this danger that overhangs us, by our own individual acts and teachings, and by creating such a sentiment as will compel those in power to recognize the force and strength that we represent. It is a responsibility we ought to embrace, certainly not try to evade. It is not only a question of enforcing law, but more largely of moral leadership. A citizen may violate a law in an unguarded moment or by misguided judgment. He may commit a crime in a heat of passion. That does not mean that he seeks to destroy the law. Jean val Jean was a victim of circumstances, and not at heart a criminal. There can be no mitigating circumstances to the individual who deliberately seeks to destroy Government.

Legislation has no monopoly on the road to morality. The heart of the world is not wicked, and the intelligence of the world is not on the decline. I have always been an optimist on humanity. I believe men of intelligence, especially those who compose this great Fraternity, deep down in their souls desire the highest, the best and the purest there is in life. In other words, there is that divine spark within the soul of every sensible man that will respond to these suggestions if presented from true hearts with sincere motives.

It is difficult to comprehend the responsibility of leadership. If I can only faintly impress upon the twelve hundred here today—leaders of the Masons in Illinois—the gravity of their position, it will be a well paid effort. The world is moved by leadership. Even that conscience which makes cowards of us all can be molded by leadership.

While travelling recently in the occupied territory of Germany I noticed right along the highways in the open miles and miles of fruit trees full of blossoms and of young fruit. I was informed that the trees were planted, cared for and protected by the Government for the benefit of the poor; that the people never disturbed the fruit but entered into cheerful co-operation in protecting it for the purposes intended. The fruit was apportioned to the poor according to their needs. Surely a beautiful spirit influenced by environment and constructive leadership. We are told that the German government even now is in advance of the rest of the world in making provision for disabled veterans. And yet, leaving Brussels for Paris, it was most depressing to see acres and acres of fruit trees that had been cut down at the very roots to prevent them ever again furnishing fruit even to feed the helpless widows and orphans that the war had made. Not only that, but railroads and depots had been blown up and some of the world's finest cathedrals shelled into rubbish. Will a civilized world ever forget such malicious vandalism, such infamous leadership?

In my earlier life I superintended a Sunday School, and it was a good investment. Among the many lessons that were indelibly impressed on my mind, I remember one most distinctly. It was the story of the disciples at sea. It made a great point with me that they were "at sea," an expression that has grown with the ages. Darkness came; they were at sea and in the dark. They didn't know what to do in the dark. And a heavy wind came, they were tossed about and they were afraid. Of course, they were afraid. Well, what happened. They heard, heard the still small voice of the Nazarene, still, small, but they heard it,—"It is I, be ye not afraid."—and they immediately landed in safety.

A great portion of the world is at sea—the old boat is being storm tossed and badly rocked. Justice is receiving some hard jolts, and patriotism is almost eaught up in the waves. Anxious, willing workmen are more or less in confusion, and legitimate labor organizations have their problems with crafty agitators and cunning schemers that invade their ranks. Lawful capital is nervous and on a tension. The wave of crime sweeping over the country, monopolizing the big headlines of the daily press, is appalling. But don't desert the ship, trust in the sanity of her leaders and be unafraid. God reigns and our flag is yet the flag of the people. Listen to that still, small voice of conscience that comes from the brain of business sense and is prompted by the heart of Masonic justice, and obey its dictates. The responsibility is upon us, and we have never yet failed to make good.

When motoring through the battlefields of France we passed through several cities that had been almost totally demolished by German soldiers and occupied by them until our American boys arrived on the scene and retook them. Some of the places were so completely destroyed that there was not even a chimney left in some entire blocks. On the journey we were forcibly reminded that our own United States had given much that was of more value than money. This reminder was contained in the American cemeteries, marked by the white crosses where the remains of our men were buried, and suspended in the centre would be the American flag. I shall always remember especially with patriotic emotion the cemetery at Belleau Woods where the names of twenty-eight hundred of our men are marked on the white crosses. I think it is the most beautiful cemetery I have ever seen. Here were evidences most convincing that had it not been for our forces in France or had their arrival been delayed even a few days, the result of the war might have been disastrous to us along with the other allied countries, and the American flag hauled down at the dictation of the Kaiser.

Listen to this message from our wounded service men in their convention just held recently in Detroit; among other resolutions I quote as follows: "Any attempt by force upon the institutions of our Government and the flag of our country will be met with force, if necessary, by all patriotic veterans. The government of this republic will be maintained at any cost, and there will be tolerated but one flag, our national emblem."

It was this spirit of patriotic manhood of which General Foch spoke on July 4th last when he said:

"In the long war that the free nations had to fight against the oppressors of the right, the direct participation of America lasted only a short period, but to the American nation is due the glory of having thrown herself wholly into the struggle at the decisive moment and, in order to insure victory, to have made in every branch of the national activity an unparalleled effort.

"Her army, too, so quickly here from so far away, showed from the first incomparable qualities of spirit, courage and heroism.

"Arerica rushed with all her youthful ardor into the vast turmoil of the battle, and thus contributed mightily to the victory of right and liberty.

75,000 of her children, dead on the soil of France, testify to this in an undying way.

"Glory to these dead! Glory to the American army! Glory to the American people!"

Now let me quote from Theodore Roosevelt's "Last Plea for Americanism":

"We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag. We have room for but one sound loyalty, and that is loyalty to the American people."

Civilization has been dealt a terrible blow, and is yet in a restless unsettled state, more or less at sea, storm tossed and in the dark, but we are not lost. We need balance wheels, and it is incumbent upon the Masonic fraternity to maintain a leading part in that responsibility. My optimistic faith tells me that in time the consciences of our men and women will awaken to the call of unselfish endeavor and constructive effort, and that the great truths of civilization will prevail because they must prevail. Let us hold tenaciously to that faith which trusts in the fundamental righteousness of our people, and the pendulum of safety and sanity will again swing back to law, to justice and to loyal citizenship.

Report-Committee on New Legislation

Bro. Geo. M. Moulton, chairman of the Committee on New Legislation presented the following report. It was adopted. Also the proposed amendment to Code No. 149 of Grand Lodge By-laws by the requisite two-thirds vote.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

The undersigned Committee on New Legislation to whom was referred the amendment proposed by Bro. Wm. H. Beckman to code No. 149 of the Grand Lodge By-laws, fraternally recommends that the proposed amendment be adopted, so that when amended the code will read as follows:

149. For the due performance of the duties hereinbefore prescribed, the grand secretary shall receive as full compensation, the sum of four thousand dollars per annum, payable in monthly installments: Provided that for payment of sums actually expended for postage, express charges, and incidental official expenses, the grand lodge may make appropriations, upon presentation of itemized bills approved by the Finance Committee. Provided, further, that the grand secretary shall employ an assistant who shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the Finance Committee and the grand master.

Your committee further recommends that the proposed amendment to code No. 552 of the Grand Lodge By-laws, to strike out the words "seventy-five dollars" in the eighth line thereof, and to substitute the words "one hundred dollars," be not adopted.

Fraternally submitted,

GEO. M. MOULTON,
WILLIAM WILHARTZ,
JOS. J. SHAW,
Committee.

Report-Committee on Jurisprudence

Wm. B. Wright, chairman of the Committee on Jurisprudence, presented the following report. It was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Master, Wardens and Brethren:

Your Committee on Jurisprudence to which have been referred several matters treated of in the report of the most worshipful grand master beg leave to report as follows:

CHARTER ARRESTED

In regard to arresting the charter of Henderson Lodge No. 820-

When certain charges were first preferred against a member of that lodge they were accepted by the manimous vote of those present at the meeting. A commission was appointed to try the case. The commission found the preliminary steps specified in the code had not been taken and that jurisdiction had not been acquired, hence the charges were dismissed. New charges were at once preferred, the preliminary steps were taken, and when the next vote was had the charges were rejected by manimous vote. The matter was presented to the most worshipful grand master and after investigation he felt there should be a trial on the charges, and addressed the following letter of August 24, 1921, to the lodge through the secretary:

"Referring to the ease of Henderson Lodge No. 820 vs. Frank S. Stewart, I am informed that Brother Stewart has petitioned your lodge for a dimit. In view of the fact that another set of charges have been preferred against Brother Stewart which are now on file in this office you will not issue the dimit as applied for until further notice."

On August 31, 1921, the most worshipful grand master again wrote the lodge as follows:

"I am enclosing herewith charges preferred by Bro. Charles T. Sprague, Master Mason in good standing and affiliated with DeWitt Lodge No. 84 of Clinton, against Bro. Franz Sigel Stewart, commonly known as Frank S. Stewart. You will send out notices to the lodge in this connection and it is ordered that the charges at the proper time be accepted by the lodge."

Notwithstanding these explicit directions from the most worshipful grand master, the lodge met September 17, 1921, and as shown by the records, the letter of August 31, above quoted, was read in full. The record continues—

"The master gave notice that a secret ballot would be taken, on accepting the charges and Brother Stewart placed on trial.

A vote was taken with the following result: three for accepting the charges and sixteen against accepting, and one blank ballot. The master ordered a second vote to be taken, with the following result: three for accepting the charges and seventeen against accepting them. The master then declared the charges rejected by this lodge."

In the minutes of the same meeting we find the following:

"The application of Bro. Franz Sigel Stewart for dimit laid over from the last meeting, was taken up, and his dues being paid and no charges pending, the master directed the secretary to issue the dimit."

In view of this record your committee is of opinion that the action of the most worshipful grand master in suspending the charter of the lodge was amply justified and should be sustained. This most worshipful grand lodge is sovereign and when it is not in session the most worshipful grand master exercises its executive functions. The function of an executive is to see that the law is enforced and obeyed. When the most worshipful grand lodge through its most worshipful grand master orders that charges against a brother be accepted by a lodge there is no occasion for any one to vote upon that question. A record should be made showing the charges accepted by order of the most worshipful grand master.

If a constituent lodge has power by a vote of its members to set aside or defy the order of the most worshipful grand master; if through a spirit of rebellion or a mistaken or exaggerated notion of its rights a lodge can evade, ignore or set aside the orders and commands of the highest officer of the most worshipful grand lodge, then this most worshipful grand lodge may as well surrender its sovereignty and dissolve, leaving every lodge and every individual member free to act without legal restraint or control.

We recommend not only that the action of the most worshipful grand master in this case be sustained, but as a further measure of discipline the charter of Henderson Lodge No. 840, and its functions remain suspended until June 1, 1922, and that during the period of suspension its affairs be administered as specified in Code No. 678.

MASTER DEPOSED

As stated by the most worshipful grand master, this committee reviewed the record made by the trial commission and was of the opinion that the finding by a majority of the committee that the defendant was guilty was supported by the evidence. We so reported and the master was deposed.

The facts were briefly as follows: The defendant while on the back porch of the house of an acquaintance located about one mile from his own house and while on or near a step-ladder directly under a bedroom window, was shot in the arm by some one in the bedroom above him, after which he fled, and carried the step-ladder with him and placed it in the barn some distance from the house. He attempted to conceal the incident and when it became known, confessed to being there and to being shot as above stated.

His attempted explanation that he came on the premises because he saw a prowler there who had escaped at his approach and that he was shot while standing near the ladder waiting to see if the prowler would return, did not appeal to your committee as a credible explanation nor was it at all satisfying to the brother who acted as his counsel at the taking of the testimony.

We recommend that the action of the most worshipful grand master in deposing said master be approved and that he be not restored as master during the time for which he was elected.

PAYMENT OF COSTS

The most worshipful grand master requested this committee to construe Code No. 1009, and give an opinion as to who should pay the costs in above case. We were and are of the opinion that the lodge and not the accuser should be required to pay the costs. The accusers made a complaint to the most worshipful grand master regarding the worshipful master of Meteor Lodge No. 283. The most worshipful grand master, following the provisions of Code No. 1008, deemed the matter of a sufficiently grave character to warrant investigation, and he proceeded as in that code provided and sought, through a commission, an investigation of the facts and such report and such opinion as would enable him to make a final decision.

We did not think the most worshipful grand lodge intended, by the adoption of Code 1009, to provide that any one who called attention to the delinquencies of a worshipful master should be required to pay the costs of any investigation ordered by the most worshipful grand master to enable him to make a final decision, nor did we think the language of this code could properly be so construed.

If such was the intention or if the language bears such construction, masters of lodges would be immune from discipline no matter how culpable their conduct, because few Masons if any, can afford to make themselves personally responsible for a bill of costs in a matter in which they have no personal interest, different from or greater than the interest of every other Mason who desires that Masonic law be vindicated and its violation punished.

This in substance was our opinion as given to the most worshipful grand master, and upon which he acted in ordering the lodge to pay the costs.

Fraternally submitted,

WM. B. WRIGHT, C. E. ALLEN, H. T. BURNAP, RALPH H. WHEELER, N. B. CARSON,

Committee.

Report—Finance Committee

Bro. Edward H. Thomas, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the following report. It was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

Your Committee on Finance, as in the past two years, have had the books, accounts, records, etc., of the right worshipful grand secretary and the right worshipful grand treasurer audited by a public accountant, Bro. George Catto, whose report is as follows:

To the Finance Committee of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

BRETHREN:

You have again afforded me the privilege of serving our grand lodge by examining the books, accounts, records and vouchers of the same in the offices of the grand secretary at Camp Point and the grand treasurer at the State Bank of Chicago, which were found to be correct and in accord with the conditions. All the funds are intact and the securities in the shape of bonds and stock certificates are in the possession of our grand treasurer whose assistant displayed them to me. I noted that all coupons for interest due had been detached and collected and those covering interest not yet due still attached to the bonds.

Through the forethought of our grand treasurer's assistant, there are no vouchers outstanding, all checks issued have been cashed, and the balances reported by him in his report are in accord with the balances shown by the books of our grand secretary.

Attached to the report of our grand treasurer is a certificate from Bro. Gaylord T. Morse, Assistant Cashier of the State Bank of Chicago, and there was in that bank at the close of business October 4, 1921, the following balances due the grand lodge:

Amendments Proposed

Bro. David D. King offered the following amendments to code numbers 348, 349 and 351 and moved that they be referred to the Committee on Legislation. The motion was seconded by representatives of more than twenty lodges and were so referred.

Amend code 348 by striking out the clause beginning in the third line "or make any change in its place of meeting that will effect lodge jurisdiction."

Amend code 349 by striking it out.

Amend code 351 to read code 349.

Amendments Proposed

Bro. A. F. Hooper, Utopia Lodge No. 894, presented the following resolution. It was referred to the Committee on Finance and the Board of Managers of the Orphans Home at LaGrange, with instructions to report at the next session of grand lodge.

WHEREAS, it is deemed advisable that action should be taken to assure, as far as possible, the retention of members of the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home in said Home until they respectively arrive at the age of eighteen years to enable them to receive such education and training as may best fit them to be self-sustaining and self-reliant;

Now, Therefore Be It Resolved, by the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois, that the Board of Managers of the Illinois Masonic Orphans' Home shall be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to make, pass or adopt such rules and regulations as in their judgment may be necessary, proper or advisable, in relation to the length of retention at said home of children therein or members thereof having in regard to their fitness to be self-sustaining and self-reliant, and that recommendation be and it is hereby made to said board that as far as practicable in the judgment or discretion of said board a child or member shall be retained until they shall have attained the age of eighteen years.

Report—George Washington Memorial

Bro. Owen Scott, State Chairman of the George Washington Masonic Memorial Association, made the following report and asked that it be printed in the proceedings. It was so ordered.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

During the past year the work of soliciting for the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association has been practically completed. From the grand treasurer, to whom all remittances have been made, it is learned that the amount in his hands credited to this fund October 1, 1921, is $71,459.58. This is in keeping with other grand lodges, although many of them have exceeded this sum. A recent letter from Bro. Louis A. Watres, president of the association, says:

"We have been most fortunte indeed that the brethren of your great jurisdiction have seen the vision of the deeply significant work we have in hand. Your most worshipful grand master, Brother Fitzgerrell, has been a real inspiration to our work, and enough cannot be said of the great assistance which was given by our lamented Brother Scrogin. You, personally, not only by your intelligent organization, but by your presence and counsel at our meetings, have been an inestimable help."

From the sums paid and pledged by grand lodges, Brother Watres feels assured that the actual work of construction will begin early in 1922. The sum now actually in sight approaches One Million Dollars. The goal of $1.00 for each Mason in the United States will make about $2,300,000.00. It is confidently believed by those in charge of the campaign that this sum will be realized.

Three different firms of architects have gone over the site separately and manimously agree on the Colonial style of architecture. This seems fitting as the great Memorial is to stand on Virginia soil. It is now the purpose of the Memorial Association to let the contracts as early as possible so that the corner-stone can be laid as soon next spring as weather conditions will permit. It is hoped that the Grand Master of Virginia can secure the President of the United States, Bro. Warren G. Harding, as his proxy to officiate at the ceremonics of laying the corner-stone.

The plan is to make this a great day for Masonry in America. Every Mason will feel a justifiable pride in this great achievement. As I close my work as chairman for Illinois, it is with much pleasure that I thank all for their assistance. It is a real privilege to express my appreciation of the very valuable services of the district deputy grand masters throughout the state, without whom this work could not have been accomplished.

Fraternally submitted,

OWEN SCOTT,
State Chairman.

Report-Committee on Obituaries

Bro. Jas. K. Lambert presented the report of Committee on Obituaries. It was adopted by a rising vote.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

BRETHREN:

Life has been styled a pilgrimage, and perhaps no term is more expressive of its trials, hopes and fears; its joys and sorrows. In its several stages—youth, manhood, and age—life is changing and uncertain. The pilgrimage leads through a region of varied aspects—over a way checkered with good and evil, under skies of sunshine and shadows, and along a pathway where lie in wait danger, disease and accident.

Man is indeed a pilgrim in company with his fellows, differing in thought, customs and speech, yet all having in mind the same goal—eternity; separated by diverse opinions as to religion and all questions coming within the range of their daily lives, yet sharing the belief in a future life—the hope of immortality, God's sweetest gift to man.

All plan to live many years. Some leave the pilgrimage at an early age; others in the midst of a busy practical life. A few reach the Scriptural limitation, and occasionally one by reason of strength attains to the age of four score years. In any event, the time of life is short.

The journey is interesting and even joyous to many, wearisome at times perhaps to all; yet, however long or short, joyful or sad the journey may be, there are happy haltings along the travelway of life where people gather together to review the past and to plan for the future; to interchange friendly greetings and to resolve on new endeavors; to refresh themselves and renew their vigor for the journey onward. These are the waymarks along the highway of life, and to such a place are we gathered to-day for a brief period of conference.

In our deliberations we have paused to pay loving tribute to the worth and work of our many brethren who since the last meeting of this grand lodge have quit the pilgrimage, laid down their working tools, and entered into life eternal. Let us for a time reflect upon their lives, and enjoy again—in recollection—the sweet fragrance of their characters.

ISAAC CUTTER

Bro. Isaac Cutter was born at Elmwood, Illinois, January 20, 1854, and died at Blessing Hospital, Quincy, Illinois, June 15, 1921. He was made a Mason in Benjamin Lodge No. 297 at Camp Point, October, 1892; was commissioned grand lecturer in 1898; became a member of the Board of Grand Examiners in 1900, and was elected grand secretary in 1906. Brother Cutter received the Chapter degrees in Camp Point Chapter in 1893, serving as High Priest in 1899, and the Council degrees in Bloomington Council in 1906. He became a Knight Templar in Delta Commandery in 1910. He was a member of Quiney Consistory, and was made a 33rd degree Mason in 1915.

Brother Cutter was also a member of Acasia Fraternity at the University of Illinois, the Masonie Veterans' Association, and of the Grand Secretaries' Guild of the United States.

Perhaps the death of no Mason in the great State of Illinois could have been more keenly felt, more deeply and sincerely mourned, than that of Isaac Cutter. His passing is like the falling of a great tree in the forest of life. As a public school teacher, as a clerk in the railway mail service, as a prominent churchman and Mason, and as a man active in all civie matters of his Country and State, he came to know intimately many people. His spirit was made genial by real affection for his fellow beings and he became nobly sympathetic through his varied personal experiences. He was generous, never failing to respond to every worthy appeal. He helped to build up his community, strengthening every good work with his energy and money. He steadied those about him who faltered; he lifted up those who fell; he went on in his own quiet way without boasting and without display; he shared unselfishly with all about him every rich gift of mind and heart with which he was endowed. He was, in heart, a true Mason, to whom "every child of sorrow was a brother; self was the only being that seemed by him forgot."

"Calm on the bosom of thy God
Fair Spirit, rest thee now!
E'en while with ours thy footsteps trod
His seal was on they brow.
Dust, to its narrow house beneath!
Soul, to its place on high!"

BERTHOLD E. UEBELE

Berthold E. Uebele, District Deputy Grand Master of the Second District, died June 6, 1921, aged fifty years. "Bert," as we have loved to call him, was a member of Dearborn Lodge No. 310, and of various other Masonic bodies. He was much interested in the Illinois Masonic Hospital Association, actively engaged in promoting its interests, and was at the time of his death first vice-president of that organization.

In the death of Brother Uebele there passes from time to eternity a splendid Mason and a representative citizen. Capable and efficient in every detail of Masonic matters, he always did his work exceptionally well and in a most pleasing manner. In all his dealings he was generous and kind-hearted, ever ready to extend a helping hand. His genial personality won quickly the admiration of all who met him, and his never-ending interest in all those with whom he was associated endeared him to every one. Cut down in the prime of his days, his death is particularly sad; yet his life stands as an example of the truth that—

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths; In feelings, not in figures on a dial; We should count time by heart-throbs. He most lives, Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

The writer knew Brother Uebele intimately, and mourns his death as he would sorrow for the passing to the Better Land of one of his own kindred.

HENRY R. HOPKINS

Bro. Henry Riddle Hopkins, while returning to his home from a Masonic gathering on August 30, 1921, was struck by a truck and fatally injured. He passed away the following day—a forceful reminder that "in the midst of life we are in death."

Brother Hopkins was a member of Dearborn Lodge No. 310, and for a long time had been prominent in the activities of various Masonic bodies. For several years immediately preceding his death he was Chaplain of Van Rensselaer Lodge of Perfection, and for nineteen years he was Grand Chaplain of the Grand Council of Illinois. Although nearing his 88th birthday, he was a frequent attendant at Masonic meetings, and was ever ready and willing to render any service. Only an hour or two before the fatal accident he stood at the banquet table among his brethren and pronounced the invocation. He was in fine spirits, looking forward in happy anticipation to the several meetings of grand bodies of Masons this fall, and in his kindly way, remarked:

"Grow old along with me!

The best is yet to be,

The best of life, for which the first was made."

CLINTON L. SANDUSKY

Brother Clinton L. Sandusky, one of the most useful Masons of Illinois, passed away Friday, August 26, 1921.

Clinton L. Sandusky was born in Catlin, Illinois, September 30, 1871. Was married to Miss Sarah Marble of Danville, Illinois, October 5, 1892, and died at his home 1009 North Vermillion Street, Danville, Illinois, August 26, 1921, leaving his wife and son, Clinton L. Sandusky, Jr., age 11 years.

Brother Sandusky received the Symbolic degrees in Fairmount Lodge No. 590 in 1892.

He was elected Master of Olive Branch Lodge No. 38 in June, 1904, and served one year. Soon after he was appointed D. D. G. M. for the Masonic District and served eleven years. Following that, he became a member of the Committee on Lodges under Dispensation.

One of the chief characteristics of Brother C. L. Sandusky was force. He was a great organizer, consequently a great business man, and a great executive in any capacity. Once his mind was made up, he would follow a definite course regardless of the consequences. To this enthusiasm his large success was due.

No man had a warmer heart, or a more cordial hand. Clint Sandusky loved his friends, and was never so happy as when entertaining them in his beautiful home.

During the past year one hundred sixty-eight other masters and past masters of Illinois and twenty-six past grand officers of other grand jurisdictions have laid aside forever all the hopes and fears, all the sorrows and burdens of life. Their names appear on the memorial pages in the appendix.

To their surviving relatives, we extend our deepest sympathy and most fraternal affection.

Our departed brethren have gone from human sight; they have passed forever from association with us here. It is our duty to perpetuate their memories; to preserve and strengthen and glorify the institution for which they labored.

Brethren, farewell; you have reached your journey's end; you have passed between the pillars, over the mosaic pavement into the presence of the Grand Lodge on High, where

"Only the Master shall praise us, and only the Master shall blame;
And no one shall work for money, and no one shall work for fame,
But each for the joy of the working, and each, in his separate star, Shall draw the Thing as he sees it for the Good of Things as they are."

JAMES K. LAMBERT, JOHN C. CRAWFORD, HEZ G. HENRY,

Committee.

For a list of the masters and past masters in Illinois and officers and past grand officers of other grand jurisdictions who died during the year see memorial pages in the appendix.

Report—Committee on Transportation

Bro. L. L. Emmerson, chairman of this committee, presents the report. It was adopted.

BRETHREN:

Your Committee on Transportation respectfully report that they arranged for a rate of one and one-half fare for the round trip over all railways in Illinois, members of the Western, Central, and South Passenger Associations. To enable brethren to make better connections arrangements were made for those living in that vicinity to travel via St. Louis, Mo., and still secure the reduced rate.

We have received, certified, and turned over to the joint agents of these passenger associations 667 certificates, which have been duly validated and will be returned to the brethren through the district deputy grand master of their respective districts with their mileage and per diem vouchers enabling them to buy their return tickets for one-half the regular fare.

For next year arrangements have been made whereby representatives may purchase round trip tickets at their local office at the one and one-half fare rate, thereby eliminating annoyance of procuring certificates.

Respectfully submitted,

LOUIS L. EMMERSON,
JOHN B. AIKEN,
FRANK J. BURTON,
Committee.

Report-Masonic Relief Association

Bro. F. W. Bleike presented the following report:

Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, Grand Master,

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

A brief report of the Fourteenth Biennial Meeting of the Masonic Relief Association of the United States and Canada, held at New Orleans, La., October 3, 4 and 5, 1921, is here submitted:

It may be of interest to briefly review the organization and purpose of this association.

The Masonic Relief Association was organized in Baltimore thirty-six years ago with twelve relief boards, and meetings have been held biennially in practically every section of our Nation, except the western coast, and it was therefore most inspiring to meet and fraternize with our brethren of the South and in the jurisdiction of Louisiana:

"Land of the mocking bird, sunlight and beauty;
Land where the willow bends over the stream
Land where the odor of sweet scented flowers
Enraptures the senses and nurtures a dream;
Land where the cypress majestic and solemn
Enfolds in its shadows a silvery gleam;
Land where the prairies are frosted with lilies
And yellow-leafed jasmines are always in bloom."

It is superfluous to add that the delegates were royally welcomed and entertained by our brothers there.

The association has grown in membership until it now has the active cooperation and support of more than one hundred and sixty relief boards and employment bureaus in the Grand Jurisdictions of the United States and Canada.

Its work has been most beneficial in protecting Lodges and the individual Mason against the impostor, the fraud and the mendicant. It has apprehended and published in its warning circulars and names and descriptions of about seven thousand frauds and impostors whose chief vocation is to get their living from working Masonic charity. Action was taken at this convention to further organize such protection so as to be available to every good Mason in every location; personal conferences with grand jurisdictions not now represented will be arranged and it is expected that they will result in a completed organization so that every Masonic jurisdiction "may maintain for future generations some organized protection for its own members as well as for the fraternity at large."

That this association has been beneficial also in promoting the organization of Masonic Relief Boards and Service Bureaus is more and more evidenced at each succeeding meeting. The number of worthy distressed Masons and their families who have been materially assisted through this association and local boards is beyond computation, for of them no record has been kept in the books of the association.

A reference to the work done by the Masonic Board of Relief of Chicago, whose limits are Cook County, alone, shows that the board has handled over four thousand cases in the sixteen years of its operations and expended nearly $40,000 in relief, will indicate the scope of this great Masonic beneficence.

Another important mission of the association has been its publications of the activities relating to Masonic charities, such as homes, hospitals and educational. The circulation of such publications has been beneficial in stimulating and encouraging the further extension of this most noble benevolence.

A compilation of the endowments, annual expenditures, the number of institutions, etc., maintained by Masons in all of the jurisdictions was read at the meeting and will be published and mailed to the members. It is so splendid a record, that if Masonry had no other meaning, no other purpose for its existence, this record, alone, should inspire us to greater service.

Among the many valuable suggestions presented relating to Masonic practice of charity and benevolence, the working out of a plan by which each lodge should set apart a fixed amount of all fees for Relief; a permanent fund, always available, was exemplified, and also that of keeping a card index of the widows and orphans of our members in order to keep alive the spirit of Masonry by inviting them to our lodge entertainments, etc., and for purposes of identification.

I am pleased to report that the Grand Lodge of Illinois is highly esteemed, an evidence of which is the election of Bro. R. J. Daly to the office of 1st vice-president.

Permit me, in conclusion, to recommend the continuance of our membership in the association and the appropriation for its share of the cost of maintenance.

Respectfully, F. W. BLEIKE.

Report-Committee on Credentials

The Committee on Credentials presented a detailed report which was adopted. It will be found in the appendix.

Report-Committee on New Legislation

Bro. Geo. M. Moulton, chairman of Committee on New Legislation, presented the following report.

The proposed amendments to code Nos. 667, 348, 349 and 351 submitted in writing, were seconded by more than twenty representatives and referred to the Committee on Legislation. The report of the Committee on Legislation recommended their adoption and by unanimous vote the proposed amendments were adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

The undersigned Committee on New Legislation, to whom was referred a proposed amendent to code No. 667 of the Grand Lodge By-laws, the effect which would be to divide the annual per capita revenue equally between the general and the charity funds, instead of in the proportion of eighty to forty-five as at present, fraternally recommends that the proposed amendment be adopted, so that when amended, code No. 667 of the Grand Lodge By-laws shall read as follows:

667. Every lodge in this jurisdiction, on or before the first day of August each year, shall pay into the treasury of the grand lodge, the sum of one dollar and twenty-five cents for each Master Mason belonging to such lodge at the time of making the annual returns. Of this one dollar and twenty-five cents, one-half shall be for the general fund and one-half for the charity fund, subject to such appropriations from time to time as the grand lodge may direct.

Your committee further recommends the adoption of the several amendments to the code as proposed by Brother D. D. King relative to procedure in changing the place of meeting of lodges, so that code No. 348 of Grand Lodgo By-laws when amended will read as follows:

348. A lodge cannot remove its place of meeting from the city, town or village named in its charter or dispensation, except by special authority of the grand lodge or grand master granted upon a written petition concurred in by a vote of three-fourths of the members of the lodge present at a stated meeting; of which meeting, and the proposition for such removal, all the resident members of the lodge shall have at least two weeks' previous notice; and such removal shall be consented to by the lodge or lodges whose jurisdiction may be abridged thereby.

Also, that code No. 349 of the Grand Lodge By-laws be repealed as being surplusage; and that code No. 351 of the Grand Lodge By-laws be hereafter designated as code No. 349.

Fraternally submitted,

GEO. M. MOULTON,
WILLIAM WILHARTZ,
JOSEPH J. SHAW,
Committee.

Amendment to Code Proposed

Bro. Norwood Stratton of Grand Crossing Lodge No. 776, presented the following amendment to code No. 667, and asked that it be referred to the Committee on New Legislation. The motion was seconded by representatives of more than twenty lodges and was referred to that committee.

It is hereby proposed that code No. 667 of the By-laws of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois, which code reads as follows:

"667. Every lodge in this jurisdiction, on or before the first day of August each year, shall pay into the treasury of the grand lodge, through the grand secretary, the sum of one dollar and twenty-five cents for each Master Mason belonging to such lodge at the time of making the annual returns. Of this one dollar and twenty-five cents one-half shall be for the general fund and one-half for the charity fund, subject to such appropriations from time to time as the grand lodge may direct."

Shall be amended so as to read as follows:

"667. Every lodge in this jurisdiction, on or before the first day of August each year, shall pay into the treasury of the grand lodge, through the grand secretary, the sum of one dollar and seventy-five cents for each Master Mason belonging to such lodge at the time of making the annual returns. Of this sum one-half shall be for the general fund and one-half for the charity fund, subject to such appropriations from time to time as the grand lodge may direct."

Report-Committee on Appeals and Grievances

The Committee on Appeals and Grievances offered the following amendment to be known as code 661A. This amendment was seconded by representatives of more than twenty lodges and goes over till next year.

Amend Grand Lodge By-laws by adding thereto a section to be numbered 461-A to read as follows:

On the petition for the degrees there shall be printed or written the following:

"We certify that the attention of the above named petitioner, before he signed the same, was particularly called to the statement therein that he had never previously petitioned any lodge for the degrees in Masonry, and said statement shall be signed by one or more of the brethren recommending such petitioner."

Amendment to Code Proposed

The following amendment to code 544 was proposed and a motion made that it be referred to the Committee on New Legislation. The motion was seconded by the representatives of more than twenty lodges and was referred to that committee.

544. Whenever objection is made by any member of a lodge to the advancement of a brother therein to the second or third degree the reasons therefor must be made known, and the matter shall be referred by the master to a committee with power to inquire into such reasons, who shall report thereon to the lodge as soon as practicable. Upon the reception of such report, if no cause for objection has been assigned, or if the reasons assigned be, in the opinion of the majority of the members present, insufficient, the lodge may confer the degree in the same manner as if no objection had been made; but if the reasons assigned shall be deemed to be sufficient to stay the degree, the candidate shall be entitled, upon application, to trial upon the alleged objection.

Report—Committee on Mileage and Per Diem

The Committee on Mileage and Per Diem presented a detailed report of that committee. It was adopted. It will be found in the appendix.

Report—Committee on Chartered Lodges

The Committee on Chartered Lodges made the following report. It was adopted.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois:

We, your Committee on Chartered Lodges having checked over the reports of the district deputy grand masters on their official visits and inspections, as called for by code No. 165, beg to present this special report:

With 902 lodges, reports were received on 817, leaving 85 not visited or reported on. The average expense for those on which an expense was charged was $1.57 per lodge.

From the reports on the 817 lodges we find that 379 own either in whole or jointly their meeting places; 71 carried no fire insurance; 376 were not provided with fire proof safes or vaults for their records. In 8 lodges the secretary was not provided with proper books and blanks for the discharge of his duties. In 58 lodges code No. 465 was violated by recording in the minutes the character of reports of investigating committees. In 33 lodges the minutes did not show receipts of fees and dues as required by law. In 17 the minutes did not show time of opening and closing, and in 27 the minutes were not signed by both master and secretary.

In 88 lodges the records were not kept in accordance with requirements of the grand lodge, 12 lodges were not using proper form of petitions for degrees and affiliation and in 13 lodges the by-laws were not in harmony with Grand Lodge By-laws. Four lodges were not provided with roll of membership containing by-laws for members to sign; 114 never hold meetings for instruction and practice; 46 were not equipped with proper paraphernalia. In 57 lodges the books of secretary and treasurer are not audited each year; that 470 secretaries and 468 treasurers were not bonded.

The reports showed that in over 20 lodges, lodge funds in bank were not kept in the manner provided for in code No. 409, and we recommend that legislation be enacted providing that lodge funds in bank shall be in the name of the lodge and not in the name of the treasurer.

Of the 100 district deputy grand masters, 79 filed full and complete reports on their districts; 16 made partial reports and 5 made no reports at all. This committee has repeatedly called attention to the importance and benefit to the lodges of these reports and believe that no brother should accept this appointment of great honor unless he intends to make an honest effort to perform its duties as prescribed by law, and we trust that next years' report of this committee will show that each deputy visited, inspected and reported on each lodge in his district and in using the word ''lodge'' we mean the lodge itself, and not a report based on information obtained otherwise than by a personal visit to the lodge in session.

We heartily approve the plan proposed by the grand master for having all secretaries and treasurers bonded.

All of which is fraternally submitted,

PHIL C. BARCLAY,
W. W. WATSON,
J. HUBER ALLEN,
LINDORF WALKER,
WILLIS MCFEELY,

Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

Bro. Alexander H. Bell responded for the representatives.

On behalf of my distinguished associates who represent the various grand lodges named, and myself, we want to thank you for the very cordial reception which you have accorded to us.

The functions of a representative of a foreign grand lodge are not very onerons. We haven't much to do. It is valuable only because it signifies the very cordial fraternal relations existing between our own grand lodge and other grand lodges.

Until a few years ago they had no real thought about the appointment of representatives in foreign grand lodges, but a number of years ago the Grand Lodge of Tennessee was pleased to name me as its representative. That started a new movement. After that every foreign grand lodge looked about to find the best looking man to represent it, and since that day they have been in a very earnest but futile effort to find a man who could rival in looks the representative of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee. But I can say to you, Brethren, that these distinguished brethren being our diplomatic corps representing foreign grand lodges are without question the best looking men who could be found in the State of Illinois. It is a very great pleasure to them and to me, Brethren, to bring to you the fraternal greeting of our several grand lodges.

Installation

Bro. Alexander H. Bell assisted by Bro. Geo. M. Moulton as grand marshal installed the officers, except Bro. Frank O. Lowden as grand orator, Bro. J. A. Provoost as grand standard bearer and Brothers Albin and Bruffet as stewards. These brethren were not present.

Previous to the installation of the grand treasurer and grand secretary the grand master announced that their bonds had been approved.

After installation, Grand Master Elmer E. Beach spoke as follows:

Most Worshipful Grand Master and Brethren of the Grand Lodge:

I desire to take this opportunity of saying just a word to the representatives of this grand lodge and to the Masons throughout this state. It is my highest Masonic ambition to so conduct the affairs of the office of grand master, as to win the approbation of the Masons of this state. I have distinguished examples to follow. The great men who in the past have filled this office have furnished a line of conduct for their successors, which it is well for any man to emulate and I shall endeavor while grand master, to win the esteem and approval of the great men who have filled this office before me, and to win the approval of the members of the craft. That is my one great ambition. I thank you, Brethren, for the great honor you have conferred.

Brother M. Bates Iott presented a beautiful historical gavel to Grand Master Beach in the following words:

Most Worshipful Grand Master:

I expected to perform this little pleasure that I have now, some time right immediately after your installation, but I was a little late in arriving, and they were just giving you the grand honors when I came in.

Some weeks ago a brother came to me and wanted to know if I would make what he called a presentation speech for him. I said, no. In the first place did not know what the presentation was to be, or whom it was to be to, and in the next place, I didn't feel capable of doing it, but after learning from him who it was and what it was, I was very glad to do it in my feeble way. The brother who requested me to present you with this gavel, is a very good friend of yours, and presents it to you on account of his friendship and love for you. You will see that it is large and plain, and like yourself, is made of the real stuff. And perhaps it would be of interest to you and the brethren of the grand lodge if I should give you some information regarding the history of the wood from which this gavel was made.

This gavel was turned from wood, which came from the heart of a tree, which grew in Kentucky. A Kentucky coffee tree. It was grown on the grounds of Mount Vernon, Virginia, upon the home of George Washington, the first President of the United States. This tree when quite small, was brought from Kentucky, by Thomas Jefferson, the third Vice-President of the United States, and was planted near the front door yard of Washington's home by General LaFayette of France. The tree therefore, has a very technical masonic interest, insomuch as all three of these celebrated characters were members of the Masonic fraternity.

This brother informs me, Most Worshipful Grand Master, that he personally saw this tree a short time after it was destroyed by lightning, and procured a piece of this wood by strategy and had it made into a gavel in the shop of a past master of a Chicago lodge. The ornamentation hereon was placed by a manufacturing jeweler of Chicago, also a member of the fraternity.

Now my dear Grand Master, I take great pleasure in placing in your hands this gavel, and I sincerely trust you will receive it, and that you will derive as much pleasure in receiving the same as he has in giving it.

The grand master responded as follows:

Brother Iott and Brethren:

I know you must appreciate just how I feel at this moment in receiving a gavel of these historic associations. I am very glad that Brother

Iott explained the history of the gavel, and I assure you and the brother who presents it, whose name Brother Iott did not announce, that it will be a very choice possession, and as I understand it, I am not expected to turn this over to my successor in office. It is a great pleasure to receive a gavel with such historic associations and significance as this, and I desire to again say to Brother Iott, that I very greatly appreciate his kindness in presenting this gavel, which I shall always retain as a very dear keepsake.

Bro. Leroy A. Goddard presented the past grand master's jewel to Bro. Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, retiring grand master, as follows:

Most Worshipful Grand Master, Most Worshipful Brother Fitzgerrell, and Brethren of the Grand Lodge:

It is a surprise to me to be again called before you. I have been much in evidence in this annual communication, but not of my own choosing. I have submitted only from a willingness to serve while I am able to serve. I am well down the shady side of sixty and, doubtless, bordering on the evening of life. My hair is not white yet, but I have seen the snows of many winters. By the will of the All-Wise I stand before you as the dean of the past grand masters of this grand lodge. In my forty-six years in active Masonic life, I have met with many pleasant experiences, and this sudden command to perform this act is another one of the real pleasures that have come my way.

I have known from his boyhood this long, lean, stubbornly courageous man who has so faithfully served us as grand master for the past two and one-half years. He is so stubborn that he could not persuade himself to be anything but loyal to his convictions or to do less than his whole duty. He leaves the splendid record of a fine and strong administration. The pages are clean and bear evidence of duty admirably performed. It is a genuine delight to present to him this past grand master's jewel, and with it go the affections and the gratitude not only of the representatives here present but of the great Craft of Illinois.''

Bro. Fitzgerrell:

BRETHREN:

I know many of you have heard me say heretofore, that my business is not that of speaking but of listening. I happen to be the credit man for the institution which I represent, and I have become a good listener. I have listened to many stories of divers and sundry kinds, to beautiful stories, and to complaints, I have heard tales of woe such as I believe have not been poured into the ear of any other man. I have heard the most celebrated artists sing. I have heard my revered old mother croon the Evening Melody to me, as I went to sleep, but aside from that last named thing, I can remember no other music that has sounded so sweetly in my ear as the words of my distinguished associate and brother and of the manifestation which I have just witnessed and heard. It has been my purpose to serve you well, equally, to treat every one of you as my equal. I would rather go down in history as your friend and brother, as plain, common everyday Dan Fitzgerrell, than to have written on my tombstone here lies the greatest orator or the greatest grand master that ever lived. I hope and trust Brethren, that I may have some small part in your affections, that I may live in your minds and hearts as you will ever live in my own.

I shall lay this beautiful jewel away in my treasure house and keep it just so long as I shall live. When I look upon it I shall always remember this occasion with a heart filled with love and good will for each and every one of you.

REPORT OF BOARD OF GRAND EXAMINERS

JOLIET, ILL., SEPT. 14, 1921.

Bro. Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, M.W. Grand Master, Normal, Ill. Dear Bro. Fitzgerrell:

It has been our pleasing duty to serve you during the year and it now becomes our pleasing duty to report to you, our labors for the year.

Pursuant to our appointment, at the meeting of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, last October, we met and organized by electing Wm. II. Zarley as secretary.

At the same meeting we recommended, for commissions as grand lecturers, the brethern whose names were published in the proceedings of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge for 1920.

 In accordance with your orders, schools were held as follows:

 Mt. Vernon.
 January 4, 5 and 6, 1921

 Chicago.
 January 18, 19 and 20, 1921

 Rock Island
 February 1, 2 and 3, 1921

 Springfield.
 February 15, 16 and 17, 1921

 Danville.
 March 1, 2 and 3, 1921

 Princeton.
 March 15, 16 and 17, 1921

The total attendance at these schools was 3486, including 769 officers of lodges of whom 165 were worshipful masters,

At the two examinations, we examined sixty-four brethren and recommended each of them to you for their commissions.

Appended hereto is a detailed report of the several schools and exminations:

MT. VERNON SCHOOL

The first state school of the year 1921 was held at Mt. Vernon January 4, 5 and 6. The school was well attended and the interest shown was all that could be desired. One very nice feature of the school was the banquet, served by the ladies of the Eastern Star, which was enjoyed by all present. The ticket of admission to the banquet was a eard, on which was printed "OUR DAN." The explanation of the words "OUR DAN" is, that the members of Mt. Vernon Lodge No. 31 conferred the degrees upon him and started him on his Masonic career.

CHICAGO SCHOOL

The second state school of the year 1921 was held at Chicago on the 18th, 19th and 20th of January. The members of the Board of Grand Examiners were especially pleased at the interest shown by those in attendance, also at the large number of officers of lodges present, also the large number of brethren present, who expected to take the examination for commissions as grand lecturers. The usual masonic feeling of good-fellowship and brotherly love was an ever present quantity, at all times, during the school. One of the pleasant parts of the school was the attendance of Brother Isaac Cutter at all three days of the school. The eraft of Illinois have so learned to love our grand secretary that no Masonic meeting is considered complete without him.

ROCK ISLAND SCHOOL

The third state school of the year 1921 was held at Rock Island on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of February. The school was a remarkable one in many ways. Several attendance records were established. The members of the board think that this is the first time the attendance at a school outside of Chicago exceeded that of the Chicago school, the attendance at Chicago being 815, that at Rock Island 863. The number of members from foreign grand jurisdictions was very large, being 133, representing 101 lodges, so that at this school the grand jurisdictions of thirty states of the United States, the District of Columbia and Canada were represented. Another record was that the number of Illinois lodges was eighty-seven as compared with the 101 foreign lodges represented. The number of officers of lodges in attendance was also large, there being 124, of which twenty were masters.

SPRINGFIELD SCHOOL

The fourth state school of the year was held at Springfield on the 15th, 16th and 17th of February, 1921. The members of the board were especially pleased at the number of the grand lodge officers and past grand masters who attended. While the number in attendance at this school was not quite as large as some of the other schools, the interest shown and the proficiency of the brethren present more than made up for the lack of numbers.

Brother Dolan, secretary of the Board of Managers of the Masonie Home at Sullivan, was present and gave an address as to the homes at Sullivan and LaGrange which was very instructive to the brethren and very interestingly given by Brother Dolan.

One of the features of all Grand Lodge schools was missing at this school because Brother Cutter was unable to be present and deliver his usual interesting address.

PRINCETON SCHOOL

The sixth and last State School of the year was held at Princeton on the 15th, 16th, and 17th of March, 1921. The school was well attended and was a success in every way. Brother Bradley, the D.D.G.M. for the district in which the school was held, was very much pleased with the school as well as with his St. Patrick's party, which some of his visiting Masonic friends arranged for him. Brother Harry W. Hanson and his fellow Rotarians entertained the Grand Lecturers at the Rotary Club dinner on Tuesday, and Brother Hanson had one of his fancy Jersey cows in the dining room to furnish milk for the dinner. Everyone who attended the school at Princeton was of the opinion that Brother Bradley and the brethren of Princeton and vicinity deserve a lot of credit for the large attendance at the school, considering the comparatively small local membership, nearly the entire membership of Princeton lodge being in attendance.

During the year, the alarm of death has sounded in our midst, on two occasions.

Early in the fall of 1920 Brother Carlton G. Taylor, of Rock Island, was summoned to the Grand Lodge above. Brother Taylor was a just and upright Mason and exhibited in his daily life the golden tenets of Brotherly Love, Relief, and Truth.

The sad news of the death of Brother Isaac Cutter, came early in June, and caused the brethren of Illinois to feel that a very dark cloud was over them, but the sadness was somewhat relieved by the knowledge that he had ascended those serene heights of beauty and joy, to be seated at the right hand of the Supreme Grand Master, and to be pronounced a just and upright Mason.

It is not meet that I here record the virtues of these brethren, "they have gone beyond our praise or censure," except to say, we all are aware that they had learned well the lesson "to be good men and true."

In conclusion we desire to express our heartfelt appreciation of the honors conferred upon us at your hands, and that we desire to thank you for the many kindnesses and favors you have shown us during our term of service as members of your Board of Grand Examiners.

We also desire to congratulate you on your successful term of office as Most Worshipful Grand Master.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. E. CARLSON, Chairman, WM. H. ZARLEY, B. L. TEN EYCK, HARRY L. HOWELL, HARRY H. MILNOR,

APPENDIX PART I

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MASONIC CORRESPONDENCE

FOREWORD

In presenting the annual review for the year 1921, the writer has endeavored to condense as much as possible and cover such of the grand jurisdictions as came under his notice in as brief a manner as possible.

Comment has been very sparingly used and the effort made to set forth as briefly as possible the principal events which each grand lodge participated in.

It is no easy matter to read the proceedings of fifty or sixty grand lodges and glean therefrom those items of interest which in the opinion of the writer will claim the attention of those who are to read them.

The year which has just drawn to a close has not been characterized by any unusual procedure as the country is passing through a period of readjustment and gradually settling down to old time procedures so the same may be said of Freemasonry.

The war was responsible for a great many questions and innovations coming up in our Masonic lodges as well as unusual procedures, but this period seems to have passed and we are now approaching a state which may be looked upon as stable and conservative.

There are a number of proceedings which have not been reviewed this year which usually appear in this report. This is due to the fact that they have not been received due probably to printers' delay. However, the review is offered for what it is worth and it is sincerely to be hoped that those who are interested in the affairs of other grand lodges may find in this resume, those salient facts which go to make up the proceedings of each grand lodge.

DELMAR D. DARRAH.

Bloomington, Ill., September 1, 1921

GROUP WORK

In reading the proceedings of the numerous grand lodges which came under notice of the writer, it is apparent that the thinking men of the fraternity are commencing to realize that there is too much time devoted to conferring degrees and too little to those other essentials of the fraternity which are so necessary for its success and prosperity. Not a few grand masters have recommended to their grand lodges that something be done that will permit lodges to initiate more than one candidate at the same time. This writer long ago took up this subject and has urged a fair hearing upon the matter so far as his own grand lodge is concerned. It is not noticeable that any great harm is being brought to the fraternity in those grand lodges which permit group work. In fact, many of them are working out their destiny in a highly satisfactory manner and accomplishing much good for the benefit of the fraternity. It is hard to get men to understand that Freemasonry like everything else has undergone a wonderful evolution in the last one hundred years. Forty years ago it was a very unusual thing for a lodge to initiate a candidate. There was then some reason why each candidate should be given his degrees singly. Much of the essence of the fraternity is contained in the first degree and if it is given to a candidate singly there is no reason why a plan of group initiation should not be devised for the balance of the degrees. Because Masonry did a thing fifty years ago is no argument why it should do it now. There is a wonderful awakening along Masonic lines and it is sincerely hoped that the time is not far distant when this subject of group initiating will receive proper attention at the hands of thoughtful men of the fraternity, thus relieving it of a burden which is today retarding its true progress.

GROUP BALLOTING

In reading the proceedings which the writer was compelled to do in order to make his report, it was noticeable that a new question is coming to the front, particularly that of group balloting on candidates.

In a number of instances, grand masters have ruled that where committee reports have been unanimous that a group ballot be taken on all petitions. If a black ball appears it is up to the lodge to separate the petitions and ballot on them separately until the subject of the black ball is singled out and eliminated. This is exactly as it should be. When a lodge has fifteen, twenty or twenty-five petitions to ballot upon and the committee reports have been unanimously favorable there is absolutely no good reason in going through each petition singly.

In several cases reports of grand masters show that as much as one and one-half or two hours were required by the lodge to pass the ballot simply because the number to be balloted upon was so great that a less amount of time could not be consumed. The lodge in the main depends upon the report of the committee on petitions. It is granted that in many instances these committees do not fulfill their functions as completely as they should but that does not excuse them from the duty imposed upon them. The lodge on the other hand, depends for its information upon the report of the committee and if the report of the committee is favorable, in nine cases out of ten the ballot is likewise favorable.

The whole trouble is that there has grown up in Free-masonry too much technicality and to irradicate this and bring the fraternity to serious work is one of the purposes of the present age. No doubt, all this will be accomplished in time. As has been said before, "Great reforms move slowly." In group balloting there is an opportunity to save time and conserve the energy and patience of the members.

Too Many Laws

One of the very best things that could possibly happen to the Masonic fraternity would be to eliminate all existing laws and regulations and return to Anderson's original Constitutions of Freemasonry. It cannot be doubted that there are entirely too many laws enacted for the regulation and government of the society. One grand master found in counting up the laws of his jurisdiction approximately three hundred. All this could be greatly simplified by the use of a little common sense.

It has been noticeable in recent years that in each meeting of some of the grand bodies, there have been a large number of laws and regulations presented and enacted. Many of these amendments have been offered by men not active in the work of the fraternity but who have set themselves up as saviors of the institution and who imagine that in order to keep the fraternity straight a certain number of amendments must be adopted each year.

The writer is fully of the opinion that at the present time, we have all the laws, rules and regulations that the fraternity can possibly need for the next one hundred years and nothing can be gained by the enactment of any more. The greatest need of the times is a return of the fundamental principles of the society and less disposition on the part of certain members of the fraternity to throw restrictions around the working elements of the institution. If the present tendency to enact laws keeps on, it is questionable just where the fraternity will end, and it is almost impossible to conceive what new legislation will be devised in order to safeguard the fraternity. It is sincerely hoped that the fraternity will soon pass the law-making stage and turn its attention to the stable things of the society.

INCREASING COSTS OF HOMES

Each year the proceedings of various grand lodges show that the Masonic homes maintained by them are gradually increasing in cost and as a result means have to be devised for raising additional revenue for the up-keep of these institutions. Of course, the world has been passing through a period of high prices and that has more or less, affected our various Masonic institutions but with the reduction in the general cost of living, there seems to have been no general lessening in the prices of maintaining our various Masonic institutions. The reason for this is obvious. At the present time, the Masonic fraternity is doing more for its members than ever before.

Masonic homes are being conducted on a much more liberal scale. Members of these institutions are given greater care and thought than ever before. They are not only clothed and fed but have the attention of the very best oculists, dentists and other specialists all of which costs money and causes the institutions to use up funds very rapidly. As a result there is a general scramble all over the United States for money for the maintenance of these institutions.

When they were first inaugurated no one ever thought the maintenance would require an endowment fund. In fact, the fraternity went into the fraternal home business without any thought whatsoever of finding the means to maintain them. The result now is, that in nearly every state we have splendid institutions which are doing excellent work while the grand lodges behind them are taxed to the utmost for their support. The fraternity is not going to give up these homes. They are badly needed in our Masonic system and the fact that we have them is to our credit, but the society must look into the future and devise means for giving these institutions proper support. Just what system of taxation may be inaugurated remains to be seen but the facts are that something will have to be done if these institutions are to be continued in their present sphere of glory and unselfishness.

CIPHER RITUALS

One question which the writer picked up in the review of grand lodge proceedings relates to cipher rituals. A number of grand masters reported they had considerable trouble with these books and in one or two jurisdictions they have been openly distributed by brethren. The Grand Lodge of New York took hold of the matter and found the cipher ritual was being openly sold among members of the fraternity. counteract the whole matter the grand lodge decided to issue its own cipher ritual and to put a check on the sale of these books by various book sellers. Another grand lodge did the same and the outcome will be watched with much interest. When it comes to the question of cipher rituals the writer is firmly of the opinion that much of the trouble arising from this source has been due to the fact that too much stress has been laid in our lodges upon the subject of ritual. This seems to be the one great end toward which all lodges strive. The result has been that members of the fraternity who wanted to get into the limelight have bought cipher rituals fully expecting them to measure up to their requirements. This writer firmly hopes that the time is not very far distant when all grand lodges will adopt cipher rituals for the reason that it is the best method of combating the various spurious works now offered for sale and so promiscuously used. This may seem like a very bold statement but the writer happens to be in a line of business which places him in very close touch with this particular subject and knows to an absolute certainty that in staid old Illinois with its matchless system of ritual and ritualistic instruction that the sale of spurious rituals goes on in a marvelous manner.

Passing an ordinary book store in the city of Chicago the other day the writer not only noticed books of various kinds, but was astounded to see a display of various Masonic rituals. It is a very noticeable fact that rituals of chapters, commanderies and the Scottish Rite are not offered for sale by venders of books for the reason that those rituals are controlled and distributed by the bodies themselves and any brother wanting to learn the work knows exactly where he can go to get one.

The cipher ritual question is an important one and sooner or later must receive the attention of the craft wheresoever dispersed.

TAXING INITIATES

A study of the proceedings which have come under the attention of the reviewer shows that in nearly every quarter the tendency of grand lodges has been to increase their revenue. Many ways have been suggested but the most popular one is that of placing a tax upon each initiate for the degrees. This tax varies from $5.00 to $20.00 and is to be paid by the lodge itself. Of course, the lodge immediately gets even by amending its by-laws and increasing its fees. The prime cause for the need of additional revenue on the part of grand lodges is the heavy drain being made upon them by the Masonic homes and it is presumed that each grand lodge has the right to draw additional revenue from whatsoever source it may.

The fees for the Masonic degrees have always been too low. It has been a hard matter to get lodges to realize this for the reason that each Masonic body has striven to increase its membership as much as possible. It has been noticeable that in a number of quarters where fees were increased there was no lessening in the number of petitions received the disposition being rather toward an increase. So far as the writer has been able to check up there has been no let down in the number of petitions received where the fees were increased. This would lead to the belief that it is the popularity of the institution which attracts men and they are willing to pay any fair price exacted for the degrees rather than deny themselves the privileges of the society. Whether or not the policy of taxing initiates is the right one will require time to prove. As has been before said nearly every grand lodge is looking to means that will increase its general revenue. Whether or not the candidate tax is going to accomplish the object desired is not known because the subject is a new one. The outcome will be awaited with much interest.

PHYSICAL QUALIFICATIONS

During the year, a number of grand masters have referred to the subject of physical qualifications and asked that a more temperate and moderate interpretation be placed upon what today is the most rigid requirement of the society. Many of them point to the large number of soldiers who returned from France maimed and who are prohibited from partaking of the privileges of the society because of physical defects.

Then again there is a growing feeling that the world is passing from the physical to the moral and intellectual status of the man and for that reason the fraternity should not adhere to an old custom for which there is absolutely no warrant other than long and established usage.

What is the difference if a man goes around with a wooden leg providing he is otherwise all right? The question of the wooden leg merely enters into the subject of his initiation and the man himself so far as his infirmity is concerned is forgotten just the moment he receives his degrees in Masonry. So much has been said by this writer on the subject of physical qualifications that it is useless to enter into any extended argument at this time. The only object of this article is to call the attention of the craft to the fact that a number of thinking Master Masons who have done much for the fraternity in their respective jurisdictions have taken up this subject and made recommendations to their grand lodges looking toward a lessening of the now rigid requirements upon this subject.

ACTION OF COLORADO

Every now and then some grand lodge pulls off a piece of legislation that is not only nonsensical but wholly without the pale of common sense.

During the last year Colorado startled the Masonic world by passing a law that no Master Mason could receive the so-called higher degrees until after one year following his initiation. This action shows, in a measure, the general inconsistency of grand lodges. In one breath they will declare that the sum total of Ancient Craft Masonry is concerned in the three degrees conferred by the lodge. Then in the next breath they will commence to legislate against what are alleged to be the higher bodies of the fraternity. If grand lodges are disposed to hold that all there is to Masonry is confined to the three degrees then why the legislation against the Chapter, Commandery and Consistory which in a measure are declared to be clandestine?

A good many Masons lose sight of the fact that Freemasonry is a principle and not a group of individuals. If this fact could be realized, a great deal of trouble arising at the present time would be obviated and done away with. The spirit of the times demands co-ordination. If the fraternity is going to get anywhere, it means that not only Ancient Craft Masonry but those organizations associated with it must join hands and work together.

For fifty years, we have had in our midst, the Chapter, Council and Consistory and we can see no reason why at this late date, legislation should be directed against these bodies. If any of their members are doing things which are disposed to reflect upon Ancient Craft Masonry, all it is necessary to do is call the attention of the proper authority to the sins of commission and it is believed everything will be rectified and straightened out.

MASONIC SERVICE ASSOCIATION

The proceedings of a number of grand lodges show they have withdrawn from membership in the Masonic Service Association. The principal cause assigned seems to be financial more than anything else. Many of these grand lodges resent a tax of five cents per membership which has been levied upon them by the association for carrying on its work.

The writer believes in co-ordination among all Masonic organizations and thinks there should be a general understanding among all grand lodges and until this is accomplished Freemasonry will never come into its own.

The whole trouble with the Masonic Service Association seems to be that it was organized to exploit individual ideas rather than adopt a general policy of Masonic welfare. One of the arguments which has been advanced by grand masters during the year has been that there is no particular need at the present time for the Masonic Service Association because there is no war, pestilence nor other calamity to require the immediate assistance of the society.

Exceptions seem to have been taken to certain methods of the Masonic Service Association which have later been inaugurated and not set forth in the original document which led many lodges to join this assembly. At any rate the Masonic Service Association may have a particular work to perform in the matter of education of the members of the society but even then the task is a difficult one for all men differ as to what constitutes genuine Freemasonry and it would be impossible for the Masonic Service Association to define a line of Freemasonry and say "This is correct." Just the moment they did that there would be a lot of thinkers and investigators dispute what had been set up and declare that the Service Association was assuming perrogatives which were not its inherent right.

The idea of a central Masonic organization is correct but it can never be accomplished so long as individualism and the exploitation of personal ideas is allowed to become paramount. Let it not be understood that the Masonic Service Association, by any means, is in its last throes because it has the cordial support of a number of grand lodges. When doubt as to its advantages and the prejudice of men are laid aside the association will develop into some real tangible direct service to the craft.

LIMITATION OF WORK

Among the legislation recommended by a large number of grand masters this year was one relating to limitation of work, that is to say, forbidding lodges from conferring more than a certain amount of degrees each year. If it is agreed that the fraternity is not able to properly function because it has too much work on hand, then the remedy lies in changing the manner and mode of conferring degrees.

Every lodge has a right to confer as many degrees as it sees fit. This writer does not believe in restricted lodge membership any more than he believes in interfering with the internal affairs of the lodge. It is true that in the past two or three years there has been so much work in our various Masonic bodies that but little time has been given to social and intellectual features and in many instances these have taken place after a degree has been conferred thus destroying the real purpose of the whole social and intellectual feature. If lodges were allowed to group their work there would come into the fraternity an entirely new interest but as long as ritual is exhalted above everything else, there can be very little remedy hoped for.

Each Masonic lodge has an inherent right to do all the work it wants to and no grand lodge should attempt to limit the number of degrees to be conferred during the year.

It may assume that power, but fundamentally it is taking unto itself something which does not rightfully belong to it. If there are evils existing in the institution the way to cure them is not through the limitation of the amount of work done. The direct cause should be sought out and the remedy applied where it is most needed.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON

Masonic Correspondence

NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-ONE

DELMAR D. DARRAH

ALABAMA, A. F. & A. M. 1920

The annual communication, the one hundredth, opened in the city or Montgomery, on the morning of Wednesday, December 1, 1920. The Committee on Credentials, report the presence of the ambassador from Illinois, Wm. W. Daffin, and the representatives of three hundred ninety-eight lodges. The first important item was the annual address of the grand master, Percy B. Dixon. It is a document covering twenty-two pages and is a concise, readable resume of the principal acts of his office during the time he served as grand master. He reports the year to have been one of phenomenal growth among the lodges of the state and calls attention to the fact that the membership has passed the 40,000 mark. He pays a very high tribute to the institution and says that every Freemason should find in the lodge a home and in every Mason a true brother. He truly says a man to have friends, must himself be friendly. He speaks at length upon some of the objects and purposes of the fraternity and says some most excellent things concerning the functions of a Masonic body.

Only one decision is rendered and that relates to a matter of local jurisdiction. Ten dispensations for the formation of new lodges were issued and one lodge had its charter returned to it. Three dispensations were issued to permit lodges to change their place of meeting. Several dispensations were issued to permit special elections to fill vacancies caused by either the death or removal of lodge officers. Eight dispensations were issued permitting lodges to sell or mortgage their property. The grand Master reports the sale of property of defunct lodges. One lodge received for its assets, the sum of $19.50, while another lodge disposed of a half interest in the hall where it met, for the sum of $12.50. Five dispensations were granted for the laying of corner-stones, only two of them were for Masonic edifices.

Concerning the question of issuing dispensations permitting the initiation of maimed candidates, the grand master referred the subject to the grand lodge with the suggestion that some action be taken to define the extent of loss of limb or other physical defects, to prevent the fraternity from being imposed upon. Thirty-two district lecturers were appointed. The grand master states that their reports to him show the wisdom of such action.

Concerning the matter of corner-stones, the grand master asked that the Jurisprudence Committee be instructed to prepare a resolution prescribing the minimum dimensions of a corner-stone, and defining just exactly what inscription shall be placed thereon, as well as stating at what place in the building operations the stone shall be laid. The grand master reports his approval of a contract for the erection of a Masonic home, to cost $50,000.00. Both the Masonic Service Association, as well as the George Washington Memorial Association, received hearty commendation. A very interesting address to the grand lodge is printed in the proceedings. It was written by Brother James Bilbro, who was not able to be present on account of sickness. It deals with the general purpose of the fraternity and its intent is apparently to bring the fraternity to a better understanding of the institution of which they are members.

The grand treasurer reports receipts of $22,000.00 and expenditures of a like amount. The report of the grand secretary, Geo. A. Beauchamp, is largely statistical.

Oliver D. Street, on behalf of the Special Committee on Foreign Correspondence, reported that during the year much effort had been expended in ascertaining the status of Masons in Europe, Mexico, Central and South America, and that while much evidence had been accumulated, yet the information was not sufficient to permit the committee to arrive at any definite conclusion, and the whole subject was held over for another year.

The Grand Lodge of Alabama has a special committee which is somewhat out of the ordinary. At the close of the grand lodge session, the roll of representatives is called and any representatives who fail to answer to their names must make satisfactory excuses with the Special Committee on Excuses. The grand lodge stopped long enough in its proceedings to receive the representatives of other grand lodges and to accord them a most fraternal greeting.

Lodges in Alabama, which amend their by-laws, must submit their amendments to a Special Committee on By-laws for approval. It is apparamentation ent from the proceedings that the Grand Lodge of Alabama is amending its constitution and by-laws, for a long report is submitted by a Committee on Revision, which report was referred to the Committee on Jurisprudence. The report from the Masonic home in the state shows the total number under care of the grand lodge to have been two hundred one. There must have been considerable sickness among the members of the home for two hundred forty-six cases received medical attention. To operate the home cost the grand lodge $60,245.41. The grand lodge apparently conducts a farm in connection with the home. It cost the grand lodge $12,901.00 to operate the farm, dairy and hoggery, while the total receipts from farm products amounted to $13,496.81, leaving a net profit to the grand lodge of $595.78.

The Finance Committee made a report concurring in all of the grand master's recommendations. The Committee on Jurisprudence sustained the grand master in practically all of his acts and decided that a corner-stone must be at least 9x12 inches and that the inscription should embrace the name of the grand master, together with the date it was laid. The committee, however, declined to set any special period in the construction of building when the corner-stone should be laid, deferring that such would be impractical.

Arrangements were made for celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the grand lodge during the annual session of 1921. For good and sufficient reasons the Committee on Excuses relieved twenty-two representatives from further attendance on the sessions of the grand lodge. The final business was the election and installation of officers.

The report on Foreign Correspondence is prepared by Oliver Day Street, one of the real brilliant Masonic students of the present period. He gives Illinois four pages of discriminating review, prepared in topical form. He is very generous to the writer who prepared the review for Illinois last year and quotes generously from many things that were said. He does not dissent in a single particular but endorses many of the positions that were taken. Brother Day does not approve of the Grand Master's Advisory Council for the same reason held by this writer, that it creates a conflict of authority.

ARIZONA, F. & A. M.

The thirty-eighth annual communication was held in the city of Phoenix, opening on the 10th day of February, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Six grand officers were absent and it was necessary for the grand master to fill the vacant stations by appointment. The report of the Committee on Credentials does not show the representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois to have been present.

The first item of interest was the annual address of James H. Barrett, grand master. He opens by paying tributes of respect to the dead of his own and other grand jurisdictions.

He reports the approval of the by-laws of three lodges and reports several decisions most of which apply to questions of jurisdiction. It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of Arizona had some trouble over Mexican affairs for the grand master reports some correspondence upon the subject which is referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

Five dispensations were granted by the grand master, one of which was for the formation of a new lodge.

The usual number of requests to confer degrees by courtesy is mentioned but the grand master shows the good taste in omitting an enumeration of the details,

It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of Arizona is about to embark in the matter of establishing a Masonic home for the proceedings under review contain numerous documents showing an effort to raise an endowment fund of $100,000.00.

Among the grand representatives commissioned during the year was Chas. H. Spillman of Edwardsville, who was appointed to represent the Grand Lodge of Arizona near the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

One Masonic hall was dedicated and nine lodges visited by the grand master.

The grand secretary makes a report which goes into detail concerning the various aflairs connected with his office. His record of disbursements shows that he received as compensation for his services the sum of $50.00 per month.

The grand treasurer gives his total receipts as $5,064.00 and expenditures as $5,852.00. The total resources of the grand lodge in all departments is given as $102,161.00.

The committee appointed to attend the Peace Jubilee given by the United Grand Lodge of England make a very long report in which they record the journey to England and the courtesy accorded them on this auspicious occasion.

The Jurisprudence Committee confirmed all the grand master did and gave him a clear bill of approval.

A committee appointed to prepare a history of Masonry in Arizona, opened by expressing regrets that it could only report progress backward. The committee state they experienced great difficulty in getting lodges to furnish such data as was apparently necessary in the preparation of the history of Masonry in the jurisdiction.

The grand lodge voted to raise its quota for the George Washington Masonic Memorial Association and offered an additional subscription of $200.00.

The matter of recognizing the Swiss Grand Lodge Alpina was brought up and on motion it was recommended that no action be taken.

The grand lecturer was allowed the sum of $300.00 to cover his expenses in visiting and instructing lodges.

The election and installation of officers together with the presentation of the customary jewel closed the session.

There is no report on Foreign Correspondence. The grand lodge, however, does print the names of all officers and members of lodges.

ARKANSAS, F. & A. M.

The seventy-ninth annual communication was held in the Second Baptist Church in the city of Little Rock, on Thesday, November 16. The Grand Representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, Geo. Thornburgh, is accredited with being present. The opening ceremonies were very brief, after which the grand master, Louis Bauerlein, delivered his annual address. He refers to the discontent and restlessness of the year and makes a plea for the restoration of the old order of things and a return to sane living.

Schools of instruction were held in the various counties of the state and accomplished much good.

The Masonic Temple property owned by the grand lodge was sold for $150,000.00. Several appeals for assistance were authorized and permission given to circularize the lodges of the state.

The George Washington Memorial Association is presented to the consideration of the grand lodge and attention called to the estimated amount to be raised by Arkansas, which is $25,000.00. The whole subject is referred to the grand lodge.

During the year the grand treasurer resigned owing to age and ill health.

A new digest of the laws of the jurisdiction was prepared by the grand secretary, Fay Hempstead, and he was given an extra compensation for his very valuable time and labor.

Seven decisions are reported by the grand master. One decision declared that all Masonic corner-stones should be laid in the northeast corner of the structure and that no ceremonies should be conducted on Sunday. The grand master decided that a brother who signed a petition for the pardon of a self-confessed bootlegger would be violating the Masonic code.

One thing the grand master expresses is that the system of teaching the ritual in Arkansas is far from being a success, and a recommendation is made that the grand lecturer be placed on a salary and be required to devote his entire time to the work.

One recommendation which the grand master made was that inasmuch as we display the American Flag in our lodges that in some part of the work something should be said concerning the history and meaning of the flag.

Three corner-stones were laid during the year, none of them being for Masonie edifices.

The grand master states that he granted many dispensations during the year and assigns as his reason the following: "I have granted many dispensations, perhaps too many. I have been free in the use of this authority because I am from a small lodge and realize that it is not always possible to meet and do work at the proper time. I, however, have been careful in granting dispensations to waive the year's residence required by our edicts and granted only one dispensation to waive the time of residence required."

The Grand Lodge of Arkansas had a lawsuit on its hands because a boy named Arthur Ray had been injured by a falling brick from the wreck of the temple which had been burned. The amount of damages for which the grand lodge was being sued was $10,400.00. The trial resulted in a verdict in favor of the grand lodge.

Nine dispensations were issued for the formation of new lodges during the year and two deeds executed for the transfer of lodge property.

The list of degrees conferred by courtesy is given in full. It is quite a long one and shows that the lodges of Arkansas put forth every effort to oblige their brethren of other jurisdictions.

In his conclusion, the grand master expresses himself as follows: "That a person who joins every branch of the institution merely to wear jewelry is not benefitting himself." Visiting a certain lodge your grand master found the W.M. much troubled because he had a visitor who could not prove himself. At the request of the W.M. your servant went to the committee room and found a brother taking a cigarette from a silver case upon which was enameled the square and compasses. We remarked: "That is a nice case." The visitor replied: "It cost me seven dollars, I bought it when I took the Third Degree. I paid forty dollars for the degrees." Question after question was asked and no answer could be give that would prove he had received anything for his forty-seven dollars. We noticed a pair of cuff buttons on each of which was a keystone. We were informed they cost fifteen dollars and he had purchased them when he was made a Royal Arch Mason and further enlightened us that the Chapter Degrees had set him back twenty-five dollars. Seeing a beautiful Knights Templar Charm, your servant discovered that this charm together with the Commandery degrees had cost two hundred and fifty dollars more. Commenting upon a ring the visitor displayed as he lighted his eigarette brought forth the information that this ring and the Scottish Rite Degrees had separated the visitor from three hundred American dollars, and yet he could not work his way into a Blue Lodge. Seeing a button on his coat, we asked: "How much did that cost you?" With a face lighted up with a smile the decorated brother replied: "My wife gave me that when I joined the Shrine, but I paid seventy-eight dollars for the degree which included the Fez." We were glad to learn that the good brother had at least one piece of jewelry that cost him nothing, but the brother continued: "The Shrine is the playground of Masonry and I am glad that I have all there is in Masonry and am at the top."

The grand lodge, by motion, extended an invitation to the Eastern Star Grand Chapter of Kausas to be present and hear the address of the grand orator that was to be delivered on the evening of the first day.

The grand secretary, Fay Hempstead, makes quite a long report. He speaks of the prosperity among the lodges and shows that the Grand Lodge of Arkansas has benefited very materially by the great wave of prosperity which has swept over the country. He calls attention to the necessity of a proper office for the grand secretary.

The Committee on Masonic Law and Usage did not hesitate to get after the grand master for several of his decisions for it disapproved a number of them. This committee recommended that the grand lodge appropriate $3,000.00 to the George Washington Memorial Association and that the lodges be asked to make liberal contributions.

The proposition of constructing a new temple was presented and it was voted to accept the Albert Pike consistory proposition which offered to creek a building suitable for the grand lodge and enter into a lease for a period of time. According to the report of the board $17,500.00 per annum would be saved to the grand lodge.

A resolution of congratulations was passed concerning Geo. Thornburg, who was celebrating his fiftieth anniversary as a Mason.

One thing the grand lodge did was to abolish its Masonic Temple Board and to create thereof a Board of Finance to consist of five members.

The report of the trustees of the Masonic Orphans Home is interesting and shows that institution to be highly prosperous and well conducted.

The address of the grand orator delivered on the evening of the first day is a Masonic document which should have merited the close attention of the large audience which assembled to hear it.

Immediately following the oration, the grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star was introduced and spoke briefly.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence makes a brief report to the grand lodge declining to recognize a number of Foreign Grand Lodges, principally because they were unable to learn the exact status of these lodges and their relations to the craft.

The election of officers and the traditional installation closed the session. There is no report on Foreign Correspondence. The Grand Lodge of Arkansas evidently believes that the members of its jurisdiction are not interested in the affairs of other states.

CALIFORNIA, F. & A. M.

The seventy-first annual communication was held in the Masonic Temple in the city of San Francisco, commencing Tuesday, October 12, 1920. The roll call showed all the grand officers to have been present and the representatives of three hundred sixty-five chartered lodges. After a very appropriate prayer by the grand chaplain, the grand master delivered his annual message.

He says in his opening lines that the Grand Lodge of California now has two hundred thirty-two constitutional provisions and four hundred ninety-two regulations and that the policy of the jurisdiction is to reduce the entire jurisprudence to hard and fast rules. He expresses the idea, which has long been held by this writer, that we have too much legislation and that instead of adhering to basic law, we have approved decisions of grand masters, which in fact are merely constructions of existing laws.

Among the recommendations for new legislation, which Grand Master Adams makes, is one to the effect that it is unnecessary to keep both a minute book and a record book. He holds that the minutes may be approved in a rough form and transcribed to the record book. He presents to the grand lodge, the subject of exempting members of lodges who have held continuous membership for fifty years, from the payment of dues, but he makes no recommendations.

A most interesting recommendation is made on the question of balloting in groups and Brother Adams holds to the same ideas as this writer, that methods which prevailed fifty years ago, are not adapted to present conditions.

One of the rulings made by the grand master, was that the twenty dollars for each petitioner, which the grand lodge collects for the use and benefit of the Masonic Home of California, must be paid by the petitioner, not by the lodge.

The grand master was very sparing in the matter of rendering decisions and what he did present were merely constructions of local law. The usual number of dispensations for various purposes were issued and a long dissertation is made concerning lodges of the jurisdiction doing their work in the English language.

The grand master reports a donation of $500.00 for the relief of the Masons of Austria. The grand master made a trip to Honolulu and visited some of the lodges in that jurisdiction, which hold their charters from the Grand Lodge of California. It would be very interesting to quote all that Brother Adams said on the subject of Masonry and politics but space will not permit; suffice it to say that he does not approve of Masons who are running for public offices, using lodge bulletins and Masonic newspapers to exploit their particular claims for preferment. The Grotto comes in for criticism because of a circular letter issued by certain members of the organization on behalf of a candidate for political office.

The work of the Committee on Masonic Education is commended and quite a good deal is said concerning the Masonic Service Association. Brother Adams endorses much of the work of this society but he states that he is unable to recommend that the grand lodge become a member thereof.

Then Grand Master Adams devoted nearly three pages to a discussion of the controversy which arose between Gothic Lodge of East St. Louis and El Centro Lodge of California, and states that the matter was amicably adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties.

The idea is expressed, that the universality of Masonry ought to mean something more than an empty phrase, and the grand master is very free in expressing the idea that the Grand Lodge of California should be very liberal in recognizing the various Masons of the world.

The grand master gets after the inspectors of the state because they devote too much time to exploiting the ritual and too little to upbuilding lodges and the real things of Masonry.

Considerable is said concerning the public schools of the state and their work is unqualifiedly endorsed by the grand master.

The social side of Masonry is taken up and freely discussed, and while Grand Master Adams did not make the lodge a playground, yet he expresses the thought that a certain amount of social endeavor should be put forth by every Masonic body.

It required over eighty pages of closely printed matter to convey the grand master's message. It is a document of unusual interest and importance.

The report of the grand secretary is thorough and complete and shows that during the year 9,336 were raised to the degree of Master Mason and the net increase was 8,983. The present membership of the Grand Lodge of California is 76,873. The total amount of money collected by the grand secretary for the year amounts to $186,386.11. The expenses of running the grand lodge were $97,272,14. The Committee on the Grand Master's Message or Address brings in a report that strongly commends him for the very vigorous administration which he maintained.

From the report of the Trustees on Masonic Homes, the information is gleaned that those institutions are in a most excellent condition and are being operated at a minimum of cost. California may well feel proud of the charitable work which it is accomplishing. The report is embellished with a number of illustrations of the Home at Covina, which are very interesting.

The reports of the various Boards of Relief which are seattered throughout California, are intensely interesting and show the wonderful work which is being done in earing for those from other jurisdictions. California being the Meeca for tourists, for those seeking health and wealth, very naturally comes in for its full share of contributions to the relief of those who have been misguided, but it must be said to the credit of this splendid grand lodge, that it is doing work which is unequalled by any other grand body.

Among the resolutions introduced, was one which proposed that not more than twelve degrees shall be conferred by a lodge in any one month. Another resolution which was introduced, relates to group balloting on petitions.

The annual oration was delivered by W. Albert E. Boynton and is a very able document and should have elicited very close attention on the part of the grand lodge. Another resolution which was introduced, permitted lodges to spend one-third of their gross income for social purposes.

The Board of Managers of the Masonic Homes, received the endorsement of the grand lodge because they had moving pictures made of the various Masonic Homes of the State, the same to be exhibited for the benefit of lodges.

A long report from the Committee on Masonie Education was presented and shows that some excellent work is being done along the line of bringing to the eraft a better understanding of the objects and purposes of the fraternity.

The grand lodge adopted the idea of group balloting on petitions for the degrees but the matter of group initiation of candidates, failed to receive the endorsement of the representatives.

The installation of officers closed a most interesting session at which much important business was transacted. The report on Correspondence is presented by Jesse M. Whited. He treats it in the topical form and quotes very liberally from the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

CANADA, A. F. & A. M.

The sixty-sixth annual communication was held in the city of Ottawa Ontario. The booklet under review says nothing concerning the opening ceremony and commences directly with the address of the Grand Master, F. W. Harcourt. He devotes some of his remarks to the early history of Masonry in Canada and comments on the prosperity of the Grand Lodge of that jurisdiction.

The Grand Master states that there are on the register of the Grand Lodge, 500 lodges, nineteen of which are under dispensation. Fifteen dispensations were granted for the formation of new lodges, one of which was to be called War Veterans Lodge.

The total membership on June 24, 1921, is given as 88,000. The Grand Master thinks the craft is growing too fast and that there is a tendency to build up large lodges all of which he seems to think does not work for the best interests of the fraternity.

The total receipts are given as $133,508.00, and the expenditures $29,752.00. At this rate, the Grand Lodge of Canada should get rich at a very rapid rate.

The grand master made the usual number of rulings and decisions. Some grand masters seem to think they have not fulfilled the functions of their office unless they issue several decisions covering matters which pass through their hands.

One subject the grand master discusses is the publicity which is given to the various transactions of lodges. He states that no little criticism has been expressed because of the attitude of certain Masonic papers to exploit the affairs of the fraternity.

The secretary of one lodge was suspended from office for refusing to make necessary returns to the grand secretary.

The Grotto came in for action and very severe criticism. The grand master recommended the adoption of the Colorado resolution in reference to the Grotto and seemed to think the actions of that organization were disposed to bring shame and reproach on Masonry.

If anybody thinks for one moment that Masonry in Canada is prosaic, all he needs to do is refer to that portion of the Grand Master's report relating to the petition of two ladies who styled themselves Grand Master and Deputy Grand Master of the Honorable Fraternity of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, asking recognition. Well, this is a woman's age and if the dear ladies of Canada see fit to get up a little Grand Lodge of their own,—why not? But the Grand Lodge of Canada could not see it that way and made it very clear that any Mason who joined in this new propaganda might expect to be made the subject of disciplinary proceedings.

One strange case is reported. That of a Canadian Mason residing in the states and soliciting assistance from various lodges. The Grand Master of Canada soon put a stop to the practice,

Concerning the question of democracy, the grand master has the following to say:

"A great deal is being said about democracy, and for the most part it is simply cant. It is a much abused word. There is a true democracy and a pseudo-democracy. The latter, to the world's great sorrow, is now having too long an inning. Its leaders easily outvie Czars and other autocrats who aim at the restriction of universal rights. In a true democracy every man is in himself a ruler in the best sense of the word, practicing the Golden Rule. Masonic ideals are essentially the ideals which stand for the true universality and the only true democracy. He that ruleth himself is better than he that taketh a city."

One good suggestion is made by the grand master and that relates to the matter of visitation on the part of that official. He states that many lodges have never seen a grand master and he thinks each grand master should leave a record with the grand secretary of the lodges he visited so that the next official coming into office may visit some lodges that have heretofore not been favored.

It appears in the Grand Master's report that the colored Masons of Ontario have applied for a charter incorporating themselves under the name of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Ontario. The matter is reported to the grand lodge for such action as it may desire to take.

In his closing remarks the grand master makes an appeal on behalf of the Bible and thinks it should not only be introduced into the system of education employed but that it should find a place in the home of every Mason in Canada and that frequent recourses should be had to its pages.

Immediately following the report of the grand master, the Committee on Fraternal Dead make a long report and paid tributes of respect to the deceased at home and abroad. It has always occurred to this writer that the Committee on Necrology should report immediately following the address of the grand master. There is too much tendency at the present time to forget the dead and the service they have rendered to the craft.

The report of the grand secretary is made up almost altogether of figures and reiterates very much that appeared in the report of the grand treasurer. It cost $29,726.00 to operate the grand lodge for the year but this by no means represents all the money the grand lodge spent, for the item of $60,200.00 is charged up to Benevolences. There is one thing to be said in favor of our Canadian as well as English brethren and that is that they have been ever mindful to care for the indigent members of the society.

The Board of General Purposes, which appears to have been charged with much of the responsibility of administering the affairs of the society, make quite a long report. A great deal of this is devoted to the reports of the district deputy grand masters and the information gained therefrom. The Board are of the opinion that too many lodges are degenerating into degree factories and for that reason have no time to devote to social entertainments. The Board hold to the idea that when a lodge has attained a membership of 400 that certain restrictions should be placed upon the amount of work to be done.

The brochure under review appears to be a sort of an advanced document sent out to acquaint the fraternity with the main transactions of the grand lodge session.

There is no report on foreign correspondence connected with the document and very little that the reviewer can pick up that will be of use to the fraternity in Illinois.

COLORADO, A. F. & A. M. 1920

The volume opens with a number of records, covering the proceedings of special communications of the grand lodge, which were held for the purpose of performing various Masonic functions. The annual communication, which was the sixtieth, was held in the Masonic Temple in Denver, on Tuesday, September 21, at 10:00 o'clock A. M. The Committee on Credentials report the presence of all of the grand officers, as well as the representatives of constituent lodges. The Grand Master of Utah, James L. Cattron, was introduced and accorded the grand honors of Masonry. The American flag was presented and America sung by the grand lodge. The roll of deceased grand masters was called, after which the grand representatives were rounded up and duly welcomed by the grand master. Illinois was represented by Wm. W. Cooper. Frank L. Bishop, grand master, presented his address to the grand lodge, which proved to be a business-like document in which he set forth the principal acts of his office. He states that he made no decisions, because no matters arose which could not be settled by reference to the book of constitutions.

The grand master must have been very diligent in discharging the duties of his office, for the list of visitations which he made to the lodges of his jurisdiction, is a long one. The by-laws of a large number of lodges were approved and dispensations issued for the usual Masonie purposes.

Two lodges were constituted during the year, and five corner-stones laid, none of them being for Masonic buildings.

The grand master made a very startling discovery, that the grand lecturer had never taken a vacation in all the time he had been performing the duties of that office and he was officially requested to take such vacation but there was no evidence that the request had been complied with.

A high tribute is paid to the efficiency of the grand secretary, Charles H. Jacobson. Brother Jacobson died a short time after the close of the grand lodge. Owing to the stress of work among the lodges of the jurisdiction, the Masonic Temple was crowded to capacity. It appears that the managers of the Temple were in the habit of renting out certain banquet and social rooms to organizations outside the fraternity. This, the grand master did not approve and expressed the thought that the Temple should be remodeled and used exclusively for the benefit of the fraternity.

The Masonic Service Association of the United States, comes in for some criticism by Grand Master Bishop, for the reason that the constitution and by-laws of the Association were changed at its last meeting and are not now the same as when the Grand Lodge of Colorado joined. The grand master very boldly states that the constitution and by-laws may be changed again. He, therefore, recommends that the grand lodge pay the association the amount of one cent per capita and withdraw its membership.

The Grotto comes in for severe grilling on the part of the grand master and the attention of the craft is called to the fact that it is still under the ban in that State.

The grand master refers to the increase in membership as being the largest in the history of the grand lodge and intimates that there may have been some soliciting in the effort to procure candidates. He issues a warning that all solicitation is strictly forbidden. In his closing lines he declines to bid the grand lodge good-bye, but did say "Good luck and God speed to all."

The grand treasurer gives his receipts as $24,779.00 and his disbursements as $36,935.00. The grand secretary, Charles H. Jacobson, now deceased, makes a long report in which he covers in detail all of the transactions of his office. He gives the total membership in Colorado as 23,790.

The Committee on Correspondence makes a short address to the grand Lodge in which they state that they are still unprepared to advise the recognition of either of the Grand Bodies of France.

The grand lecturer makes a very complete report and submits much statistical matter, which he gleaned in his visits to the lodges of the jurisdiction.

The oration was delivered by John H. Gabriel and was along Masonic lines. The following amendment was reported by the Special Committee on Amendments and was adopted by the grand lodge:

"Provided, That such organizations within the State of Colorado shall, by duly enacted statutes, require that no petition for the degrees conferred by them shall be received from one who has not been a Master Mason for at least one year; and provided further, that such organizations shall, by duly enacted statutes, prohibit their members from soliciting Entered Apprentices, Fellow Crafts, or Master Masons to petition for such degrees. If such organizations shall fail to enact or maintain such laws, the grand master of this grand lodge shall withdraw from them the recognition heretofore herein granted."

Why in the world don't the committee make their amendment so as to prohibit Masons from joining the Redmen, the Odd Fellows, the Daughters of Pocahontas, and a few more similar organizations? As a reason for the amendment, the following is given:

"The cause prompting the presentation of the above amendment to our Book of Constitutions was such over-zealous and indiscriminate solicitation for "Higher degrees" as to become indirect, and often direct, solicitation for the degrees of the Blue Lodge. Drives have been organized and carried out like stock-selling campaigns. Master Masons have absented themselves from their lodges to evade such unscemly importunities. Entered Apprentices and Fellow Crafts have been solicited to "sign up." The beautics of "higher Masonry" have been unfolded to men not members of the Craft, with the explanation that the first three degrees were essential to admission thereto—a patent inducement to them to petition our lodges. Petitions have been sought on the ground that but a few more were necessary to enable the solicitor to secure certain alleged Masonic honors, presumably conferred in payment for such work. Circulars, addresses and newspaper stories and pictures, all to the same end, have brought reproach upon the Ancient Craft and threatened the subversion of one of its fundamental doctrines, the first of the internal qualifications of a man to be made a Mason, is, that he come of his own free will and accord, uninfluenced by mercenary motives or the improper solicitation of friends. We must protect this bulwark or abandon it.'

The report of the Committee on Masonic Study Clubs show there has been some activity along that line and that every effort is being made to stimulate Masonic education in the State. Some very excellent work is being done in the matter of relieving indigent Masonic soldiers and sailors and the Masons of Colorado are to be commended for what they are accomplishing along this line. During the war the grand lodge collected from all sources, about $42,000.00 for war relief purposes. Of this amount only $752.00 was expended and it is proposed that the residue be used to assist such of the craft as served in the war and who are in need of assistance.

The installation of officers and the presentation of the jewel closed the session.

The report on correspondence which appears in the back part of the proceedings, is brief, covering barely seventy-five pages. The amendment adopted in 1919, by Illinois relating to physical qualifications of candidates is quoted in full as are also the remarks of this writer upon the same subject in the point of view published in the correspondence report of that year.

CONNECTICUT, A. F. & A. M.

The report under review covers the thirty-third annual meeting which was held in the Masonic Temple in the city of Hartford, opening on the second day of February.

The report of the Committee on Credentials, which is the very first item to be presented, is offered in detail. The grand representative of the grand lodge of Illinois does not appear to have been present.

Charles C. Perkins, grand master, presented a report covering sixty pages of printed matter. In his opening remarks, he thinks the custom of having the grand master serve but one year instead of two or three is absolutely best and safest for the fraternity.

Quite a long report on Necrology is made and mention made of those valiant eraftsmen who answered the final summons and have gone on before.

The grand master incorporates into his report, letters from the district deputy grand masters in which they set forth their various transactions. What they chronicle is purely of local color.

Concerning physical qualifications, Grand Master Perkins says he issued two dispensations in favor of candidates with physical defects, whom he considered eligible to receive the degrees. He suggests to the grand lodge that the law on physical qualifications be modified and a more liberal interpretation placed upon it. He, however, declines to make any direct recommendation.

He speaks of the land-marks of the fraternity showing that he belongs to the old school who have always held that there were certain established usages of the Society which have been passed down from time immemorial and that it is not in the power of any man to change them. The modern group of thinkers do not believe in land-marks and take a much more rational view of the Society.

The list of dispensations reported by the grand master is in full. None of them are out of the ordinary, however, and relate purely to the waiving of local laws.

The list of visitations to lodges is reported in detail.

The grand master officiated personally at the laying of corner-stones and the dedication of halls. This is as it should be.

The Near East Relief matter comes in for consideration and the grand master sent circulars to the lodges of the state urging them to do their full share in this charitable work.

Six questions were asked and answered. They were unimportant.

The Masonic birthday of George Washington is thoroughly endorsed and a recommendation made that a committee be appointed to compile a standard Masonic funeral service for the grand lodge. The George Washington Memorial Association is heartily endorsed.

Report was made of the issuance of two dispensations for the formation of new lodges,

The grand master speaks at some length concerning the Masonic Service Association. He does not, however, recommend that the grand lodge become a member but that a careful study be made of the modus operandi of this society and if, after consideration, membership appears to be desirable, that the grand lodge shall then become a member.

The deputy grand master makes a report covering various visitations made by him. There is nothing in the report, however, that shows that he in any way transgressed on the prerogatives of the grand master.

The grand treasurer gives his receipts as $55,000.00 and his disbursements as $55,500.00.

Quite a long report is made by the grand secretary which goes much into detail concerning the affairs of his office.

There are one hundred fourteen lodges in the state of Connecticut with a total membership of thirty-four thousand seven hundred three. The net gain in membership for the year 1920 was three thousand two hundred nineteen.

This grand lodge requires all lodges to submit amendments of by-laws to a grand lodge committee for approval. A report from such a committee appears as part of the proceedings.

The Committee on Correspondence presented a report recommending that the Grand Lodge of Connecticut withdraw fraternal relations with the Grand Lodge of Prussia. The resolution was adopted.

A motion was made that the grand lodge purchase an American flag and that the same be displayed in the East of the grand lodge at every session.

The Grand Lodge of Connecticut operates a system of fines imposed upon such lodges as do not pay their grand lodge dues within the time prescribed by the regulations. Six lodges were disciplined and proper fines assessed.

The Committee on Jurisprudence did not altogether agree with the grand master in his decisions. They held to the old law on physical qualifications and maintained the perfect limb theory.

The Grand Lodge of Connecticut has been revising its laws and a motion was made that the report of the Committee on Revision be adopted and 25,000 copies of the law be printed and distributed.

The George Washington Masonic Memorial Association received hearty endorsement and the lodges of the state directed to levy an assessment upon their members for this most laudable enterprise.

The installation of officers was followed by the presentation of the customary jewel and apron.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by George A. Kies. It covers seventy-seven pages of printed matter and is short and pointed. Illinois is given two pages of review. The principal acts of our session of 1920 are briefly referred to, mainly without comment. Reference is made to the correspondence report of that year and two comments are taken.

DELAWARE, A. F. & A. M.

The communication under consideration is the 115th, which was held in the city of Wilmington, October 6 and 7, 1920. The report of the Committee on Credentials, credits Harry Mayer, representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, with having been present. The total representation of the grand lodge is given at 196.

The first business of importance, following the introduction of distinguished visitors was the address of the grand master, Harry Mayer. The fraternal dead are paid tributes of proper respect and a record made of an emergent communication of the grand lodge for the purpose of dedicating a new lodge room.

The grand master reports that during the year, he officially visited each of the twenty-two lodges of his jurisdiction and that he also had the pleasure of visiting the grand jurisdictions of New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The Masonic Service Association is spoken of in a manner commendatory, although the Grand Lodge of Delaware is not a member of that society.

The Masonic Home is highly commended and a new Masonic Temple in the city of Wilmington is urged as an absolute necessity if the fraternity is to prosper as it should.

The George Washington Memorial Association is endorsed and the lodges of Delaware urged to raise their quota of $1.00 per capita.

Six decisions are reported by the grand master, all of which appear to have been mere local constructions of law.

It appears from the proceedings that it has been the custom of the grand lodge to serve dinners during the annual session. During the war this practice was discontinued but the grand master reports that it has been reinstated and that he believes that the same will meet with the general approval of the brethren.

The Committee on Jurisprudence were very gracious to the grand master, for they approved all of his decisions and recommendations.

The Masonic Home Board of Delaware presents a report showing that there was an increase in the cost of maintaining the home; the number of guests is given as twelve. The actual operating expenses were $1,570.00.

The Grand Treasurer of Delaware gives his receipts from all sources as $7,500 and his expenditures $6,335,00.

The report of the grand secretary is largely statistical and gives the present number of Master Masons in the State to be 4,386.

Election and installation of officers, together with presentation of the jewel and the apron ended the session.

The Grand Lodge of Delaware does not appear to have done very much in the way of enacting new legislation or departing from beaten paths. Its transactions were largely routine.

Thomas J. Day writes the report on Foreign Correspondence which is extremely brief; Illinois gets about one page of consideration, in which the principal transactions of our session of 1919 are briefly chronicled. There is neither commendation nor criticism attached to the report.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, F. A. A. M.

The annual communication, which was the 110th, was held in the Masonic Temple at Washington, D. C., December 15. The Committee on Credentials report the presence of all of the grand officers and the representatives of nearly every lodge. A number of distinguished Masons, who were present, were received and accorded the grand honors of the fraternity. The grand master, J. Harry Cunningham, read an address to his grand lodge of more than passing interest. He characterizes the year as one of great activity and the best in the history of the District of Columbia in point of accomplishment. He states that he made many decisions but only presents three to the grand lodge, deeming the others to be merely constructions of local law. He decided that a petition signed by a majority of the investigating committee should not be balloted on, but he left the matter to the discretion and good judgment of the masters of lodges. He states that he granted dispensations to shorten the time between the conferring of the degrees in the cases of army and navy applicants. grand master reports some trouble with the Masonic Temple, due to the fact that certain tenants vacated the building and expresses the thought that there should be erected in the nation's Capitol a structure in keeping with the dignity and importance of the institution.

Grand Master Cunningham complains of the enormous increase in cost of printing and shows that it costs almost 300 per cent more to take care of the grand lodge printing now than it did previous to the war. He states that the cost of the 1919 proceedings was $1.53 per page. The grand master found that the printing of the names of the members of the various lodges as a part of the proceedings, was quite an expensive habit and that by omitting the 18,000 names a saving of $552.08 might be effected. He also suggested the reduction of the number of copies printed and thereby conserve the cost as much as possible.

The grand master reports that the endowment fund of the Masonic Home is growing rapidly and that the lodges of the State are making liberal contributions toward this most laudable enterprise.

One thing which was done during the year, was the addition to the form of petition of a number of new questions relating to former residences and parties who were able to vouch for the general character of the applicants.

The grand master reports a number of visitations to the lodges of his jurisdiction and indicates that he discovers quite a little laxity on the part of investigating committees. He urges greater diligence in this respect. He commends the custom of attending churches in a body and advises all lodges to make it an annual event.

In the District of Columbia there is a Masonic Association and it is through this association that the grand master was able to communicate his ideas and secure co-operation of his brethren.

One thing Grand Master Cunningham did was to prohibit non-Masonic organizations from canvassing Masonic lodges for funds. He states that he felt that the fraternity had been so thoroughly canvassed during the war period that it was not best to continue the practice at this time.

Two dispensations for the formation of new lodges were granted and the schools of instruction conducted by the grand lecturer highly commended.

The George Washington Memorial Association received commendation and the District of Columbia sent in $1.00 per capita as its contribution towards this laudable enterprise.

The Masonic Service Association is approved by the grand master and representatives were sent from the District of Columbia. Both the Masonic employment bureau and the Masonic relief board received favorable mention for the work which they are doing. High tribute is paid to the efficiency of the grand secretary and the recommendation made that his salary be fixed at $2500.00 per year.

The report of the grand secretary shows his total receipts to have been $28,619.00 and his expenditures $23,276.00. $340.06 was expended for maintenance of the library.

Thomas H. Young, grand lecturer, presents a report giving the list of lodges that he visited and instructed. The District of Columbia still has attached to it a barnacle in the way of the past masters degree which it is necessary that each newly elected master must receive before entering upon the duties of his office.

Quite an interesting report is presented by the Committee on Correspondence relating to the recognition of the Grand Orient of Spain. The recommendation made is that the matter be held in abeyance for another year.

A special committee appointed for the purpose of selling the Masonic Temple, made a report recommending that the present building be disposed of and the report was adopted. A committee appointed to consider the advisability of erecting a new Temple, submitted a report recommending that the Grand Lodge proceed with the enterprise.

Nine hundred seventy applied to the Board of Relief in Washington, D. C., for assistance. Of this number 534 were male and 436 were female. Positions were secured for 770 of this number. Surely the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia is doing a most excellent work in this respect.

One thing the grand lodge did was to loan the sum of $1,000.00 to one of its constituents to be used in the completion of its new home. Here is an idea that other grand lodges might well emulate, and the conviction seems to be growing that grand lodges ought to de something towards helping their constituents in the matter of securing suitable places for meeting.

At St. John's Day communication, held on December 27, there was a large attendance of grand officers and representatives. The business transactions at this meeting were largely routine and several matters which were carried over from the previous session received approval. The grand master was presented with $310.00 as a token of the love and esteem in which he is held by his brethren.

The election of officers and the usual installation of the ceremonies, together with the presentation of the jewel closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is written by Geo. W. Baird. He gives Illinois two pages of most kindly consideration, quoting liberally from all that Grand Master Fitzgerrell said concerning solicitation to secure petitions for the higher bodies, as well as other matters reported at that time. A liberal paragraph is taken from the report of Le Roy A. Goddard on the Masonic Service Association. Brother Baird states that "Doctor" Owen Scott reported on the George Washington Memorial Association. This is the first time we ever heard Owen Scott called Doctor and the writer is much at loss as to whether the appellation means Doctor of Divinity or some other Doctor of the very numerous family of M.D.'s. The correspondence report of this writer is very highly commended by Brother Baird. Brief references are made to certain things which are said in the report of 1920 and he states that he found nothing to criticise. Brother Baird is a very able writer and is doing some most excellent work for the fraternity in his historical sketches which appear from time to time in the press.

ENGLAND, A. F. & A. M.

The Grand Lodge of England holds quarterly communications. It does not issue a regular book of proceedings but submits its transactions in pamphlet form covering the various details that received attention by the grand lodge.

The first pamphlet under consideration relates to the quarterly communication held in the city of London on Wednesday, the first day of December, 1920. The grand lodge was opened in ample form, after which the pro grand master makes a very short address to the grand lodge. Reference is made to a visit on the part of the grand master to India and a message of good wishes is forwarded to him.

Concerning the nomination of grand master, notice was given by the pro grand master to the effect that at the next quarterly communication his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught would be elected grand master for the ensuing year.

The Board of Benevolence was elected at this communication, there being twelve of them. This board looks after the wants of the widows and orphans of such members of the fraternity as need assistance. The report shows that the grand lodge is by no means penurious in caring for those who need help.

The Board of General Purposes call attention to a rule of the grand lodge to the effect that the grand master shall not be applied to on any business concerning Masons or Masonry except through the grand secretary.

The provincial grand masters received commendation and some legislation was taken relating to their duties as well as defining the particular jewel they were expected to wear in the discharge of the functions of their office.

The expulsion of three brethren is reported and two appeals are recorded in full.

From the report under consideration it is apparent that warrants were issued for the formation of forty-three new lodges. This number should not be startling for the reason that England's lodges are small in number and devote themselves in the main to social and charitable work.

In the quarterly communication held on the second day of March, 1921, a communication from the grand master concerning the felicitations extended him on his trip to India was read, and according to the usual formality of our English cousins, he was duly elected grand master.

The Board of General Purposes make one of their characteristic reports.

An invitation to join in an international congress of Freemasons of all countries was extended by the Swiss Grand Lodge, Alpina. This invitation was turned down. The report later on states that the project was abandoned because of the small number of acceptances.

It seems that the Grand Lodge of England is having a great deal of trouble over the woman question. Numerous bodies unrecognized as Masonie by the Grand Lodge of England and which admit women to membership are endeavoring to induce Freemasons to join in their assemblies. The grand lodge comes down very positively on this question and declares all such organizations to be clandestine and spurious.

It is recorded that one organization alleged to be Masonic was even organized by women who sought the endorsement of the United Grand Lodge of England.

The Board of General Purposes gives the total number of lodges in the register to be 3612.

The Masonic Peace Memorial comes in for extensive consideration, showing that the grand lodge took this matter very seriously.

An annual grand festival was held on Wednesday, April 27, 1921. The principal object of this meeting appears to have been largely social and the various officers of the grand lodge were duly installed into their respective places, followed by a grand feast which was largely attended.

On Wednesday, the first day of June, a quarterly communication was held, at which time the Board of General Purposes was appointed and an election held to select members to represent Provincial lodges on the board. A grand lodge auditor was also elected at this particular time.

There is the usual report of the Benevolence Board and a list of those who received aid from the grand lodge is quite a long one.

The Board of General Purposes make one of their characteristic reports, expressing great gratitude at the return of the grand master from India and his resumption of Masonic work at home.

The Board report that every lodge was notified of its attitude toward the admission of women to Freemasonry and the eraft warned concerning irregular and claudestine bodies.

The practice of advertising for Masons to join in the formation of new lodges is severely condemned while secretaries and almoners of lodges are urged to exercise great caution in giving relief to persons who travel over the country posing as poor and distressed Masons. It seems that many imposters have been infringing on the good will of the fraternity.

The chain prayer seems to have invaded England, for attention is called to this nonsensical devise and all good Masons urged to do their utmost toward suppressing it.

The grand master, the Duke of Connaught, presented himself at this quarterly communication and was received with the honors of the craft and escorted to his seat in the grand lodge.

The Grand Lodge of England does not issue any report on foreign correspondence but confines its efforts very largely to the old time practices and customs of the society.

Its meetings, while largely attended, are purely routine in character and there is shown little or no disposition to depart from the customs and practices which characterized the grand lodge in its beginning.

Hon. Lord Ampthill, P.G.M., London. Colville Smith, G.S., London.

FLORIDA, F. & A. M.

The City of Jacksonville entertained the Grand Lodge of Florida, in its ninety-second annual communication, held January 18, 1921. The grand representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois does not appear to have been present. About the first business of the session was a motion that the grand secretary check up the list of grand representatives and ascertain who, if any, have not been in attendance for the past three years and to report same to the grand master. The address of the grand master, Reginald H. Cooper, followed after the usual preliminaries. It is a complete document and sets forth in a business-like way, the transactions of his office during the year that has just closed. Proper tributes of respect are paid the dead of his own and other grand jurisdictions.

But two dispensations were issued for the formation of new lodges and the charter of one lodge was revoked, for good and sufficient reasons.

One lodge adopted a by-law to the effect "it shall be the custom of this lodge that not more than one candidate be obligated at a time in any degree." The grand master refused to approve this by-law, stating that it was an infringement upon the prerogatives of the master. Five requests to lay corner-stones were received by the grand master. One of them was for a hotel building. All were denied with the exception of a Presbyterian Church and a Masonic Temple. Twenty-one decisions are reported by the grand master, quite a number of them relating to infringement of jurisdiction and other matters concerning the initiation of candidates.

Brother Cooper found it necessary to issue an edict against the Masonic chain prayer which gained wide circulation in the State of Florida. Such dispensations as were issued are recorded in full.

The George Washington Memorial Association comes in for strong endorsement and the Masonic Service Association receives considerable It appears that when the Grand Lodge of Florida joined the Masonic Service Association, a sum, equal to 1 cent per capita, was appropriated as its share of the expense, but the association made an additional levy of 5 cents per capita and this being contrary to the understanding of the association, the grand master recommended that the grand lodge of Florida withdraw from this society. The grand master reports twenty-eight visitations to lodges and states that wherever he went he was received with great courtesy and accorded the honors of his official station. It appears from his report that there was considerable trouble during the year concerning the use of cipher codes, one lodge being very liberal in referring to them. Concerning the law on physical qualifications, the grand master recommends a modification permitting those who were maimed to apply for the degrees, provided they were possessed of artificial appliances enabling them to comply with what the fraternity requires of them.

The senior grand warden, who acted as deputy grand master during the absence of that official from the State of Florida, makes a complete report of his transactions, as well as decisions made by him. The deputy grand masters submit a very complete resume of their work which shows that the State of Florida is being well taken care of.

For the George Washington Memorial Association it appears that the sum of $1,933.01 has been collected up to date and the work is still going on.

The grand secretary makes a very complete report of all his transactions and the grand treasurer gives his receipts at $45,000.00 and his expenditures at $33,372.00. The grand lodge appointed a committee of five to visit the Eastern Star chapter which was in session at the same time of the grand lodge, and to formally acknowledge greetings from that body.

The trustees of the Masonic Temple, owned by the grand lodge, made a report that is interesting because they are able to show profits of $7,000.00 and congratulate themselves upon being able to retire $10,000.00 of their indebtedness as a result of the year's management.

The report of the Masonic Home Board is quite long but nevertheless is interesting. It cost the grand lodge to operate the home, the sum of $24,193.60. The number of members in the home, however, is not given. In addition to the charitable work which the Grand Lodge of Florida does in connection with its home, it expended last year for emergency relief, the sum of $5,139.00. There were four schools of instruction held during the year, attended by representatives from one hundred and fifty lodges.

The Jurisprudence Committee make quite a long report. Some of their findings are as follows:

"Articles of jewelry that cannot be removed from the person of the candidate shall not be considered in the matter of his preparation to receive any of the degrees. That it is proper for a lodge in Florida to subrent its lodge room to the Rebecca lodge or other proper organizations for entertainments, including dancing. Such action to be taken by the lodge by majority vote."

"Lodges may provide by by-law that any member who shall pass in open lodge a satisfactory examination in the lecture of the M. M. degree shall receive a certificate of proficiency, under seal of his lodge; and that no member of such lodge shall be eligible to an elective office in such lodge until he shall have obtained such certificate of proficiency in the work of the degrees."

Pictures of the Masonie home were made and sold to the lodges of the state, the idea being to bring the brethren to a better understanding of the charitable work being done by the grand lodge.

The election and installation of officers was the last act of the session.

Silas B. Wright prepared the report on foreign correspondence and gives Illinois three and one-half pages of kindly consideration.

Concerning the amendment adopted by the Grand Lodge of Illinois relating to the physical qualifications of candidates, he says:

"One year ago an amendment was made to the code regarding physical qualifications. This provided for investigation by the grand master, preliminary to granting a dispensation. There were so many applicants that it was impossible for the grand master to examine them all. After consultation with the advisory council he decided that it is safer and wiser not to issue any dispensations whatever as it was impossible to give them personal examination."

An extended comment is made concerning the action of the Grand Lodge of Illinois regarding the Masonic Service Association and we take it that Brother Wright is of the opinion that the Grand Lodge of Illinois was not far wrong in the position which it took. The correspondence report of this writer receives favorable mention and very generously commented upon. He passes the writer the following comment:

"He is a genuine American Mason, all wool, yard wide."

GEORGIA, F. & A. M.

The 134th annual communication was held in the city of Macon, on October 26. There was considerable amount of preliminary work immediately following the opening, among which was a telegram of felicitation from the grand chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, which was ordered spread upon the records. A number of distinguished visitors were presented and accorded the grand honors of Masonry. The Committee on Credentials announced the presence of Joseph Gregg, Jr., grand representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois. The address of the grand master, Charles L. Bass, covers thirty pages of closely printed matter and is a complete resume of the business transactions made by him during the time he was in office. He passed a high compliment to the efficient services of the grand secretary, Frank F. Baker, and calls him the right hand of the grand master.

The financial condition of the grand lodge is reported to be better than ever before. The grand lodge is free from debt with the largest receipts in its history. The custodians of the ritual came in for hearty comment on the part of the grand master and their work is referred to in the very highest terms. It appears that in the larger cities of the State, Masonic clubs have been organized which are doing a most excellent work, in not only creating good fellowship among the fraternity, but likewise spreading the gospel of Freemasonry.

The Masonic Home is referred to as the special pride of the grand lodge, and the endowment fund of this most excellent institution is pronounced to be $123,000.00. It appears from the transactions of the grand lodge that an effort is being made to provide a home for the aged and infirm, for a special committee has this matter under consideration.

The Scottish Rite Hospital maintained in Atlanta, Ga., for the care of crippled children comes in for hearty endorsement. Foreign relations are spoken of as being most harmonious and cordial. The grand master states that he granted a number of dispensations and justifies himself by saying there was sufficient necessity for granting them, owing to the enormous amount of work being done throughout the jurisdiction. Five dispensations for the formation of new lodges were granted, while three lodges surrendered their charters. The grand master makes no direct decisions although he presents the answers to sixteen questions which he thinks are of sufficient interest to claim the attention of the grand lodge. Among his conclusions are the following:

- "It is illegal to try a member of the Masonic Order who has been adjudged insane and is an inmate in the State Sanitarium, though the offense may have been committed previous to his having been adjudged insane."
- "A committee appointed and failing to discharge their duty and giving no satisfactory reason for such failure can be discharged at any time by order of the lodge or the worshipful master and a new committee appointed."
- "The law forbidding the use of Masonic emblems for advertising purposes refers to Masonic emblems connected with symbolic Masonry."
- "Interpretation of Masonic law by the grand master when given officially has all the sanctity of law and the subordinate lodges must be governed and controlled by the same until this opinion or interpretation of the law is overruled or altered by the grand lodge."

The Grand Lodge of Georgia permits change of venue in Masonic trials. Three instances are recorded wherein this privilege was granted.

The list of visitations reported by the grand master is a long one and shows that he made every effort to meet with his brethren on Masonic occasions. The grand master delivered eleven sermons in churches for the benefit of the fraternity. He laid six corner-stones during the year and conducted district conventions in the twelve congressional districts of the state.

The Masonic Service Association of the United States is commended and the recommendation made to the grand lodge that it join the Association and pay five cents per capita as annual tax. The George Washington Memorial Association is likewise commended and the lodges of the state urged to contribute liberally toward this splendid undertaking. In conclusion the grand master recommended that the grand secretary be authorized to procure biographical sketches of all past, present, and future grand officers elected by the grand lodge and that these be made into a permanent record.

The grand secretary makes a report which is largely statistical. He gives the number raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason, to have been 7,972. Present membership in the state is 61,555. The receipts from all sources were $75,100.00. The committee on correspondence made a report recommending that action on the request of the Grand Lodge of Vienna for recognition be deferred.

The special committee on the Home for the aged recommended that a special committee be appointed with full power to devise plans and commends the erection of a building for the eare of indigent Masons, their widows and orphans.

A resolution was adopted by the grand lodge fully endorsing both the George Washington Memorial Association and the Masonic Service Association. All of the grand master's answers to questions were approved except one. In this they dissented because of the construction which they placed upon local law.

The committee looked over the dispensations which were granted by the grand master and approved all of them. During the last day of the session a resolution was introduced that action with reference to the Home for the Aged, be postponed for one year, and the grand lodge adopted the resolution. This action was followed by the following resolution, which was adopted:

"Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the grand master to investigate a system of pensions for aged and infirm Masons, that such a proposition be worked out and submitted at the next regular communication of the Grand Lodge of Georgia, in conjunction with the plan of the Home for the Aged now under consideration, and that the question shall at that time be definitely settled."

It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of Georgia has in its membership some thinking men, for the idea of pensioning is one which every grand lodge, engaging in institutional charity today, must sooner or later consider. It is far better to eare for an old couple in their own home among the friends and neighbors where they have dwelt a life time, than it is to compel them to dispose of their property and go into an institution among strangers.

The Committee on Appeals and Grievances must have had something to do, for they report twenty-three cases as having been considered by them. In each case they briefly review the circumstances and their findings. The Grand Lodge of Georgia maintains a Committee on General Welfare. This committee makes a number of very valuable suggestions, all of which are no doubt of interest to the fraternity of that state.

The Finance Committee fixes the salary of the Grand Secretary at $4500.00 and allows him $1560.00 for clerical help. The report on the Masonic Home came just before the close of the proceedings. It cost the Grand Lodge of Georgia $23,161.00 to maintain its home during the year. The amount paid to the matron, superintendent and secretary is $3,300.00. The installation of officers and the presentation of the customary jewel were features of the closing hours.

Raymond Daniel prepared the correspondence report for 1920. He prefaces his report with a number of paragraphs in which he presents some very pertinent ideas concerning the craft in general. He gives to Illinois six and a half pages of liberal treatment. He opens with the following paragraph:

"Our acquaintance with and admiration of Past Grand Masters Owen Scott and Alexander H. Bell, whom we met at the Cedar Rapids conference of the Masonic Service Association of the United States, November 11-13, make us feel thoroughly at home, as we open the Illinois proceedings. Brothers Scott and Bell stood out as two stalwart pillars of Freemasonry at the Cedar Rapids meeting, and if all the good Illinois brethren are of the same characteristics, then Illinois must indeed be a GRAND jurisdiction. Brothers Scott and Bell made two of the best addresses at the meeting. Brother Bell also intimately knows and loves our Grand Master Charles L. Bass and Past Grand Master "Uncle Tom" Jeffries, which is sufficient recommendation to our Georgia brethren."

Liberal quotations are taken from the address to the grand lodge of Daniel G. Fitzgerrell. He quotes what Brother Fitzgerrell said concerning those Masons who feel aggrieved because the grand lodge insists upon them doing their work in the American language and concludes by saying: "Bravo Brother Fitzgerrell."

A brief paragraph is taken from the oration of Edward J. Brundage and the correspondence report of this writer and he quotes liberally from the preface to the correspondence report of 1919. He agrees with this writer that the publication of the names of defendants in Masonic trials as well as the details of the trial is unnecessary and unwise. Brother Daniel presents a most excellent report and it is a matter of regret that lack of space does not permit a more extended reference concerning his splendid review.

IDAHO, A. F. & A. M. 1920

The 53rd annual communication opened in the city of Boise, Tuesday, September 14, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. The grand officers appear to have been present, but the representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois is not accredited with attendance. At this annual communication, the first business of importance was the annual address of the grand master, Arch Cunningham. He refers to the annual communication of the grand lodge as an appeal in the nature of a reunion where friendships are renewed and perpetuated. He reports the condition of Masonry in Idaho to be most gratifying and foreign relations cordial and hearty. He states that Idaho is enjoying its full share of activities and prosperity, and warns lodges to be more careful in the selection of the material which they accept.

The grand master believes in Masonic education, for he emphasizes the necessity of a better understanding of the fraternity.

The Masonic Service Association is commended and provision made for the payment of the pro rata assessment. By-laws of a number of lodges were approved by the grand master, and dispensations issued for the formation of three new lodges. The grand master lists the dispensations which he issued, all of which were for legitimate Masonic purposes.

He made six decisions; one was to the effect that a man blind in one eye was eligible to receive the degrees in Masonry. The grand master speaks of smoking in lodge and condemns the habit. He expresses great pleasure that in his visits to various lodges he found a strong disposition everywhere to prohibit smoking in the lodge room at any and all times.

In Idaho, dues accrue against a member suspended from the fraternity and his lodge. The grand master thinks this law is wrong and recommends a change, providing that dues shall not accrue during suspension. He advises the lodges in his jurisdiction to pay great attention to social features and believes them necessary in the upbuilding of the lodge.

Some lodges of the state appear to have been guilty of abbreviating the work. These came in for a word of censure and warning. The grand master argues that because of the great amount of work being done, lodges cannot abbreviate in order to save time. In closing, Brother Cunningham refers to the visitations which he made to the lodges of his jurisdiction and expresses the regret that he could not have been more diligent in this matter. However, he accomplished much good through his visits.

The grand treasurer gives his total receipts at $42,917.00 and expenditures $46,436.00.

The report of the grand secretary is interesting because he goes into many matters of detail which passed through his hands during his term of office. An amendment to the by-laws was presented, permitting non-affiliates to have the privilege of the lodges for a period of six months after severing their connections and requires them to petition within thirty days thereafter if they expect to participate in the privileges of the fraternity. The amendment goes to some length to define the status of those non-affiliates, who stay outside of the fraternity.

The Committee on Appeals and Grievances report ten cases which came under their jurisdiction. Each case is cited very briefly, no details being given, but the name of the defendant is mentioned in each instance.

The Jurisprudence Committee approved all that the grand master did and presented no matters out of the ordinary routine. The amendment defining the status of non-affiliates mentioned above, was after the three readings, duly adopted.

Idaho seems to be taking up the matter of Masonic education, for it has a special committee at work, Acvising plans for the dissemination of Masonic information throughout the state. The committee on returns of lodges gives the number raised as 984 and a total membership within the state of 6934. The net gain for 1920 is given at 954.

On the third day the Committee on Unfinished Business presented a report in which it recommended that the grand lodge withdraw from the Masonic Service Association. The particular reason offered being the difficulty of raising funds to maintain its standing in that association.

The installation of officers and the presentation of the signet ring closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by Geo. E. Knepper. Illinois is given two and a half pages of very courteous consideration. Our principal acts are chronicled and a liberal quotation taken from the oration of Edward J. Brundage. What was said by this writer on the subject of co-ordination is quoted, as well as other short extracts which appeared in that report.

INDIANA, F. & A. M.

The 104th annual communication convened in the grand lodge hall of the Masonic Temple in the city of Indianapolis at 10:00 o'clock on Tuesday, the 24th day of May.

The record shows that there were present representatives of 537 of the 553 chartered lodges.

The grand lodge was opened briefly and settled down to business without any tiresome preliminaries,

The first item of interest is the report of the grand master, Richard II. Schweitzer. He states in his opening remarks that it has been his effort to administer the laws in moderation and in keeping with the principles of the order.

He refers to the death of Calvin W. Prather, grand secretary, who died on August 1, 1920. The writer knew Brother Prather very intimately and counted him among his dearest friends. His death is a serious loss to the Masons of Indiana.

The grand master states that he found it impossible to visit any great number of lodges. Such visits as he did make were of informal character. The George Washington Memorial Association is commended and Indiana pledged to do its full duty toward that enterprise.

The Masonic Home is spoken of in the very highest terms and the general management commended for the efficiency with which it administers the affairs of that institution.

The grand master pays very high tribute to Herbert Λ . Graham, grand instructor, who devoted the entire year to visiting and instructing lodges throughout the state.

Brother Schweitzer states he received numerous complaints from the lodges, all of which he was able to harmoniously adjust in a manner satisfactory to all concerned. The grand master is to be commended for taking time to expend in this noble work of the fraternity, that of conciliating differences between brethren.

One recommendation made by the grand master is that the Committee on Ritual revise the Burial Ceremony, and the statement is made that this ceremony should not dwell so much upon death and the grave as upon life, the value of fraternity and the hereafter. The grand master is right and is to be commended for his wisdom in this respect.

The grand master also recommends that the general regulations of the grand lodge be codified and brought up to date.

A number of corner stones were laid and temples dedicated by the grand lodge during the year.

Dispensations were also issued for the formation of five new lodges, one of which was named in honor of Calvin W. Prather, deceased grand secretary.

The charter of one lodge was revoked for the reason that the lodge had not met for a period of two years and was unable to confer any of the degrees.

The grand master states he found it necessary to suspend the charters of a number of lodges during the year, due mainly to the fact that many of these lodges were not properly functioning. Brother Schweitzer seems to think that in the rural districts there are too many small lodges located too near each other and that with the lack of material it is extremely difficult for these lodges to exist.

The list of lodges which were disciplined by the grand master is a long one, showing that he proposed to bring Masonry up to a high standard during the year, and such lodges as failed to meet this standard might prepare for their demise. One lodge in particular was disciplined for permitting the White Shrine to meet in its building. The statement is made that under the laws of Indiana none but legitimate Masonic organizations can meet in Masonic lodge rooms.

The grand master refused to approve an amendment to lodge by-laws exempting the secretary and tyler from the payment of dues.

One decision rendered was that a lodge of instruction can only be held by a subordinate lodge. The grand master very forcibly rules against degree teams not sponsored by some particular lodge and holds that all of the members of a degree team must be in good standing in one lodge.

Concerning the matter of lodge dues, the attention of the grand lodge is called to the fact that over 100 lodges in Indiana charge annual dues of $2.00 or less. The grand master thinks the subject is one of sufficient importance to receive the recognition of the grand lodge and recommends the fixing of the minimum amount of annual dues that may be charged.

The playing of card games as well as pool and billiards on Sunday is severely condemned and a recommendation made that all Masonic lodges operating club rooms be required to close them on the Sabbath day.

Attention is called to the fact that subordinate lodges must retain and maintain complete jurisdiction over all rooms or quarters used or occupied by the lodge for business, ritualistic or social purposes.

Begging and soliciting in Masonic lodge rooms and among Masons is severely condemned and a recommendation made that a larger number of rituals be given to each lodge in order that more brethren may have an opportunity to study the ritual of the fraternity.

The grand treasurer gives his total receipts as $53,864.00 and expenditures as $40,788.00. The grand secretary's report goes largely into matters of detail and sums up the various matters which passed through his hands during the year.

The year under review must have been a prosperous one for Indiana, for the number raised is given at 11,391 and the present membership 108,021.

One of the pleasing features of the grand lodge was the presentation of a building at the Masonic Home erected by the Scottish Rite and which cost $150,000.00. This is a very forcible example of Masonic co-ordination and shows what may be accomplished when all Masonic institutions labor together for a common cause.

The report made by the Board of Managers of the Masonic Home is interesting and shows Indiana is doing its full share toward caring for the helpless members of the fraternity as well as looking after the orphans of deceased Master Masons. The total number in the home is given at 205.

Quite a long report is made by the grand lecturer, Herbert A. Graham, in which he gives a resume of his official acts as grand instructor for the Grand Lodge of Indiana.

The Committee on Jurisprudence present a report which is pretty well split up. The committee are of the opinion, however, that the question of annual dues should be left entirely with the individual lodge. The question of furnishing additional rituals to each subordinate lodge was approved. The question of appointing a committee to prepare a new Masonic funeral service received approval. The question of closing Masonic club rooms on Sunday was endorsed by the committee. The grand master was sustained in the stand which he took forbidding lodges to use two lodge rooms at the same time.

The Grand Lodge of Panama was formally recognized, after which the grand lodge adjourned for the annual dinner.

The Grand Lodge of Indiana proposes to build up an endowment fund for the Masonic Home, for an amendment was adopted exacting a fee of $5.00 for each candidate initiated which amount is to be paid by the lodge which the candidate joins.

A resolution endorsing the public schools of Indiana was adopted with great enthusiasm.

The installation of officers and the presentation of the customary jewel closed this very interesting session.

Elmer F. Gay, past grand master, writes the correspondence report, which is brief and to the point. He gives Illinois one and one-half pages of consideration, quoting all that Grand Master Fitzgerrell said concerning the Grotto and quotes a paragraph concerning the Jacob Ruehl case, from which it is apparent the action taken by this grand lodge is thoroughly endorsed by Brother Gay.

Omar B. Smith, G.M., Rochester.

William H. Swintz, G.S., Masonic Temple, Indianapolis.

IRELAND, A. F. & A. M.

On St. John's Day, December 27, the grand lodge appears to have held a stated communication. The deputy grand master delivered quite a long address in which he discusses various matters of interest to the craft in that jurisdiction, indulging largely in reminiscence and historical reference. At the conclusion of his address a resolution was adopted endorsing the work of Sir Charles Cameron, C.B., who recently retired from the office of deputy grand master.

The deputy grand secretary submits a report covering numerous items which passed through his office during the year. He announces the publication of a volume containing the names of 5600 brethren belonging to the lodges of Ireland who were engaged in the war. The grand secretary reports a number of amendments to the by-laws which had been adopted at the December communication of the grand lodge and pronounces the establishment of eighteen new lodges.

The supervisors of the various jurisdictions make reports to the grand secretary which are printed in full in the proceedings and show the craft to be in a prosperous condition. The grand secretary announces that it is impossible for him to give the exact financial record of the grand lodge for the year of 1919, but that such figures as are available show that the income was greater than that of any preceding year.

The Grand Lodge of Ireland does its full share of charitable work, for it maintains a splendid school for the education of the children of its indigent members.

There is no correspondence report connected with the very brief pamphlet which is in the hands of the reviewer and a complete resume of the grand lodge is difficult from the very terse manner in which its transactions were recorded in the proceedings.

The Rt. Hon. the Earl of Donoughmore, K.P., M.W.G.M., Ireland.

Right Hon. Lord Dunalley, R.W. G.S., Ireland.

KANSAS, A. F. & A. M. 1921

The city of Wichita had the pleasure of entertaining the Grand Lodge of Kansas, assembled in the 65th annual communication. The sessions were held in the banquet hall of the Scottish Rite Temple. Immediately after the opening ceremonies, announcement was made of a ruling to the effect that no mileage would be allowed to anyone who was not present at all of the sessions unless excused for good and sufficient reasons.

Albert K. Wilson, grand secretary, was seriously ill and unable to be present. The roll call disclosed the presence of the grand representative of Illinois, Richard E. Bird. The total attendance on the grand lodge was 799. The first business of importance was the annual address of the grand master, Alex A. Sharp. He said that the year had been a busy one fraught with bitter and sweet, the latter predominating. The net gain in membership is given as 7,420 and the present membership 62,992. One recommendation made by the grand master was that all lodges that had photographic copies of their charters be instructed to destroy them. Three lodges suffered losses of their entire property by fire during the year.

The grand master laid five corner-stones, none of them, however, being for Masonie buildings. One Masonic lodge hall was dedicated according to the ancient ceremonies of the Craft.

The grand master states that he issued a considerable number of dispensations to confer degrees out of time and collected $505.00 as fees therefor. The grand lecturers are commended very highly. They are spoken of as deliberate and accurate and that they display dignified courtesy.

The grand master made quite a number of visitations to the lodges of his district but states that it was impossible to attend as many functions as he would have liked. One recommendation which the grand master made was that a copy of the Monitor be presented to every newly raised Master Mason. The necessity for Masonic trials is seriously deplored.

The grand master states that the only thing in which he finds consolation is the fact that there are so few trials in proportion to the large membership in the State. The writer likes what he said concerning the physical qualifications of candidates and takes the liberty of quoting: "It seems to me that during the generations of the recent past, there have been such changes in the world's progress, in the occupations of man, that the reasons for the original rule of excluding all maimed petitioners no longer exists. That speculative Masonry with its beautiful lessons and ceremonies might well be broadened to include those that in a degree have been impaired in their usefulness for manual labor, and that those who work mentally, though physically impaired, may be privileged to commune with those who work manually, and that a defect in one's manual or physical qualifications may not be as serious as a defect in one's mental and moral qualifications."

The grand master reports a total of 156 in the Masonic Home during the year. Soon after his installation grand master Farreely issued a letter to the lodges of his jurisdiction in which he set forth very explicitly just what he expected from them in the way of the work and other details. The decisions which he submits are very few.

The subject of dancing came up for consideration. One lodge which had erected a magnificent temple and was permitting dancing in the dining room, came in for the attention of the grand master with the result that the following decision was rendered:

"There is no distinction or difference in the application of Masonic Law, between a lodge room and any other room of a Masonic Temple or building, whether such other room is above, below or alongside of the lodge room, in such building owned or controlled in whole or in part by the Lodge and used exclusively for Masonic purposes. A part of a Masonic building cannot be erected and dedicated to God and a part to frivolous entertainment. It is therefore unlawful to use any part of such Masonic Temple or building, 'for dancing purposes' or to form or maintain a 'dancing department' or 'headquarter dancing department' in any part of such building, or to hold entertainments of any kind therein, to which an admission or other fee is charged or collected.''

The fraternal relations of the Grand Lodge of Kansas with the Masonie world are represented to be most cordial.

The grand treasurer gives his total receipts at $78,929.00 and disbursements $88,861.00. The report of the grand secretary, Albert K. Wilson, is quite a long one and goes much into detail concerning the affairs of his office. His report together with the various tables which he presents covers almost fifty pages. Kansas maintains a most creditable library, for the report of the librarian which was presented was that the work of that department is growing and is finding favor among the Craft.

During the session of the Grand Lodge the children from the Masonic Home appeared on the platform where they executed a march and sang a patriotic song. They were given an enthusiastic reception. The oration was delivered on the afternoon of the second day, the grand orator being Clarence E. Pile. He delivered a most excellent address which no doubt found favor with the brethren. The Grand Lodge of Kansas held an evening session on the second day at which the work was exemplified by the grand lecturer. In order to provide more money for the maintenance of the Masonie Home, the grand lodge adopted an amendment requiring a fee of $5.00 on each candidate raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason.

The report of the secretary of the Masonic Home is a long one in which there is detailed every matter connected with that institution.

The Committee on Chartered Lodges make an interesting report showing that they are very eareful in checking up the annual returns of lodges and arranging statistical matters. The Special Committee on Masonic Usages and Customs makes a report but fails to agree with the grand master that there should be any change in the law on physical qualifications.

A recommendation from the grand secretary to change the time of the meeting of the grand lodge to one month later did not find favor with the Committee on Usages and Customs. They seem to think that such a change would be to favor the lodge in the matter of extending latitude in the matter of reports. The Committee on Jurisprudence brought in quite a long report in which they approve practically all of the decisions of the grand master and made several other recommendations. They could see no reason for changing the present law on physical qualifications and expressed the belief that all members of the fraternity should be perfect in limb and body.

The matter of joining the Masonic Service Association was referred to the council of administration with the request that a thorough investigation be made and a report presented at the next meeting of the grand lodge.

The installation of officers and the presentation of the jewel were features of the closing hours of the session.

The report on Foreign Correspondence is prepared by Albert K. Wilson. He treats Illinois very generously, giving it three and one half pages of kindly and courteous consideration. He quotes liberally from the address of Grand Master Fitzgerrell and seems to agree with a great deal that he said concerning the Grotto. Brother Wilson comments at considerable length one paragraph, which is reproduced herewith:

"The action of the grand master was approved by the grand lodge and we feel justified in adding just one more stamp of approval from the Sunflower State. The writer of this report was importuned and accepted an invitation a short time ago to attend an entertainment given by one of the ladies' organizations who hold their meetings in one of our Masonic Halls, and while the entertainment was not given in the Hall proper, but in the banquet room, it was advertised and known as a 'Masonic' circus and it certainly was even more than that, as the old 'midway' of the ancient days of the World's Fair for din and noise, could scarcely be used as a comparison and in the midst of the revelry, one of the tables which was used as a place for resting, gave way and two of the ladies were badly injured. And all of this was improperly credited to 'Masonry.'"

He comments on one or two paragraphs in the correspondence report of 1920 and seems to think that the historical records as kept by the Grand Lodge of Kansas are beyond criticism and believes that the system of instruction in vogue in that State cannot be surpassed.

Albert K. Wilson, G.S., Topeka.

KENTUCKY, F. & A. M.

1920

The 120th annual communication was held in the Masonic Temple at Louisville commencing Tuesday, October 19. The Committee on Credentials reported a constitutional quorum present after which the grand master, Henry S. McElroy, delivered his annual address. He states that during the past twelve months only three eases of discord arose and none of them were of serious moment.

The grand master reports the settlement of a law suit which arose because ice from the Masonic Temple broke and an adjoining structure received considerable damage. The owner sued for $800.00 and the matter was finally compromised by the payment of one-half the amount.

The grand master reported approval of the bonds of the secretary and treasurer in the sum of $10,000.00 each.

During the year, five corner-stones were laid, most of them being for structures other than Masonic and one Masonic lodge room was formally dedicated.

The grand master stated that he granted 162 dispensations to confer the Entered Apprentice degree on more than five at one time. He recommends to the grand lodge that this regulation be repealed. Among the dispensations refused by him was one permitting a lodge to join in an Armistice parade, another dispensation refused was to permit a lodge to hold Masonic services at the grave of a Brother after he had been buried.

The usual number of requests to confer degrees by courtesy were granted and likewise submitted to other jurisdictions.

Masonry in Kentucky gives evidence of prosperity for seven dispensations for the formation of new lodges were issued.

The grand master chronicles his visitations to lodges and gives in detail the various social events which he attended.

He reports the sale of the Masonie Temple in Louisville for the sum of $300,000.00.

The Grand Master finds some fault with the Masonie Service Association principally because it has not earried out its original ideas. The fact that the Association proposes raising the annual dues, leads the grand master to recommend that it withdraw from the Association.

Nine opinions are rendered. All of them are of minor import and contain nothing unusual.

The Widow and Orphans' Home comes in for strong commendation and the grand master states that they are approximating the goal of $1,000,000.00 which soon is to be used in the building of an institution which will be a credit to the Grand Lodge of Kentucky. He warns the grand lodge, however, not to act too hastily and before any final plans are agreed upon the grand lodge will consider both the institutional and the cottage plan. He states they have only one object in view and that is the interest of the widow and the orphan under their charge.

The grand master states that during the year of his administration he declined for most part, invitations to banquets and meetings of pleasure and devoted his entire energy toward the administering of the affairs of his office as well as raising money to help augment the $1,000,000.00 fund.

The Order of the Eastern Star comes in for some commendation and the grand master states that the organization proposes to raise $100,000.00 for some specified building on the site of the new home.

Grand Master McElroy thinks all grand masters should have some distinctive badge whereby they may be known in the Masonie world and he suggested the lapel button and even goes so far as to recommend that a committee be appointed to select and purchase a button for each past grand master.

The grand treasurer reports total receipts of $140,857.00 and disbursements of $141,196.00.

The grand secretary, Dave Jackson, makes one of his characteristic reports and goes considerably into detail concerning the affairs of his office. He gives the total number of Masons in Kentucky at the present time to be 60,021.

One of the pleasing features of the Masonic session was an entertainment given by the children of the Masonic Home at 2:30 o'clock P. M., on the first day. It is needless to say that the Brethren enjoyed this most delightful affair.

The Masonic Employment Bureau of Louisville make a most interesting report. Two hundred eighty-nine applied for positions of which number 231 were satisfactorily placed. It cost the grand lodge the sum of $1,078.00 to carry on this good work.

The Grand Lodge of Kentucky has a special committee known as the Educational Trustees. They are creating a fund to be used in the education of the children of deceased Masons. During the year of 1919 forty-four children were helped in the matter of education at a cost to the grand lodge of $7,569,00.

Brother Thomas R. Marshall, vice-president of the United States, was introduced to the grand lodge and delivered one of his characteristic addresses. The grand secretary in preparing the proceedings, showed the bad taste to add after the name of Brother Marshall "33rd". The writer knows Brother Marshall intimately and believes that if he had his choice he would not wish to have Scottish Rite matters mixed up with the affairs of Ancient Craft Masonry.

The Committee on Jurisprudence present a report covering two pages. They are very generous to the grand master and approve practically all of his actions. This Committee presents no new matter which may be considered of unusual interest.

The report from the Masonic Homes shows a total of 372 members. The Grand Lodge of Kentucky takes great pride in the charitable work it is doing and it has a right to do so.

A resolution was adopted which should make the lodges of Kentucky very careful whom they recommend for admission to the Home. The resolution in substance provided that when an ineligible has been received in the Home and it has later been found necessary to dismiss him, the lodge which was responsible for recommending him be required to pay all expenses of his maintenance during the time he was a charge of the grand lodge.

A proposition to increase the mileage and per diem of representatives was carried over to next year. Nine cases of appeal were presented to the Committee on Appeals. All of these are very briefly discussed by the Committee and their deductions submitted to the grand lodge.

One rather unusual resolution was adopted just before the close of the grand lodge to the effect that a committee be appointed to visit the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star at its forthcoming session and convey to them the sentiments of the grand lodge and at the same time formulate a more definite plan for mutual co-operation between these two bodies.

The Masonic birthday of George Washington received hearty endorsement. The grand master was tendered a vote of thanks and Brother M. P. Molley who had paid dues for fifty consecutive years was made a free member of the fraternity.

A resolution was presented and referred to the Jurisprudence Committee:

"No lodge shall initiate any candidate who has been rejected by another lodge without the recommendation of seven members of the lodge by whom the rejection was made, if it is in existence, of whom three shall be the master and wardens."

The election and installation of officers together with the presentation of the jewel and numerous trophies to the grand master closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is written by William W. Clark, past grand master. It is very brief, covering but seventy pages.

Illinois is considered in one page of kindly review. The principal acts of our session of 1919 are briefly referred to and all that the writer said in his correspondence report concerning "a new requirement" is quoted in full.

This grand lodge held its 110th annual communication in the Scottish Rite cathedral in the city of New Orleans, Monday afternoon, February 14, opening at 3:30 o'clock. The Committee on Credentials record the presence of the grand representative from Illinois.

The first business of importance was the annual address of the grand master, Wynne G. Rogers. In his opening remarks he refers to the general unrest throughout the country and seems to think that one of the great needs of the times is education such as the Masonic Fraternity is able to give. He says that every Masonic lodge must become the center of good influence and wise counsel. Extended tributes are paid to the dead of the jurisdiction and the state of the order is gone into at considerable length. The grand master seems to think that while there is much cause for congratulation due to the large increase in membership, yet the situation is fraught with danger, owing to the fact that carelessness is likely to creep into the general transactions of the lodge. The grand master recommends that a committee on education be appointed to furnish newly raised Master Masons with authentic information concerning the society. A total of 267 requests to confer degrees by courtesy were handled by the grand master. Eleven new lodges received dispensations and a large number of certificates of proficiency were issued to grand lecturers.

The list of dispensations issued by the grand master is a very long one. In looking them over, the writer is unable to find anything out of the ordinary and assumes that the grand master did nothing startling in his issuance of these papers. A full account of the official visitations of the grand master is recorded and shows that he was diligent in his endeavor to accept the hospitality of the lodges of the State.

The Masonic Service Association is endorsed by the grand master and is recommended to the favorable consideration of the grand lodge. Among the dispensations which the grand master refused to issue was one from a lodge which asked permission to tender the use of its lodge room to the Elks for an initiation. He also refused to grant dispensations to hold a joint installation of officers with Royal Arch Chapters as well as chapters of the Eastern Star.

Thirty-three decisions are rendered by Grand Master Rogers, some of them relate to the construction of the law with reference to physical qualifications, while others pertain to the general construction of existing regulations. One decision is rather out of the ordinary and was to the effect that a lodge had a right to circulate a petition to be presented to the governor of the State, asking that a convicted murderer sentenced to be hanged, be brought to immediate judgment.

One of the things discussed by the grand master in his report relates to the new Masonic Temple to be erected in the city of New Orleans. It is expected to expend about $3,000,000.00 and the project is reported as well under way. The grand lodge contemplates building a mortuary chapel where it is supposed Masonic funcrals will be held. The estimated revenue from the building is figured at $339,000.00. In his closing remarks the grand master passes a high tribute to the grand secretary, John A. Davilla, and refers to him as a tower of strength in his department.

The grand treasurer gives his receipts as $106,485.00 and his expenditures $103,047.00. The report of the grand secretary is very largely statistical. The total number raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason as reported by him is 3,378. The net gain in membership is given at 3,384 and the present membership in the State 26,392.

There is maintained in New Orleans a Masonic Relief Lodge which takes care of the wants of those who are in needly circumstances. During the year the sum of $3,866.00 was expended for this purpose. The Masonic hall directors make a report which is very interesting, showing that they are business men of acumen for they propose to proceed with the construction of their new temple and offer a financial plan which seems thoroughly feasible and adapted to carrying the work through to its completion.

The Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence approved practically all of the decisions of the grand master. Two, however, came in for disfavor and were not approved. The oration delivered during the session of the grand lodge was not long and was offered by Doctor Mendel Silver. It was Masonic in character and should have interested the brethren who were fortunate enough to hear it. A very interesting report is presented from the Committee on State of the Order. This committee takes into consideration everything pertaining to the growth and development of the fraternity within the State.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence submitted a report recommending that the relations of the Grand Orient of France be suspended, owing to the fact that this grand lodge has established lodges in the city of New York, also in San Francisco. It seems disposed to invade the jurisdictions of the various grand lodges of the United States.

A resolution providing for one ballot for all three degrees was presented and went to the Committee on Jurisprudence. This committee reported they deemed it unwise to change our present law requiring separate ballots for each degree and recommended that the law remain as it now is.

Quite a long report is made by the Committee on Jurisprudence concerning the status of the widow of a Master Mason who marries a profane. A resolution was introduced forfeiting all her rights to aid and assistance from the Fraternity. The conclusions of the committee are as follows:

"Now if a widow of a Mason abandons the widowhood of her first husband and marries a profane, has she not forfeited that right to the extent that she cannot create an obligation on the Craft that would cause us to be considered as having violated our obligations? We believe not. We think we may owe her a duty the same as to common humanity in distress, but she has forfeited her right as a Mason's widow, which status no longer exists, the same having been voluntarily abandoned. Of course, if this grand lodge sees proper to adopt a regulation on the subject matter it has full power and authority to do so, and we are prepared to accept the judgment and wisdom of the brethren on this important question."

A resolution was introduced that it be permissible to obligate as many as five candidates at one and the same time in the Master's degree. This resolution went to the Committee on Work who verbally reported their approval.

The election and installation of officers closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by John A. Davilla and covers about seventy pages. Illinois is given one half page of very brief consideration. Concerning the jurisdictions, the following comment is made:

"Illinois is a Grand Masonic State. The statements of its membership and the figures involved in the reports of its finances exceed those shown in ours approximately ten times. The different charitable institutions are splendidly maintained and supported and reflect credit upon the grand lodge."

Hollace H. Bain, G.M., Shreveport.

The Grand Lodge of Maryland holds two communications each year. A semi-annual session was held in the Masonic Temple at Baltimore on May 11. The grand lodge was opened in due form by the deputy grand master. With considerable ecremony and pomp the grand master was formally introduced and after his reception distinguished visitors from other grand jurisdictions were accepted and accorded the grand honors of Masonry. The grand master, Charles C. Homer, then read an address to the grand lodge in which his discussed various matters of interest. He gives the total membership of the State as 24,117, showing a net growth for six months of 1,629. He recommends certain changes in the Masonic Temple in order to take care of the constantly increasing growth of lodges, and states that the board of managers have been able to secure additional ground for the future expansion of the present Masonic Temple. The total amount contributed by the Grand Lodge of Maryland to the George Washington Memorial Association is reported to be $13,075.00. The grand master states that if the jurisdiction is to reach its full quota it will be necessary to secure an additional amount of $11,040.00.

The report of the grand secretary and grand treasurer shows the grand lodge to be in a most prosperous condition financially, with ample funds on hand to carry on the work of the grand lodge.

The Board of Relief spent $705.73 in assisting Master Masons who were in want. An amendment providing for a committee of three past masters to review decisions and dispensations made by the most worshipful grand master was defeated. It appears that the State of Maryland believes in the infallibility of its grand master and does not propose to have his acts questioned.

A resolution permitting the use of loose leaf ledgers by secretaries received the approval of the grand lodge. No other business of importance appears to have been transacted at this meeting.

What is called the annual communication was held in the Masonic Temple at Baltimore on Tuesday, November 16. The grand officers were present and representatives of constituent lodges. At this assembly the grand master delivered quite a long address, dealing with matters of interest in the jurisdictions. In his opening remarks he reiterates his intention to depart from the usual custom and to serve only two years as grand master. This is quite an innovation for the State of Maryland for the late Thomas J. Shryock served as grand master for a period of twenty-seven years. This writer is disposed to agree with Brother Homer for the reasons which he sets forth:

"A longer term than two years would, in my judgment, enable the grand master to build an invincible machine were he so inclined, and, furthermore, a longer tenure in office would deter the ambitious and active brother from seeking preferment in this grand body. Hence I do not feel that there is any real justification for a longer term of office than two years, and particularly in the present case, when I feel that the grand lodge has practically determined upon, as my successor, a brother so capable and well equipped to fill the office in an efficient and able manner."

The growth in membership is commented upon and Brother Homer seems to rejoice in the fact that Masonry is prospering as it is. He says:

"I recently heard a grand master state that he was ashamed of the fact that one lodge in his jurisdiction had raised 283 brethren in one year. Frankly, I see nothing in this record to be ashamed of, provided all of the initiates were good men and true. There is, however, grave cause for apprehension, as there is naturally great danger that this enormous influx into Masonry means that many of the brethren have become mere members of the body and not real Masons."

The question of an addition to the Masonic Temple is presented and the grand master is very frank in stating that before this enterprise is undertaken the means of financing the same should be determined. One means of raising funds that he suggested is a charge of $10.00 upon each candidate initiated into the fraternity. A suggestion is made that a committee be appointed to review the proceedings of the past year and to collate all of the decisions approved and resolutions adopted in times past, and indicate same by codification so that members might know just what the law is.

Immediately following the address of the grand master a number of distinguished visitors from other jurisdictions were presented, each of whom addressed the grand lodge, expressing the pleasure that he felt in being able to attend the sessions of the Grand Lodge of Maryland.

Lewis A. Watres of Pennsylvania spoke to the grand lodge on behalf of the George Washington Memorial Association and reported the total amount in the treasury in February, 1920, to be $170,000.00. In speaking of the Temple which is to be erected in memory of Washington the Mason, he has the following to say, and hopes that all Masons may be brought to grasp and understand the true Masonic sentiment which inspired his words:

"Then too, the temple will be a rallying point for Masons of the United States. We have too long spoken as 49 voices instead of one voice. There should never be, in my opinion, a super-grand lodge, but there should be a rallying point in the United States, such as this temple will furnish. And I want to say that it will be a rallying place not only for Masons of the United States, but for Masons of the whole world, and Masons from many lands will come here and see what Masonry has done to keep alive the memory of that great man and that great Mason, the Father of His Country."

The report of the grand secretary and grand treasurer are extended documents in which the full financial transactions of their respective offices are set forth.

The Board of Relief presents a report which is extremely interesting • for it shows that the Brethren of Maryland are not neglecting their less fortunate brothers in times of distress.

The Committee on Grievances report but one case which shows that the craft must have maintained a very happy condition and state of mind during the year. The report of the grand lecturer is of more than passing interest, because he calls attention to the fact that some of the brethren of the country lodges indicate to him that the work of the Baltimore lodges is by no means perfect. The grand lecturer seems to think that the city lodges ought to set an example that would be an inspiration to the smaller lodges in the rural districts.

One amendment to the constitution was adopted, providing for a committee on foreign relations to whom all questions affecting the relations of the Grand Lodge of Maryland with other jurisdictions shall be referred.

At the election of officers, Warren S. Seipp was unanimously elected grand master, and the Grand Lodge of Maryland joined the other grand lodges in going on record for a short term for grand master.

The election of officers closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by Henry Branch. Illinois received two and one-half pages of very generous treatment. Brief comments are made relating to the principal transactions of our grand lodge session of 1919 and a generous extract is taken from the oration of Edward J. Brundage. The reviewer quotes what this writer said concerning physical qualifications in 1919 and concludes the quotations by saying "So say we all."

MASSACHUSETTS, A. F. & A. M.

The proceedings of this grand lodge are voluminous and highly interesting. They are illustrated with portraits of Masons, corner-stone layings, Masonic Temples and other events of vital interest to the Masons of that jurisdiction.

This grand lodge holds quarterly communications. At the session held on March 10, 1920, there appears to have been a very large attendance. The grand master presents a report in which he refers to those who had passed beyond since the last annual communication. He calls attention to the George Washington Memorial Association and states that the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts has not as yet contributed anything towards this enterprise and he asked that the matter receive consideration. He states that the year 1919 broke all previous records in the number raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason and warms the Craft that while our portals are open to all the good and true, we ask no man to enter.

He has something to say about Masonic secreey in the following:

"Whether it came there by design or accidental carclessness cannot be said, but it at once emphasizes the importance of keeping our lodge notices from the eyes of those who have no right to see them. Our members, and especially the younger Masons, should be admonished to guard the secrecy of our notices. It seems trite to dwell upon what are well known Masonic laws, but it is a fact that in recent years they have been honored almost more in the breach than the observance. Masonic matters are freely talked over on the street, in the trolley cars, and in the home. News of rejection is often heard of by the man affected and from the lips of non-Masons before he receives his official notice. Not many years ago I was present at a trial in another jurisdiction of a Mason on a charge of revealing the action of the lodge with respect to the ballot on candidates. He was found guilty and the penalty of indefinite suspension was imposed."

Five dispensations were issued for the formation of new lodges and the subject of careless investigation of candidates is presented together with a form for each candidate to fill out when he petitions for the degrees.

Grand Master Prince does not believe in applause during ceremonial work and does not hesitate to condemn the practice. The general charities of the grand lodge are reported to be in a most excellent condition.

Melvin M. Johnson from the committee on cipher rituals reported that the law had not been changed and asked for further time for the committee to complete their deliberations. The committee on size of lodges were likewise granted further time to complete their report.

A number of items appeared in the proceedings concerning business transactions but all were of purely local interest. The second quarterly communication was held June 9, 1920. At this meeting the grand master's address opened with tributes of respect to the dead of the jurisdiction. He refers to the foreign relations as being very unsatisfactory. He states that while some foreign grand lodges have been officially recognized, others have been refused recognition and in many cases no action has been taken. He asks that a committee be appointed to take up this question and to determine just what grand lodges should be recognized and which should not.

He speaks of Masonic funeral ceremonies in the following paragraph:

"The right of every Mason to be buried according to the rites and ceremonics of the Craft is well established. It is sad and sometimes shameful to witness the unwillingness of lodge officers to perform this service and to note the meager attendance of the brethren on such occasions. The officers of a lodge should consider it a solemn duty and sad privilege to officiate at the funeral of one of our brethren. They should consider attendance upon this duty as binding as any other and the brethren ought at least to show their respect for the institution by giving a few moments of their time in attendance on the last rites over one whom they have been pleased to call their brother."

He commends the Samuel Crocker Lawrence Library and condemns the chain letter folly and reports various acts performed by him. Grand Master Prince believes that the fees and dues of lodges should be in accordance with the conditions of our times and presents a table in which he shows the amount of dues which are collected in each lodge as well as the fees exacted from candidates. He comments as follows:

"Information has recently come to me of one lodge which has adopted these rules: Only ten petitions can be accepted in any year. Fees are placed at $150.00 and dues at $10.00 per year. None of the lodge funds can be used for banquets, which are paid for by individual members, excepting only the Annual Members' Night. This lodge is fortunate in having a very high percentage of attendance at communications."

The grand master has been very liberal in the granting of dispensations for the formation of new lodges, because he states he believes that Masonry is better exemplified in the small lodge than in the large lodge. He says something about lax attention to the grand lodge communications and very pertinently asks: "Since when has the secretary become the judge of what matters shall be called to the attention of the master and the brethren, and by what official authority does he assume to smother grand lodge communications in his waste basket?"

The committee on size of lodges presented the following amendment to the by-laws:

"A lodge located within the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and having over 200 members shall from its own candidates make not more than thirty-five Masons in any fiscal year (September 1st to August 31st, inclusive). Such a lodge having over 600 members shall not make more than thirty Masons; having over 1,000 members, not more than twenty-five."

A number of eases of discipline came before the grand lodge from which it is apparent that those Masons who deserted their wives and children met with the wrath of the grand lodge for most of them were expelled. The third quarterly communication was held September 8, 1920. At this meeting, Charles C. Homer, Grand Master of Masons in Maryland was present and was duly received and accorded the grand honors of Masonry. The grand Master, Arthur D. Prince, again calls attention to the chain letter. He recommends that every lodge insert in its monthly notices a warning against chain letters of every description. Grand Master Prince makes the following comment in his address but just exactly what inspired the paragraph is not apparent:

"Masonry in Massachusetts has recently taken a public stand in support of sovereignty of law. Its prosperity has received a good deal of publicity. Hence it is possible that those who do not believe as we do are using underhand means to block our progress. Of course any such movement is bound to fail. It will defeat its own purpose in stimulating the minds of men and urging those who desire to unite with other men who believe in the rights of man to 'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness,' to present themselves at our doors for admission. Still, it is well that we should be warned of what is going on. The information was recently brought to me that the reputations of men, of whom it was known by some breach of Masonic secreey that they had made application for Freemasonry, were being blackened by a systematic plan carried out by men unfriendly to the institution. It is therefore necessary that every applicant should have a careful investigation and that all stories against his character should be followed to their sources. It is also just as important for every member to scan the list of petitioners with care and if he has heard anything inimical to the petitioner at once to acquaint the master of the lodge."

He believes that Masonic clubs should be treated in a broad spirit and where they show evidence of working out the real plan of Masonry, they should be encouraged. No business of importance appears to have been transacted at this session,

The last quarterly communication was held December 8, in the city of Boston in the Masonic Temple. At this session the grand master makes one of his characteristic reports concerning the proposed amendment limiting the amount of work which lodges in Massachusetts might do. The grand master states there has been a great deal of favorable and unfavorable comment on the question and recommends a public hearing be held on the subject. He likes the idea of plural membership and says:

"It is fortunate that our Massachusetts brethren who are now residents in other states can, without breaking our regulations, join in the active work of Freemasonry in those communities where the circumstances of life have placed them. It would seem that the advantages of plural membership outweigh its disadvantages and that it furthers rather than hinders the interests of the eraft in general. There must be thousands of Masons, scattered all over the world, who would like to keep up active and responsible interest in the Masonic work, but who are prohibited by the exclusive membership regulation."

He says something about the district deputies and the importance of the stations which they hold. The Masonie Service Association is highly commended and masters of lodges are urged to make liberal use of the Speaker's Bureau.

The financial tables which appear in the proceedings show that the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts is in a highly prosperous condition with numerous charitable, educational and trust funds, all of which are being administered in a way and manner that indicates that this grand lodge has for its leaders some very keen and alert business men.

Grand Master Prince presents a long list of official visitations among which are the Grand Council Royal and Select Masters and the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Massachusetts. At the election of officers Grand Master Prince was unanimously re-elected and other officers were chosen in accordance with the traditions and customs of that grand jurisdiction.

An appropriation for the Masonic Service Association equal to 5 cents per capita was made and the following amendment to the by-laws proposed:

"All written or printed notices of lodge meetings containing any Masonie information beyond the time and place of such meeting, must be sent out in sealed envelopes."

The grand feast was held on St. John's Day, December 27. At this time there was a banquet with numerous addresses and from the proceedings it is apparent that everyone present enjoyed himself to the utmost. There was no report on foreign correspondence as the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts does not exchange representatives with other grand lodges, neither does it appoint a Committee on Foreign Correspondence.

MINNESOTA, A. F. & A. M.

The 78th annual communication opened in the city of St. Paul on Wednesday, January 19. The representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, A. T. Stebbins, is accredited with being present. The first business of importance was the address of the grand master, E. A. Montgomery. He opens by paying a tribute to the dead of his own and other jurisdictions and appealed to the lodges of the jurisdiction to assist the brethren of one lodge in building a Masonic Temple. The total number of contributions amounted to $2,534.00. The following report by the grand master seemed a little bit alarming:

"Very soon after assuming the office of grand master I was informed from reliable sources that certain organizations which were hostile to our present form of American government and our social institutions were planning to have men from their own ranks petition our lodges for Masonic degrees for the purpose, if elected of introducing and spreading their infamous and traitorous propaganda among the members of our fraternity. There is no doubt that such a scheme was not only planned, but was actually attempted to be carried out, and that men who were opposed to the fundamental principles and tenets of Masonry presented their petitions, falsely professing themselves as being qualified to be accepted as and to become Masons."

The grand master states that he issued a warning admonishing lodges to be extremely cautious in the matter of investigating all petitions for the degrees. One lodge was constituted during the year and eight new lodges received dispensations. One Masonie hall was dedicated and the cornerstones of one Masonic building and two school houses laid during the year.

The grand master stated that he esteemed it a great privilege to be called upon to lay the corner-stone of a school house. During the year the new Masonic Home was formally opened and the ceremonies are characterized as being the greatest Masonic event in the history of Masonry in that jurisdiction.

Brother Montgomery states that only two requests for schools of instruction were made during the year and regrets that more lodges do not see the wisdom of holding these schools. He reports having visited thirty-three lodges of the jurisdiction. One hundred seventy-five requests for special dispensations were granted and nineteen refused. Of this number 141 were to permit lodges to hold more than one communication in the same day for the purpose of conferring degrees. Seven sets of new by-laws and 143 amendments to by-laws were submitted to the grand lodge for approval.

He must have been extremely busy and stayed up late nights in examining these proposed changes in law. It is noticed from his report that he was very diligent in this matter for the number of amendments to by-laws disapproved cover two pages. Thirty-eight so-called decisions are rendered, none of them being of unusual importance.

He did decide that it was not improper for lodges to send resolutions of respect to families of a deceased brother who had been suspended from the lodge. A long report is made upon the subject of physical qualifications. The grand master states he was besieged with requests for dispensations to initiate those who had been disabled but that he refused to take the responsibility and held all masters strictly accountable for their actions, according to the provisions of law.

The George Washington Memorial Association is commended and the Masons of Minnesota urged to respond with their quota of finances. The Masonic Service Association is also commended and a long report made of the scope of this particular society. Brother Montgomery states numerous requests reached the Grand Lodge of Minnesota for recognition from various grand lodges from all over the world. He makes the request that the Masonic Service Association take up this subject thoroughly and investigate the character and standing of the several grand lodges desiring recognition and make a report to the grand lodges of the United States.

He makes a report on the subject of printing and refers to the high cost of publishing the proceedings. He says that the craft in Minnesota is prospering and is doing its full share of work.

The grand treasurer gives his total receipts at $61,000.00 and disbursements $27,863.00. The report of the grand secretary is brief and does not trespass upon the functions of the other officials of the grand lodge. Two hundred seventy-two chartered lodges raised 6,259 during the year, giving the grand lodge 5,586 net increase. There are today in the State of Minnesota 45,593 Master Masons in good standing.

The Jurisprudence Committee reported on an amendment which had been carried over from the preceding year, fixing the per diem of representatives at $5.00 per day and mileage equal to actual railroad fare from the location of the lodge to the place of meeting. This committee made another report amending the grand lodge by-laws so that lodges might initiate five candidates at the same time, under dispensation from the grand master but prohibited that official from issuing dispensations to initiate more than ten at the same meeting.

The subject of physical qualifications came up for consideration and an amendment was made to the by-laws permitting the initiation of those who were maimed, provided the person be possessed of physical appliances which would enable him to comply with what the several degrees require of him.

The Grand Lodge of Minnesota maintains a Committee on Masonic Research. It is apparent from the proceedings that this committee was very diligent and did everything that they could to bring the fraternity to a better understanding of the objects and purposes of the Society.

Quite a long report is made on the Masonic Home. This is a new enterprise for the brethren of Minnesota and they seem to be taking hold of it in a way and manner which shows that they propose to maintain an institution that will be a credit to themselves and the fraternity. The report of the Committee on Appeals and Grievances, while not long, gives the names of all defendants as well as the details of the charges which were made against them. All this does not speak well for the fraternity. For the proceedings of grand lodges are by no means confined to officers and members of lodges.

A Committee on Ancient Landmarks made a report in which they approve certain acts of the grand master as being in keeping with the ancient landmarks.

The Committee on Appropriations fixed the salary of the grand secretary at $2,400.00 per year and allowed him an assistant. The Committee on Foreign Grand Lodges concurred with the grand master in his recommendation that the Masonic Service Association be requested to give this subject consideration.

The report on correspondence is from the pen of Irving Todd. He gives Illinois one page of very brief consideration. He refers to the address of Grand Master Fitzgerrell as covering less than twelve pages and he briefly notes the principal items in our proceedings. He makes neither comment nor criticism.

The proceedings under review cover the 103rd annual communication, which opened in the city of Jackson, Tuesday, February 22. Addresses of welcome were delivered to the grand lodge on the part of representatives of both the local fraternity and the Eastern Star Chapter. These were properly acknowledged. The grand chaplain opened the grand lodge with quite a long prayer, which was Masonie in character. The Committee on Credentials report the presence of the grand representative of Illinois, P. H. Murphy.

The first business to attract the attention of representatives was the annual address of the grand master, E. L. Faucette. It did not take him very long to tell the brethren what he had to say, for his address covers only ten printed pages. He declares the mission of Freemasonry to be one of love and enlightenment and its aim the promotion of human happiness. He states that the growth of the lodges has been unusual, the total number of degrees conferred have been more than 11,000, giving the State an increase in membership of 3,171.

The financial condition of the grand lodge is reported to be splendid and mention is made of additional revenue derived from increased fees and dues. The grand lodge is very proud of what it calls its Murphy-Martin Educational Endowment Fund, this sum having reached the grand total of $96,500,00.

Some repairs were necessary to the Masonic Home and the amount expended was $4,725.00. This institution is highly commended for the excellent work which it is doing.

During the year a meeting of the grand lecturer, district deputies and custodians of the work was held. At this meeting the degrees were exemplified and the various officials went back to their districts with a new enthusiasm for the work of the jurisdiction. The grand master states that the schools of instruction which have been conducted in this State have resulted in bringing the work to a degree of proficiency in the ritual that is unsurpassed anywhere else.

Brother Faucette showed the good judgment to render no decisions. He issued dispensations where the exigencies of the case seemed to warrant waiving the law but refused to waive the statutory time for the conferring of degrees, in order to enable some brethren to petition for higher degrees in Masonry, so called.

But one corner-stone was laid during the year, that being of a Masonic Temple. The grand master declined to lay the corner-stone of a sanitarium erected by the Kings Daughters, for the reason that the walls had been completed. The new Masonic Temple at Hattiesburg was dedicated in the presence of a large representation of the craft. Two lodges of Mississippi decided to change their names and the grand master gave official consent. Five dispensations for the formation of new lodges were granted and the charters of four lodges were surrendered, causes not given.

The Near East Relief matter was called to the attention of the grand lodge, and the whole subject placed in its hands. The Masonic Service Association received due commendation and its work is fully endorsed.

The grand secretary, O. L. McKay, is referred to as an encyclopedia of Masonry, as well as a human machine of the most improved type. During the year the grand master visited fifty-two lodges and stated that he was besieged with invitations to visit many more, but for business reasons could not do so. The grand secretary presented a report which goes much into detail and shows the present membership of the lodges of Mississippi to be 26,978.

According to the report of the Committee on Finance, several lodges paid dues and penalties for not complying with grand lodge regulations and in a number of instances the penalties were remitted. The sum of $250.00 was contributed to the Near East Relief fund and the salary of the grand secretary fixed at $1800.00 per annum. The total receipts of the Grand Lodge of Mississippi as shown by the Committee on Audits, were $61,657.58, and the expenditures $36,942.74.

One thing the grand lodge did, which was somewhat unusual, was to elect Melville R. Grant deputy grand master an honorary past grand master of the grand lodge.

The American Legion received the endorsement of the grand lodge and recognition of the Grand Lodge of France was denied, quite a long report being made by the committee which investigated the subject.

It appears from the proceedings that the Grand Lodge of Mississippi attempted to secure a permanent location, for a report from a committee, relating to that subject, was presented and the committee continued. A large portion of the proceedings is taken up with detail matters, relating to the Masonic Service Association. It would appear to the writer that much of this matter is irrelevant and of little interest to the casual reader of grand lodge proceedings.

A Committee on Laws submitted a number of questions which had been answered by them. One was to the effect that the master of the lodge had a right to require an investigating committee to submit a report; another was that all deeds conveying property should be made direct to the lodge under its proper name; another decision was that St. John's Day, December 27, cannot be considered a stated meeting of the lodge at which business may be transacted.

One thing the Grand Lodge of Mississippi did was to adopt an amendment to its by-laws, providing for one ballot for all three degrees. The burial services received some attention during the year and the exclamation,

"Alas, My Brother!" was stricken out and the song "Nearer My God to Thee" was inserted as a part of the service.

The installation of officers closed the session. The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by H. C. Yawn. He accords to Illinois, three pages of very generous consideration. He refers to the prayer of the grand chaplain, Rufus A. White, as being beautiful and soulful. Generous quotations are taken from the address of Grand Master Fitzgerrell. A liberal extract is taken from the oration of Wm. H. Beckman. One thing which Brother Yawn says is that the financial part of the grand secretary's report is very voluminous, in fact his cash book, journal, ledger, and auxiliary books, must have been copied in the proceedings. We are disposed to think that the reviewer has confused the report of the Finance Committee with the report of the grand secretary.

MISSOURI, A. F. & A. M. 1920

The 100th annual communication was held in the city of Kansas City in the Masonic Temple commencing Tuesday, September 21. After the reception of the distinguished visitors and the sending of telegrams to two past grand masters, Julius C. Garrell read his annual address.

He opens by referring to the dead of his own and other jurisdictions and gives a long list of lodges visited by him. He states that he had hoped to visit each of the fifty-nine Masonic districts but owing to business demands was not able to realize his ambition. Three corner-stones were laid during the year. All of them were for Masonic edifices. Dedications of five Masonic Temples took place, all of which were conducted by the grand master.

Two dispensations for the formation of new lodges were granted.

The George Washington Memorial Association was most heartily commended and the State of Missouri urged to raise its quota of $1.00 per member.

Concerning the Masonic Service Association, the grand master recommends that a special committee be appointed to investigate the scope, merit and usefulness of this society and report to the grand lodge.

At a meeting of the grand lodge previously, a committee was appointed to arrange for the centennial observance of the grand lodge of Missouri. It was found that a proper observance would cost approximately $5,000.00. This the grand master did not feel like authorizing and suggested to the committee that they cut their appropriation to $3,000.00.

The Board of Relief and the Employment Bureau are heartily commended for the excellent work they are doing. The Masonic Home receives flattering comment and a recommendation is made that the grand lodge devise ways and means to secure a larger income for this most excellent institution.

Among the dispensations refused by the grand master was one permitting a lodge to celebrate American Legion day.

Brother Garrell also refused to grant authority to solicit funds to assist lodges in their building enterprise.

It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of Missouri does not propose that its lodges shall run heedlessly into debt for five dispensations were issued permitting lodges to borrow money to complete edifices which they had under construction.

Among the recommendations made was one making it a Masonic offense to solicit a Master Mason to take the so-called higher degrees until after he had been a member of the craft for three months.

Four decisions were reported. All of them relate to local construction of law.

The charter of one lodge was arrested and the grand secretary and grand lecturer given encomiums which should make them very proud. The report of the grand secretary is a complete review of the affairs which passed through his office during the year. He gives the net gain in membership as 10,650 and the present number of Master Masons in the jurisdiction as 90,416.

The total receipts of the graud treasurer from all sources were $160,000.00 and his expenditures $158,000.00 showing that the grand lodge is able to keep within its income.

A resolution endorsing the public school system was presented and referred to the Committee on Jurisprudence.

On the evening of the first day, the grand lecturer held a school of instruction and exemplified the work of the first degree as well as the second section of the third degree.

The Committee on Necrology make quite a long report in which they pay tributes of respect to the dead of their own and other jurisdictions.

The report of the grand lecturer goes into detail concerning what was accomplished in the way of instruction and shows that the craft of Missouri is placing a great deal of stress on the subject of ritual.

Wm. F. Kuhn, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Grand Lodges, made quite a lengthy report recommending that the fraternal relations with the York Grand Lodge of Mexico be continued. The committee recommended fraternal recognition of both the Grand Orient of France and the Grand Lodge of France and that action looking to recognition of seven Grand Lodges of Germany be postponed.

The election of grand officers was made a special order for the second day and resulted in advancement of the officers in line.

One of the inspiring events of the occasion was the introduction of Doctor Edwards, ninety-four years of age who has been a Mason for seventytwo years.

The report of the Committee on Appeals and Grievanees was a long one. The names of all defendants are published together with a brief concerning the details of the case under consideration.

The Committee on Jurisprudence approved an amendment to the bylaws exacting a fee of $20.00 from each petitioner for the degrees, same to be used for the benefit of the Masonie Home.

The decisions of the grand master were approved and representatives and committeemen allowed per diem at the rate of $5.00 per day and mileage equaling 5 cents for each mile traveled. This committee also approved an amendment to the by-laws to the effect that every petition for affiliation coming from a petitioner from without the State of Missouri should be taxed the sum of $10.00, the money to be used for the benefit of the Masonic Home.

The Oversees Committee reported receipts of $15,000.00 and expenditures of practically $1,400.00. It was recommended that this money be returned to the donors except in such eases where said donors were willing to turn the amount contributed by them over to the Masonic Home.

A new prayer to be used in the second section of the third degree was presented by the Ritual Committee and adopted. This prayer is quite a radical departure from what some of us have been accustomed to. The writer is disposed to look upon it as far more appropriate.

It appears that the Grand Lodge of Missouri has been investigating its by-laws for a long report is made from a committee appointed for that purpose.

The grand master is allowed a salary of $1,000.00 and traveling expenses not to exceed $500.00. The salary of the grand secretary is fixed at $3,600.00.

A revision of the trial code of the Grand Lodge of Missouri was made during the year. This is submitted in full and adopted.

A motion that the Grand Lodge of Missouri withdraw from the Masonic Service Association was presented and adopted. The principal reason assigned for withdrawal is that the Association appears to have changed its principal object to one of education and research instead of intelligent co-operation in matters pertaining to national or international disaster.

The pay-roll of the Grand Lodge of Missouri amounted to $15,790.00.

A supplemental report from the Committee on Grand Master's address recommends that the sum of $6,000.00 or as much thereof as many be necessary be set apart for the observance of the Centennial of the Grand Lodge of Missouri.

The Employment Bureau or Board of Relief submitted an interesting report showing that during the year 1920, two hundred twenty-four applicants were placed in positions which enable them to earn a sustenance. The total cost of this work to the grand lodge was $4,556.00.

The installation of the officers and the transmission of the grand master's jewel together with the presentation of the past grand master's jewel closed the session.

The report on fraternal correspondence is prepared by Rev. C. C. Woods. Illinois is given two pages of very brief consideration. There is no fault found with any of our transactions from which it is assumed that Brother Woods is satisfied with what we did. Two quotations are taken from the address of Grand Master Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, one relating to outside organizations and the other to German speaking lodges.

Brother Woods thinks that the reviewer did very well to condense his report into 176 pages and remarks that the work is worthy of even more space than was used.

MONTANA, A. F. & A. M.

The proceedings are prefaced with a number of accounts of special communications which were held for the purpose of constituting lodges, dedicating Masonic Temples and laying corner-stones.

The fifty-sixth annual communication was held in the city of Missoula and began at 9:30 A. M. on Wednesday, August 18, and concluded the following Thursday.

The Committee on Credentials reported all the grand officers in their stations and places, but the list of grand representatives does not show Illinois to have been represented.

The first business of interest was the annual address of the grand master, W. L. Parmelee. He states that the year has been one of great activity in the grand jurisdiction and that peace and harmony abound on every hand. He declares that Masonry should be a progressive science, and seems to think that indications point to an effort on the part of the fraternity to serve mankind. He pays a tribute of respect to the fraternal dead and reports seventy-nine requests received by Montana lodges to confer degrees by courtesy, and says that Montana lodges made ninety-five requests to other lodges. Three lodge were constituted during the year and nine dispensations issued for the formation of new lodges.

The grand master reports eighteen official visits to the lodges of his jurisdiction and reports the laying of corner-stones for two Masonie Temples and one Shrine Temple. He refused to issue a dispensation to a lodge to meet on Sunday and attend the corner-stone ceremonics of a deaconess hospital.

The grand master reports one thing which the Grand Lodge of Montana does which is somewhat out of the ordinary, in that it permits the grand master to assign an instructor to a lodge rather than allow the lodge to select whomsoever it chooses. The grand master recommends that permanent quarters be selected for the office of the grand secretary. He also recommends that a building fund be created to assist weaker lodges in constructing Masonic Homes of their own and that the sum of $1.00 per member be set aside each year to be placed in such a fund. Grand Master Parmelee rendered ten decisions, almost all of them were of local character and pertained principally to the construction of existing laws. One decision which he made is sensible and logical, it being that the master may select any member of the lodge to confer any of the degrees.

The grand master was not able to attend the George Washington Memorial Association when it held its meeting but he gives it favorable mention and states that he was represented by proxy. He endorses the Masonic Service Association and reports a long list of speakers who were selected to visit the lodges of the State in accordance with the plans of the Association.

A splendid tribute is paid by Grand Master Parmelee to the grand secretary, Toby Hedges, and he states that he was under great obligations to that official, which he wishes to publicly acknowledge. Both the senior and junior grand wardens and senior grand deacon presented reports concerning visitations made by them. The grand treasurer gives his receipts for the year as $35,178.52, the expenditures being $29,487.78. The Trustees of the Masonic Homes make long reports of the receipts and disbursements made by them. The report is complete in every respect and shows the very careful manner in which the affairs of the Home have been administered.

The Board of Relief submitted a report which is more than interesting, from the fact that it contained an item of loans made to twenty-eight Masonic farmers, the total being $6,700.00.

Brother E. M. Hutchinson who attended the annual meeting of the Masonic Service Association, presents a long report in which he sets forth the objects and purposes of that society. The grand lodge paused long enough in its proceedings to receive the representatives of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite, the Grand Master of Royal and Select Masons, the Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons and the Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar.

A resolution was offered extending recognition to the Grand Bodies of France. This, however, was not adopted and the question of recognizing French Masonry was referred to a special committee of five, who were directed to report at the next session of the grand lodge. The recommendations of the grand master for the creation of a building fund to be raised by an assessment of $1.00 per capita for the assistance of the weaker lodges of the State in the matter of procuring Masonic Homes, did not receive the approval of the grand lodge. A motion was made that the matter be referred to a committee of five but a substitute motion was later made that the recommendation of the grand master be concurred in and the Committee on Jurisprudence be instructed to prepare suitable amendments to the by-laws covering this particular subject.

One item of interest which is reported, is that of the initiation of Ham Kee Chin, the first Chinaman to receive the degree of Masonry in Montana. The installation of officers and presentation of the signet ring closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by H. S. Hepner, past grand master. He quotes all that Grand Master Fitzgerrell said concerning organizations, other than Masonic and pronounces the oration of Edward J. Brundage as a masterpiece of terse sentences, full of thought. Nearly two pages are quoted from the oration. He compliments the Illinois reviewer by saying that his reviews are well considered and worthy of perusal by all Masonic students.

NEW JERSEY, F. & A. M.

The annual communication was held in the city of Trenton on April 20 and 21.

The representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, Richard C. Woodward, is recorded among those present. Of the lodges of the State 209 were represented while five were not, a most excellent showing.

The grand lodge was opened in ample form and after the usual preliminaries such as the singing of Old Hundred and the introduction of distinguished visitors from other jurisdictions, the grand master, Cooper H. Prickitt, delivered his annual address. His report is not long and he gets to the gist of matters in a very clear, concise and pointed manner.

Among the first things reported by him was the issuance of a letter to the lodges of the state calling attention to certain practices which tend to impair the dignity of the work and he asks for the immediate abandonment of all frivolity, coarseness and ungentlemanly conduct. He states there has been very little occasion for the exercise of discipline during the year and refers to the affairs of the Masonic Home as being most prosperous and satisfactory.

He reported the appointment of a committee to solicit funds for the George Washington Memorial Association and recommends the continuance of membership in the Masonic Service Association.

Warrants were issued for the formation of six new lodges. The grand master refused to issue a dispensation to form a lodge in Atlantic City but the reasons are not given.

The statement is made that 270 applications were presented to the grand master, relating to physical defects, 244 were waived, 16 refused, and 10 are now pending. Several decisions are reported, two of which are of more than passing interest.

One decision was to the effect that a lodge room dedicated to Masonic purposes may be used by the Chapter, Council and Commandery.

Concerning the practice of the worshipful master and two brethren opening the lodge for the purpose of conducting a Masonic funeral the grand master decided that the ritual prescribes the number necessary to open a lodge and suggested a change in the digest making the required number for all purposes to be seven.

One Masonic district was granted entire concurrent jurisdiction.

The matter of restoring the charter of Schiller lodge which was revoked because of its strong German tendencies was presented to the grand lodge with the recommendation that the request be referred to a committee.

Eleven petitions for the formation of new lodges were presented in open grand lodge and referred to the Committee on Dispensations and Warrants.

The grand treasurer gives his total receipts as $195,000.00 and expenditures as $183,000.00. The report of the grand secretary goes much into detail in the matter of figures.

The total number raised during the year was 7,794, giving the Grand Lodge of New Jersey a net gain of 7,170. The present membership is 62,253.

Immediately following the report of the Committee on Necrology a special ode called the Necrology Ode was sung by the grand lodge.

The Committee on Constitution and By-laws apparently had a busy year for they report the examination of 147 amendments to the by-laws of subordinate lodges as well as 12 new sets of by-laws.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence recommended the recognition of the Grand Lodge of Hayti.

The Masonic Employment Bureau of New Jersey presented a report which is interesting as it goes much into detail. During the year under review, 257 applicants were placed in positions and the total carning capacity of these same applicants was $674,320.00.

The grand lodge went on record as thoroughly endorsing the George Washington Memorial Association as well as the Masonic Service Association.

On the second day the grand lodge was temporarily closed while the children of the Masonic Home were presented and received great applause on the part of the brethren.

The report of the Committee on the Masonic Home is interesting as it goes much into detail concerning the activities of that institution. During the year, the home received bequests to the amount of $22,381.00. From the report it is apparent that the home is performing its work in a most admirable manner and is doing splendid work among the Masons of New Jersey.

The decisions of the grand master were approved by the Committee on Jurisprudence.

The installation and appointment of the various officers closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is written by Robert J. Shirrifs and is brief and to the point. Illinois is given one and one-fourth pages of fraternal consideration. The principal acts of our session of 1920 are briefly mentioned and a liberal quotation is taken from the correspondence report of this writer, the paragraph quoted being that relating to the stabilizing of existing laws. Brother Shirrefs writes a most interesting report and it is a matter of sincere regret that he made it as brief as he has done in his document for 1921.

NEW MEXICO, A. F. & A. M. 1921

The annual communication, the 43rd, opened in the city of Albuquerque, on Monday, February 21. The first act of the grand lodge was to receive an amendment to the by-laws, providing that electioneering for office in the grand lodge shall be deemed a Masonic offense. This resolution went to the Committee on Jurisprudence.

The Jurisprudence Committee made a report that at the last meeting of the grand lodge they were directed to make a revision of the law, but they express the opinion that they are without authority to make any changes or innovations affecting the substance of existing by-laws.

The grand master, Richard II. Hanna, makes a report which is quite long and deals with the various affairs of his office. He takes up considerable space in chronicling the dead of his own and other grand jurisdictions.

Three corner-stones were laid during the year, all of them being for church edifices.

The list of requests to confer degrees by courtesy is an extremely long one. Twenty-four dispensations were granted permitting lodges of New Mexico to occupy Masonic Halls jointly with other orders and societies. Two dispensations were granted to confer the degrees on more than five candidates at one and the same time. But two decisions are mentioned, both of these relating to matters of jurisdiction.

The grand master found time to visit eleven lodges of the jurisdiction and he states that on each of his visits he was accorded a most cordial welcome.

Two new lodges were instituted during the administration of the grand master and one lodge duly consecrated and dedicated.

The George Washington Memorial Association receives favorable comment as does the Masonic Service Association of the United States.

The lodges of the jurisdiction are reported to be in a most excellent condition but the grand master thinks there is a tendency in too many of them to confine their activities solely to the conferring of the degrees and thereby degenerate into mere degree mills.

The grand treasurer gives his receipts as $14,874.00 and his disbursements as $9,774.00.

The report of the grand secretary shows the number raised during the year to have been 528 and the present membership of the lodges of the State 5,276.

One thing the Grand Lodge of New Mexico does is to require that an amendment to the by-laws be read at least three times before final action is taken. This ought to insure everyone a full knowledge of the proposed changes in existing laws.

The Committee on Ways and Means gave the grand secretary an increase in salary of $1,000.00.

The Jurisprudence Committee reported adversely on a proposition that all business be transacted while the lodge was opened on the third degree. The amendment relating to electioneering for office in the jurisdiction was adopted. Illinois has the same rule but it is quite noticeable that when some of the boys want to attack the grand lodge plum tree, they do not hesitate to enlist the assistance of their friends and go after the prize in a vigorous manner.

It is believed that the Grand Lodge of New Mexico will have a hard time to enforce its action on the matter of electioneering.

The grand patron of the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star of New Mexico was introduced and made an address. Grand Patrons may be popular in New Mexico but they are very much in disfavor in Pennsylvania.

The Grand Lodge in New Mexico apparently administers its charity through the pension system, for there is an appropriation made for the widow of a deceased Master Mason.

One thing the Grand Lodge of New Mexico is doing and for which it must be commended, is the fact that it is building up an endowment fund for the education of orphans of deceased Masons.

The report of the grand lecturer is interesting because he states that he gave to the brethren of a proposed new lodge thirty-eight days of instruction. It took quite a long while to pound the work into their skychambers.

A resolution endorsing the public school system of the United States was introduced and adopted.

The installation of officers marked the closing of the session.

The report on correspondence is prepared by John Milne and is considered topically. From Illinois he quotes a paragraph from Grand Master Fitzgerrell's report on the George Washington Memorial Association, also the report of the Committee on the Masonic Service Association, as well as what Brother Fitzgerrell says under the caption, "A Pernicious Practice."

Francis E. Lester, G.M., Mesilla Park.

Alpheus A. Keen, G.S., Albuquerque.

NEW SOUTH WALES, A. F. & A. M.

1920

This grand lodge holds quarterly communications, dividing up its transactions during the year. The first one under consideration was held July 9, 1919. Grand Master William Thompson, makes his customary report in which he condemns the practice of black-balling, and reports the presence of the grand representative of Illinois, William Deavis. No business of any importance appears to have been transacted at this communication.

At a quarterly communication held September 10, the grand master addressed the grand lodge at some length, reporting various official acts and announcing that during the quarter be had issued 154 dispensations, 77 of them were to wear regalia.

One suggestion which was made that the grand lodge erect a tablet in honor of those members of the fraternity who died during the war.

The Grand Inspector of Workings makes quite an interesting report showing that this grand lodge through a system of visitation keeps in close touch with the lodges of its jurisdiction.

The report of the grand treasurer made at this time, shows the treasury to contain over one-half million dollars. The roll of those killed in the war, which appears in the proceedings, is a long one.

At the quarterly communication held December 10, 1919, the grand master reported the constitution of three new lodges, the laying of the corner-stone of a Masonic Temple and the dedication of one Masonic hall. A lodge which advertised a social evening with music, song and dance at so much per for admission comes in for considerable criticism on the part of the grand master who looks upon the act as one being undignified and not consistent with the high character of the fraternity.

One lodge which initiated some candidates that were not physically perfect, received a light sentence but were admonished by the grand master that if the offense was repeated, the charter of the lodge would be arrested.

At the quarterly communication held March 10, 1920, three new lodges were reported as having been consecrated and dispensations issued to the number of 124.

The principal business transacted at this quarterly meeting appears to have been largely routine. Some discussion was manifest concerning constructions of the work which had been made by the Ritual Committee and the grand lodge proceeded to get after that association of individuals.

The last communication under review is dated June 22, 1920. The grand master reports the consecration of three lodges, the dedication of two temples and the laying of the corner-stone of one Masonic edifice.

His country visitations were numerous as were his dispensations issued, which amounted to 148 for the three months passed.

The grand master reports the extending of congratulations to the Prince of Wales because of his reception into the fraternity.

No business in particular appears to have been transacted at this communication. A short resume of general Masonic conditions is given by the Committee on Foreign Correspondence. The regular report appears at the close of the proceedings. Illinois receives two pages of consideration, a liberal extract being taken from the address of Grand Master Fitzgerrell and the various transactions of our grand lodge chronicled in brief.

Concerning the correspondence report of 1910, Brother S. Scott Young makes the following comment, for which this writer returns grateful thanks:

"His reviews of the various grand lodge transactions are excellent, especially his criticisms, and anyone who cannot spare the time to go through them all can keep himself posted in all essentials by reading Brother Darrah's report."

Arthur H. Bray, G.S., Sydney.

NEW YORK, F. & A. M.

The one hundred fortieth annual communication opened in the grand lodge room of the Masonic Temple in the city of New York, on the afternoon of May 3. The report of the Committee on Credentials shows the presence of all grand officers and representatives from nearly every lodge in the State. The grand representative of Illinois does not appear to have been present. It did not take the grand lodge long to get down to actual business.

The first item of interest is the address of the grand master, Robert II. Robinson. He expresses the idea that Freemasonry has a great mission to perform at the present time in counteracting those forces which seem to be invading the peaceable and sane order of things. Tributes of respect are paid to a large number of distinguished Masons, who passed beyond during the year.

Fourteen dispensations were issued for the formation of new lodges, showing that the Grand Lodge of New York is growing rapidly. Among the appointments announced is that of Walter E. Frew of the State of New York as representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois. The grand lodge was assembled eleven times during the year for the performance of official functions and visitations to lodges. On June 26, the grand master assembled his district deputies at the Masonic Home in Utica and held a conference with them, discussing many matters of interest to the craft and much valuable information as to Masonic conditions was laid before the deputies and their duties made very clear.

One matter which the grand master discussed in his address is what he calls congestion of work, due to the large amount of material that is waiting, and has been kept waiting, in order to consummate membership in the lodges. The grand master very plainly states to his grand lodge that while he does not approve of the wholesale initiation of candidates, yet he believes that a way can be found, whereby the burden may be lessened and the real purpose of the fraternity accomplished.

Concerning cipher rituals, Grand Master Robinson makes some very pertinent remarks. He ealls attention to the fact that concerns in New York have grown rich in selling these books to Masons. As a remedy, he suggests that the grand lodge take over the matter and publish its own ritual for dissemination among the eraft. The same condition that Brother Robinson refers to, exists to a large degree right in the State of Illinois, and this writer has always contended that the only way to beat the Cipher Ritual vender is for each grand lodge to take hold of the matter itself, and to issue its own rituals under certain restrictions.

One thing the Grand Lodge of New York has done in the last eight years, has been to reduce the debt on the Masonic Temple from $2,400,000.00 to $700,000.00. The War Relief or Hospital Fund which the grand lodge established last year shows a total of $796,724.68. The grand master estimates that it will cost $150,000.00 per year to maintain and operate the hospital, providing 150 patients are cared for and if the number should go above that, the maintenance cost would be increased accordingly.

The grand master recommended that the Committee on the George Washington Memorial Association be continued. Reference is made to the inauguration of President Harding and the famous bible on which he took his oath, now the priceless treasure of St. John's Lodge of New York City.

Brother Robinson thinks that the Grand Lodge of New York is moving forward along energetic, constructive lines. Reference is made to the work of the Committee on Social and Educational Service. During the year the following list of questions was submitted which are reproduced by the grand master in his address with his comment thereon. The questions submitted in the notice were as follows:

- "Do you believe that our fraternity should be a more active force for good in our community and in our Nation?"
- "Do you believe that Masonic principles could be well applied for our civic and national welfare?"
- "Are you in favor of an applied Masonie Service to God, to Country and to Humanity?"
- "When I read those questions, my brethren, I tested myself and my answer to each of them was unhesitatingly, yes. They do not violate any of the traditions or landmarks of the craft so often alluded to and which I fear are held more in the imagination than in the reality and to me they go back to the spirit of nearly a century and a half ago when the men of our craft who wrote the Declaration of Independence and proclaimed the Constitution of the United States of America, believed in, emulated and openly stood for all that these questions comprehensively command us to be and to do."

The address of Brother Robinson is a document of more than passing interest. There is an absence of time worn platitude and the whole shows a disposition to present the subject of Freemasonry in a plain, practical manner that will result in bringing members of the craft to realize that the institution is of far reaching consequence.

The grand secretary reports the total number raised during the year to have been 22,914. He gives the present membership as 254,282. The grand treasurer gives his receipts as $470,333.00 and expenditures $464,993.00.

The trustees of the Masonic Home and Asylum Fund made a report which is interesting because it shows the magnitude of the work that the Grand Lodge of New York is engaged in.

The State of New York provides for five custodians of the work and it employs one grand lecturer, whose business it is to visit and instruct lodges without cost to the lodge. The grand lecturer has full charge of the work and is vested with full power to appoint assistant grand lecturers to act in the various Masonie districts of the State.

All lodges working under dispensations were given their charters. The Committee on Grievances found something to do during the year, for they report a number of eases which come under their jurisdiction.

The Committee on Appeals report several cases which were presented to them. In nearly every instance the action of the lodge in the premises was sustained.

The grand historian, O. H. Lang, makes a very long report and goes much into detail concerning the history of Masonry in the State of New York.

The Committee on Educational Service held eight conferences during the year which were largely attended and much benefit derived from the various discussions which took place. The total cost of the educational work was $8,561.26. A resolution was introduced, providing for the publication of a cipher ritual, and the appointment of a committee to take charge of same. It is expected that this committee will make a report at the next session of the grand lodge.

The Committee on Jurisprudence had very little to do for the grand master made no decisions.

The Committee on Finance fixes the salary of the grand secretary at $9,000.00 and allowed him, for clerk hire, the sum of $10,600.00. It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of New York believes in properly compensating its officers.

The election and installation of officers closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is written by Wm. Sherer. He gives Illinois one page of condensed review and very briefly mentioned some of the principal things in the address of Grand Master Fitzgerrell. There is absolutely no criticism offered concerning any of our transactions for the year of 1920, and the correspondence report of this writer is referred to as a remarkably fine report on Masonic correspondence, for which compliment Brother Sherer receives grateful thanks.

The city of Invercargill in Victoria Hall had the pleasure of entertaining the grand lodge at its thirty-first annual communication held on Monday, May 3.

The deputy grand master opened the grand lodge in the absence of the grand master who was unable to be present. He sent a letter to the grand lodge expressing his deep regret in not being able to participate in the business of the annual communication.

The election of officers was held early in the session and resulted in the re-election of the present grand master.

The charity of the Grand Lodge of New Zealand appears to be administered through a Board of Benevolence. They make a detailed report to the grand lodge which shows that the jurisdiction is by no means remiss in its duty toward those members of the fraternity and their families who need its assistance. It is apparent that the grand lodge is vigilant in the matter of raising funds, for numerous tables appear which show that every effort is being made to increase the charitable holdings of the body.

The Board of General Purposes appear to have supervision over the grand lodge and to exercise many of the functions which are accorded to the grand master in the United States. They report three new lodges having been formed during the year and refer liberally to various peace celebrations held by Masonic lodges in the jurisdiction. The Board of General Purposes report unfavorably on the matter of recognizing Masonry of France.

It was decided to place a tax upon each past master in order to cover charges for various papers and pamphlets which the grand lodge issued during the year.

The condition of the craft was reported to be thriving so much so that the salary of the grand secretary was increased from $3,000.00 to $4,000.00.

The installation of officers was made quite an elaborate affair and took place in the evening. The grand master, after his installation, made a lengthy address to the grand lodge, taking up matters of importance to the jurisdiction.

He paid his respects to what he called the "unattached Mason" and seemed to be of the opinion that something should be done to bring this individual back into the Masonic fold.

The one hundred thirty-third annual communication was held in the city of Raleigh on Tuesday evening, January 20, the grand lodge opening at 7:30 o'clock. The Committee on Credentials credit P. T. Wilson, the representatives of the Grand Lodge of Illinois with being present.

The first item of interest, according to the usual program, is the annual address of the grand master. He opens by referring to the close of the war and the general effect that must be expected in this country, as a result of the world turmoil. He is very caustic in the following paragraph:

"Coming back to our own Order, we find that Masons are not satisfied with the divine truths inculcated in the symbolic degrees; but they wish to wear the purple of the so-called 'higher bodies.' The Arabic Fez, coupled with a foolish street parade, brings more joy to the modern Mason than all the beauties of the third obligation; and the resurrection of the body pales into insignificance when compared to the alcoholic elevation of the soul. And although we are taught that it is decidedly unmasonic to solicit candidates, yet we find a large number of those 'elevated' gentry going about the State with petitions in their pockets, openly and notoriously begging men to join; and I have no hesitancy in asserting that ninety per cent of the Knights Templar, Shriners and 32d degree Scottish Rite Masons are unable to repeat the obligation of the Master's degree as it is taught by the grand lecturers. I know that this statement will be challenged; but I stand ready for the test."

The Masonic Service Association of the United States is commended and the per capita levy of five cents is suggested by the grand master. He also recommends a per capita tax of fifty cents for the benefit of the George Washington Memorial Association. He calls attention to the Oxford Orphan Asylum and Eastern Star Home and states that the cost of maintaining this institution has been gradually increased from year to year until it is difficult to secure ample funds to carry on the charitable work of this institution. He recommends a tax levy of $10.00 on each initiate, this sum to be used in connection with grand lodge appropriations for the benefit of the Home.

Grand Master Grady seemed to think that some of the grand lecturers had not devoted as much time as they should to the duties of their offices and charged the remissness to the fact that proper per diem is not allowed. He recommended as follows:

"That no lecturer be allowed his expenses to the grand lodge unless he shall have lectured as much as thirteen full weeks during the year. I further recommend that each grand lecturer, who shall have lectured for thirteen full weeks be paid the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00) by the grand lodge; and a similar sum for each additional ten weeks of work actually done by him."

The grand secretary comes in for most hearty commendation and the recommendation is made that his salary be increased to $3,600.00 per annum.

One case of discipline reported, involves a member of a lodge who had been guilty of selling eigher rituals. It appeared, however, that the lodge of which the miscreant was a member, made frequent use of these books so that the grand master found it quite difficult to secure the prosecution of the culprit. In the trial he was acquitted and the grand master appealed the case to the grand lodge.

He states that he made it a practice, before issuing a dispensation to form a new lodge, to require the employment of a lecturer, and recommends to the grand lodge that hereafter no charters be granted until the petitioning lodge shall present a certificate of proficiency from a grand lecturer. The grand master informs the grand lodge that in the State some lodges charge only forty-five cents per annum as dues. He thinks this should not be allowed and recommends that the minimum dues of all lodges be fixed at $2.50. The decisions reported relate to local constructions of law.

The grand master is to be commended for taking a broad view of the subject of physical qualifications for he recommends the following amendment:

"Amend Section 111 of the Code by striking out all of paragraph (2) thereof, and insert the following: "Maim or deformity shall not prevent a candidate from initiation and advancement, provided such candidate can, by artificial means, comply with the provisions of paragraph (1) hereof."

One of the suggestions which Brother Grady made was the establishment of a Masonic Mountain Resort:

"The idea is to build in some suitable place in the mountains of North Carolina, a Masonic resort where lecturers can teach those who wish to learn at a nominal cost, and where the families of the Masons can find recreation at the least possible expense."

The most interesting paragraph in the address of Grand Master Grady is his announcement of the gift of a beautiful Masonic Temple. The offer came from Isaac Emerson of Baltimore, a native of North Carolina, who offers to build the Temple as a memorial to his father and mother. It is proposed to have a grand lodge room in the temple where the grand lodge may meet and transact its business. This announcement is real refreshing for here is an example of one Mason who has grasped the inner meaning of the fraternity and has set an example which other wealthier men ought to emulate. The grand treasurer reports receipts of $40,886.00 and disbursements of $46,890.00.

The grand secretary's report is quite extensive and deals with many matters which passed through his office during the year. He announces that 2,053 were raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason and states the present membership of the State to be 30,912.

The grand lodge paused long enough in its proceedings to listen to a splendid oration which was delivered by "Honorable" Geo. B. Cowper. The writer would have much preferred the word "Honorable" dropped and the word "Brother" substituted therefor. It would have been a little more in keeping with the democracy of the fraternity.

The grand lodge seemed to find favor with the grand master's recommendations for a Masonic retreat, a committee of seven being appointed to investigate the merits of the proposition and report to the grand lodge.

Quite a long report is made by the Board of Directors of the Masonie Home. Incorporated therein is an itemized amount of work done by the dentist which shows that the Grand Lodge of North Carolina does not propose to have the teeth of its charges neglected.

The Committee on the Masonic Burial Services reported a slight change by way of an addition of a paragraph which is word for word the same as used by the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

One of the very long reports is that from the committee which attended the meeting of the Masonie Service Association. The grand lodge approved all that the committee presented. The grand lodge operates under the budget system, for the Finance Committee came in and assigned certain sums for the various departments of the grand lodge and it is assumed that they will be expected to keep within their appropriations.

The election and installation of officers was the last act of the grand lodge. There is no report on foreign correspondence, other than a brief resume which was presented to the grand lodge during the proceedings.

NORTH DAKOTA, A. F. & A. M. 1920

This grand lodge convened for the thirty-first time on Tuesday, June 15, in the auditorium of the Masonic Temple at Fargo. The proceedings are reported to have been the most progressive and far reaching in recent years. The preliminaries consisted of singing America, presentation of the Stars and Stripes and singing of the Star Spangled Banner and the reception of distinguished visitors. The grand master, Amil P. Lanhart, presented his address and opened by saying that there never was a time in the history of our country when there was a greater need for Masonic influence and service than there is today. He states that misunderstanding and unrest exists everywhere and that Masonry can do one thing and that is to see that the principles of the Declaration of Independence are preserved. He states that good citizenship is good Masonry.

He reports no decisions, stating that nothing was presented to him of such importance to dignify them. The usual number of by-laws for constituent lodges were approved and four circular letters issued upon subjects which the grand master desired to present to his lodges. He refers to the division of the State into districts and commends the splendid work of the district deputies. One lodge was constituted and the Masonic cottage which the grand lodge maintains at the North Dakota State Tuberculosis Sanitarium is mentioned as playing a very important part in the care of those who are afflicted and are in search of help. The Masonic Service Association is presented to the grand lodge and two cents per capita membership levied. The George Washington Memorial Association receives favorable mention and carnest consideration of the grand lodge is asked for. An amendment, making the past masters members of the grand lodge and the payment to them of mileage and per diem was offered.

The grand master seemed to think that the lodges of North Dakota were initiating classes which were entirely too large, stating that it was not unusual for a lodge to put through as high as forty candidates at one time. He recommends that the law be changed so that a lodge shall not be permitted to initiate more than five candidates at one or the same time. He also recommends that all candidates raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason be required to pass examination in the third degree. A recommendation was also made that the grand lodge dues be increased from 75 cents to $1.00 per capita, and that the sum of $5.00 be levied as a tax upon each entered apprentice degree conferred.

long one and goes much into detail concerning certain affairs that the grand secretary handled during the year. The number raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason was 760 and the net gain for the year 713.

The grand lodge maintains a library and museum for a report was made from the librarian which was quite interesting. The number of books circulated is given in detail and shows that the members of the fraternity were quite diligent in securing Masonic information.

Quite a long report is made concerning North Dakota Military Lodge No. 2. This lodge operated during the war and accomplished a great deal of good among the soldiers who were overseas.

The grand lecturer reports that he devoted a great deal of time to the work of revising the ritual, and that the matter is now in presentable shape to receive the attention of the grand lodge. The ritual as revised was ordered in 2,000 copies, to be printed in cipher form.

The grand lodge also took up the matter of the menitor and made certain additions thereto which were deemed for the best interests of the lodge and the candidates.

The Masonic Service Association is approved and report made to the grand lodge. In this report is a somewhat severe criticism by the grand secretary, which reads as follows:

"North Dakota views with wonder the furious and unreasonable attitude of our brethren of Illinois and Washington. The persistence with which they dig up ghosts and skeletons of general grand lodges, which have been positively and finally laid to rest by the Masonic Service Association, would lead us to believe that there is no such thing in their minds as honesty of Masonic purpose. How any fair-minded man and Mason could desire to block the development of a unified Masonic spirit in America, passes comprehension, especially in the light of our war experiences and the persistent and unified efforts of the enemies of Freemasonry in America. The Masons of Illinois and Washington, that is the rank and file, feel just as the rank and file of Masons do everywhere in the United States and sooner or later their leaders will find it out."

It is apparent that Brother Stockwell is very much wedded to the Masonie Service Association idea. The George Washington Memorial Association comes in for favorable mention and the sum of $4,265.00 was collected for that enterprise.

Quite a long report is made by Grant S. Hager, the fraternal correspondent. He has considerable to say about the second Cedar Rapids conference and it is apparent that he believes in the future of that organization.

The Thompson memorial prize was won this year by G. Jems Fraser of the University of North Dakota. From the Committee on Chartered Lodges the information is gleaned that the present membership of the lodges of North Dakota is 12,325.

The Committee on Jurisprudence makes a report which is not at all long. This committee apparently handled cases that came up from constituent lodges on appeal, for in the report is found decisions made by them along that line. The grand lodge increased the per diem from $2.00 to $3.00 per day, limiting the number of candidates to be initiated at one time to five, and required all newly made Master Masons to learn the lecture on that degree.

The installation of officers closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by Grant S. Hager. He accords to Illinois a page and a half of consideration. He quotes from the address of Grand Master Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, and says:

"We are convinced that as time goes on there will a tightening of rules regarding membership in organizations other than Masonic. The institution in character, aims and aspirations is too high to be made the butt of jokes or pose as a buffoon in public places."

The correspondence report of this writer is highly commended. He says in the following:

"Delmar D. Darrah is the correspondent for Illinois. He is a man of discernment and discrimination and writes a most comprehensive review. His 1919 effort covers one hundred and seventy-five pages, each worthy a careful perusal. His "Prefatory" is a comprehensive digest of outstanding topical information, valuable alike to officers of the grand lodge for reference, or to the casual reader. His review of North Dakota touches the high lights of our proceedings."

NOVA SCOTIA, A. F. & A. M. 1920

The annual communication which was the fifty-fifth was held at Yarmouth on Wednesday, June 9, 1920.

The first thing the grand lodge did after the preliminary ceremony of opening was to form in solemn procession and march to Holy Trinity church where divine services were held. The sermon preached on this occasion is quoted in full and is a most excellent document.

The grand lodge resumed labor at 2:15 P. M. and the first business was the address of the grand master, George D. Macdougall. The report goes into detail concerning various matters which claimed the attention of the grand master during the year.

The Masonic Home is highly commended because of its excellent management and the endowment fund for the maintenance of this institution has now reached the sum of $62,000.00.

Two new lodges were formed during the year and one Masonic Hall was dedicated.

One thing the grand master did was to call attention to the observance of St. John's day and all lodges of the jurisdiction were urged to participate in a proper observance of this Masonic occasion.

The grand master states he was not able to visit as many lodges as he would like but he did meet with his brethren as often as occasion would permit. The list of visitations which he submits is a very long one.

Fifteen questions are offered by the grand master together with answers to same. None of these questions are out of the ordinary and are along the line of the general queries submitted by lodges to grand masters. Nearly every question should have been answered by reference to existing regulations.

In conclusion, the grand master reports the net gain in membership to be 699, a very good showing all things considered.

The grand master shows the good taste to put a great deal of irrelevant matter in his report into an addenda, a practice which should be observed by more grand masters.

The report of the grand secretary is purely statistical in character and relates to the acts which passed through his office during the year. The grand secretary gives the present membership as 8,133 and his total receipts at $13,180.00.

It is apparent that the grand lodge maintains a cemetery lot which appears to have been a gift to that organization.

The trustees of the Masonic Home make a long report going much into detail concerning receipts and expenditures of that institution.

One thing the grand lodge did was to report adversely on the petition of a number of brethren who asked for the restoration of their lodge whose charter had been arrested.

The reports of the district deputy grand masters which are made directly to the grand lodge are interesting and show that these officers have a well defined conception of their duty and have performed it to the best of their ability. These reports go much into detail concerning transactions of the year.

The Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia did one thing and that was to fix the minimum fees at $35.00 of which $20.00 must accompany the petition and of this sum $10.00 is to be paid to the grand lodge for maintenance of the Masonie Home.

The Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia is doing some excellent work in the matter of Masonic research and during the year a special committee which had this matter in charge, sent out large numbers of documents containing valuable information to the craft of that jurisdiction.

Just before the close of the session the grand representatives were duly received and accredited. Don F. Fraser represented Illinois.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by James C. Jones, grand secretary. He considers Illinois in four and one-quarter pages quoting the principal transactions of our session of 1919. He takes the opening paragraph of the address of Grand Master Daniel G. Fitzgerrell and quotes all he said concerning German speaking lodges. Brother Jones is very frank in declaring that he does not agree with very much this writer said in his preliminary paragraphs to the correspondence report but does him the honor to quote all that was said under the subject of physical qualifications. It would be very unusual if all men agreed upon all subjects. Probably Brother Jones belongs to the old school but no fault is going to be found with him for the opinion which he holds.

George Dewar Macdougall, G.M., New Glasgow. James C. Jones, G.S., Halifax.

OHIO, F. & A. M.

The communication under review is the 11th. The officers and members of the grand lodge met in the Hotel Deshler, Columbus, Ohio, at 9:00 A. M. and under escort of two Commanderies of Knights Templar marched to the Masonie Temple. The first business of importance was the annual address of the grand master, Mathew Smith. His opening remarks are quite long, dealing in general matters of felicitation. He speaks of proficiency in the ritual as necessary to success in our lodges. And he says that where stops the language of the ritual is the starting point for more personal application. Tributes of respect are paid to the dead of his own and other grand jurisdictions.

One of the first acts of the grand master upon entering upon the duties of his office was the appointment of a Committee on History of the Grand Lodge of Ohio. He states that 104 dispensations were granted during the year and lists these fully in the appendix. Among the dispensations refused were those giving permission to lodges to appear in public parades.

The craft in Ohio must be growing at a rapid rate for sixteen dispensations for the formation of new lodges were granted.

The grand master presents a memorial from the Past Master's Association of Cleveland limiting the number of degrees which a lodge may confer during the year as well as the number of meetings that may be held for work.

The net gain in membership for the year is given as 16,427. This growth is phenomenal. The grand master speaks of his visitations to Lodges as the most cherished of his recollections as grand master.

During the year a demand arose for the reprinting of the ritual and a special committee was appointed to consider the matter. The recommendation of the grand master is that the ritual be reprinted. Ritualistic efficiency is mentioned and the work of the schools of instruction highly commended.

Grand Master Smith seems to think that the instruction relative to the apron is so brief in form that lodges have been led to select extended apron lectures from other jurisdictions.

A recommendation is made that the subject of a longer dissertation be considered and recommends the subject for approval of the grand lodge.

From the report it is apparent that improvements have been found necessary in the Masonic Home of Ohio, particularly an increase in hospital facilities. However, owing to unsettled business conditions, the Board of Managers have deemed it inexpedient to proceed with the work at this time. The by-laws of a large number of lodges were submitted to the grand master for his approval.

In conclusion the grand master pays a high tribute to the support given him by the grand secretary, J. H. Bromwell. The grand secretary gives his total receipts as $235,313.06, and his expenditures $166,684.00.

It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of Ohio is prospering financially and making money, for a recommendation appears for the purchase of $50,000.00 worth of bonds.

The report of the grand secretary is the usual document of this kind. The total number of members in Ohio is given as 148,480.

The Committee on Grievanees report but two cases as having been appealed to them. The Jurisprudence Committee submit quite an interesting report.

In reference to the suggestion of the Past Master's Association of Cleveland that the amount of work done by lodges be limited, the Jurisprudence Committee seem to think it unwise and inexpedient to interfere with the work of these bodies and recommends that more work meetings be held and the ceremonics carried on by relays of trained workers. Those secretaries who make a practice of keeping their books and records at home instead of in the lodge hall, came in for some attention on the part of the Jurisprudence Committee, who held that these important documents should be retained in the lodge rooms.

One amendment to the by-laws was adopted to the effect that no charter shall be granted to a new lodge which has not adopted a uniform code of by-laws.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of an extended apron lecture asked for further time to consider the subject. The election and installation of officers were closing features of the session.

The Grand Lodge of Ohio does not make a practice of presenting the grand master with his jewel during the session of the grand lodge, but generally appoints a special committee to visit the retiring grand master at his home and to make the presentation at that place.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by O. P. Sperra. Illinois receives two and a half pages of comment. He makes a brief resume of the principal acts of Grand Master Fitzgerrell and chronicles the more important transactions of our grand lodge. He makes no comment however, showing that what was done did not meet with disfavor. A generous extract is taken from the oration of Edward J. Brundage, and the correspondence submitted by this writer was given favorable mention.

The writer has been very much impressed in reviewing the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Ohio in noting the small amount of legislation enacted. This shows that the Grand Lodge of Ohio has become stabilized and does not propose to be carried off its feet by various amendments presenting newfangled ideas on Freemasonry. The greatest need of the fraternity today is a fixed policy. We have enough laws, rules and regulations to last us for a long time and it is refreshing to find one grand lodge whose proceedings are not overburdened with changes of various sorts.

The tremendous increase in membership in Ohio shows that Masonry is working out its real purpose and is accomplishing it in a far better manner than in many States where continual tinkering with existing customs and regulations is constantly in vogue.

OKLAHOMA, A. F. & A. M.

This young grand lodge observed its thirteenth annual communication in Oklahoma City, opening its transactions on February 22. There was an address of welcome which was properly responded to, after which the Committee on Rules and Order of Business presented the agenda which was duly adopted.

The first item of interest was the annual address of the grand master, Frank A. Derr. It is a document covering thirty-eight pages and deals with the various transactions for which he should account. He speaks of the year as one of marvelous prosperity as well as peace and concord. He refers to the influx of new members coming from a world of conflicting thoughts, beliefs and ideals and says the fraternity has a great work to perform in leading these men along proper paths.

The fraternal dead received tender tributes of respect. Twenty-four emergency communications of the grand lodge were held, of which twenty-one were for the purpose of laying the corner-stones of Masonic Temples, school buildings and churches. Four lodges were constituted and eight dispensations issued for the formation of new lodges. Four consolidations of lodges took place during the year and the charter of one lodge was taken up for failure to transact business as required by the law. Seven dispensations were issued to lodges to attend church services and various other dispensations to waive existing laws.

The grand master states that he refused many requests for dispensations to confer degrees out of time because he did not consider the reasons given justified the action. Twenty-one decisions are reported. In decision number 2, he defines what is meant by dotage, saying:

"Dotage, meaning 'Feebleness of understanding or mind, particularly in old age' cannot be determined by the age of the candidate alone. The lodge must determine for itself whether the applicant is qualified."

A claim of the Masonic Relief Association of Los Angeles is referred to the lodge for such action as it may deem wise to take. The grand master says the observance of the Masonic birthday of George Washington should be considered and urges lodges to hold proper programs suitable for this occasion.

The George Washington Memorial Association as well as the Masonie Service Association receives commendation and hearty approval. The Smith-Towner bill is approved by the grand master and the Masons of the State urged to give liberal support to this measure. He believes in Masonie Education and says:

"The most crying need of Freemasonry at the present time with our rapidly increasing membership, is education in the fundamental principles of Masonry. No matter how far we may eventually go in the cultivation of the educational field, the immediate task is to bring home to all Masons those great fundamental principles which none deny and to which none should be indifferent. 'Knowledge is the most real and genuine of all human treasures, for it is light as ignorance is darkness.''

A proposition to move the Masonic Home, which was submitted to the grand lodge for ratification was defeated. The grand master reports that an experimental school of instruction would be held during the grand lodge session and asked that the grand lodge give this earnest consideration, with a view of either continuing the practice or eliminating it.

Brother Derr reports the usual number of visitations and closes his address with some very appropriate remarks. Immediately following the address of the grand master, the grand representatives were duly received and accredited.

The grand secretary, W. M. Anderson, makes quite a long report covering financial matters, which is followed by the grand treasurer's report,

For the George Washington Memorial Association, the total sum pledged and paid amounted to $21,260.00. The grand lodge adopted a motion making November 4 a Masonic holiday and authorizing the constituent lodges to observe this anniversary of the initiation of George Washington in an appropriate manner.

Quite a long report is made by a special committee on the Masonic Service Association. The committee endorses the work of this society in very strong terms and asks the grand lodge to make the necessary appropriation and to continue its membership.

The report of the Masonie Home Board is complete in every detail and shows that institution to be well conducted and doing a most excellent work.

The Near East Relief matter came in for consideration and the work was endorsed and the lodges of the State urged to contribute to the enterprise.

A resolution endorsing the public school system of the country was presented and adopted by the grand lodge. The question of recognizing the Grand Lodge and the Grand Orient of France came up and a special committee that had this matter in hand recommended that no action be taken at the present time.

The Committee on Appeals and Grievanees evidently had plenty to do for ten cases are reported together with their findings. An amendment was offered similar to that adopted by Colorado, prohibiting newly raised Master Masons from affiliating with other orders until after one year had passed. This amendment was ordered earried over for another year.

The conclusion of the meeting was the installation of officers and the customary presentation of the jewel.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by Thomas C. Humphrey. He gives Illinois two pages of commendation. He quotes what Grand Master Fitzgerrell said concerning solicitation for the higher degrees and quotes from Past Grand Master Owen Scott on the subject of the Masonic Service Association. He quotes briefly from the correspondence report of this writer.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS, F. & A. M.

The ninth annual communication was held in the city of Manila in the Masonic Temple on Tuesday, January 25, opening at 4 o'clock P. M. The deputy grand master performed the ceremony of opening after which he sent an escort out to bring the grand master into the grand lodge where he was tendered a most cordial reception.

Brother Palma then read his annual address. His first act is to report the dead of his own jurisdiction and he enumerates all of those who have passed beyond during the year which has just closed.

The increase in membership is mentioned as the greatest in the history of the grand lodge.

Twelve dispensations for the formation of new lodges were granted during the year. The grand master was quite liberal in his visitations to the lodges under him for he enumerates a long list that received recognition from him.

One thing the grand master did do was to recommend the adoption of the Pike Ritual. It appears from his address that previously the grand lodge had been using a ritual of the Scottish Rite. The grand master seemed to think that the grand lodge should take over the entire jurisdiction of the York Rite and recommended that a committee be appointed to investigate the merits of the Pike Rite in relation to its adoption by the grand lodge.

Much effort was put forth during the year toward instructing the lodges of the jurisdiction and it is apparent from the report of the grand master that much good was accomplished.

The grand secretary comes in for very high praise and it is recommended that his salary be substantially increased. The grand master made no decisions which were worthy of mention except two. One was that if a member of the investigating committee on a petitioner made an unfavorable report, there should be no ballot, the candidate being thereby rejected. Another decision was that a man who had lost his left arm was not eligible to receive the degrees.

The George Washington Masonie Memorial Association is commended and the recommendation made that the grand lodge contribute $1,000.00 to the enterprise.

The recommendation is also made that the grand lodge continue membership in the Masonic Service Association.

In concluding the grand master indicates that considerable of the opposition to the fraternity which has been so apparent in times past is commencing to subside and even the fair sex is adopting a very tolerant attitude toward the society inasmuch as it is commencing to attend many public ceremonies. The grand master suggests that the institution of the Order of the Eastern Star in the Philippines might be a great help to the organization and even goes so far as to recommend that a committee be appointed to give the matter consideration.

The roll-call of grand representatives does not reveal the presence of the representative of Illinois,

The report of the grand treasurer shows the grand lodge to be in good financial condition while that of the grand secretary, which, by the way, is very complete and goes much into detail, shows that the number of Masons on the Islands at the present time to be 5,126. The grand secretary advises the grand lodge of the necessity of employing an assistant grand secretary.

The report of the grand lecturer is supplemented with reports from his deputies disclosing the visitations for instruction made by them and the general condition of the lodges visited.

On the evening of the first day, an oration was delivered by Enrique V. Filamor. It is rather laborious in character but no doubt pleased the brethren who listened to it. The Custodians of the Work made a report concerning the Pike Ritual. The committee were of the opinion that the introduction of another ritual at this time, would increase many difficulties now existing and recommended that the Pike Ritual be not adopted. The grand lodge apparently thought the committee right because they voted to approve their report.

It appears from the proceedings that the Grand Lodge of the Philippines is now about to establish a Masonic Home, for a special committee was appointed to look up sites and devise ways and means of establishing a home for the care of indigent members of the fraternity.

A resolution was endorsed and referred to the custodians of the work, relating to the use of eipher rituals. The custodians, however, could not see the wisdom of such a move and reported adversely.

Concerning the special committee appointed to introduce the Eastern Star into the Philippine Islands, report was made that the members were not well enough acquainted with the general work of that organization and suggest that the incoming grand master appoint a committee to go very carefully into the matter and report at the next session of the grand lodge.

A resolution was endorsed and adopted providing for a general convention of the Masons of the Philippine Islands for the purpose of getting better acquainted and discussing various matters of import to the craft.

The election and installation of officers together with the presentation of the customary jewel closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by George R. Harvey. Illinois received almost four pages of very generous consideration. Our proceedings for the year 1919 are very carefully gone into and the principal acts transacted at that time are briefly mentioned but without commendation or criticism. The oration of Edward J. Brundage is spoken of in very high terms and an extract is reproduced therefrom. The correspondence report for the year 1919 is favorably commented on and is called an excellent report and the review is referred to as among the best of the year. Brother Harvey has the thanks of this writer for his very complimentary reference to Illinois and its correspondent.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, A. F. & A. M.

The forty-fifth annual communication was held in the Masonic Temple at Charlottetown on Wednesday, June 25.

The Grand Representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, W. Samuel Lowe, was present. The first business was the annual address of the grand master, James MacDougall. His opening remarks partake very largely of the nature of a sermon and the text appears to grow out of general conditions resulting from the war.

He is very liberal in the tribute which he pays to the dead of his own and other jurisdictions.

The grand master was very generous in the matter of visiting lodges and states that while he was somewhat disappointed in the attendance yet he was pleased to know the ritual was being so well performed. He refers to the general condition of the craft and expresses a desire for a more liberal construction of the law on physical qualifications due to the fact that so many soldiers returning from the war maimed and otherwise unable to apply for the degrees of the fraternity.

The grand master thinks that lodges do not attend divine services as often as they should and calls attention to a great deal of dissatisfaction among the lodges for the reason that the grand lodge wants them to attend divine services and then requires them to procure dispensations to appear in regalia.

No official rulings are reported.

Among the recommendations made is that every lodge present its bylaws for the approval of the grand lodge at its next annual communication. If this is done, some committee will certainly have their hands full. Another recommendation made by the grand master is that no dispensation be required to allow a lodge to appear in regalia for the purpose of attending church services.

The financial condition of the grand lodge is emphasized and a recommendation made that a per capita tax be levied or some other means be made to procure additional revenue.

The deputy grand master makes a report very largely social in character.

The total receipts reported by the grand treasurer are $951.10 and he gives the assets in his hands to be $1,447.65.

The grand secretary in his report gives the total membership of the Grand Lodge of Prince Edward Island as 1,970. The net gain for the year was but forty-one. The number of lodges in the jurisdiction is only fifteen.

It appears that the grand lodge is about to adopt a new ritual, for a committee report they have the matter under consideration but are not in a position to present their deductions at this time.

The committee on physical qualifications which was appointed the previous year asked to be continued and allowed to report at the next annual communication. Their request was granted. On the evening of the first day, the grand lodge assembled in solemn procession and marched to Zion Church where they attended divine services.

The remainder of the business transactions appear to be largely routine in character.

The brother who preached the service to the grand lodge was voted the munificient sum of $10.00 and the church where the services were rendered received a vote of thanks while the organist received the sum of $5.00.

There is no report on foreign correspondence.

QUEBEC, A. F. & A. M. 1921

The fifty-first annual communication was held on the 9th day of February in the city of Montreal. According to the report of the Committee on Credentials the ambassador representing Illinois does not appear to have been present.

The deputy grand master opened the grand lodge after which, with considerable pomp, the grand master was duly received and accorded all the honors of his official position.

Brother Arthur B. Wood then presented the annual address. In opening he lays great stress upon the ancient landmarks and refers to the absence of old familiar faces at every annual communication. He gives a long list of the dead of his own jurisdiction and pays to each a tribute of respect.

He reports the condition of the craft to be most gratifying and states that the number of initiates has now reached the large total of 1,124, giving the province a net membership of 11,166.

Seven new lodges received dispensations showing that the eraft is growing at a rapid rate.

A large number of visitations are reported in detail showing that the grand master was disposed to mingle with his brethren as much as possible.

He states that for the first time in seven years the celebration of the Festival of St. John the Evangelist was observed by the lodges of the province. He commends the practice of holding annual church services and states that a much larger number of lodges than heretofore observed the ceremony.

It is evident that the Grand Lodge of Quebec does not propose to have the embiems of the fraternity made a travesty for the grand master recommends that all lodges desiring to present a jewel in commemoration of some particular event, submit it to him before finally distributing same.

Forty-five dispensations were granted during the year but none of them are of startling character. Brother Wood refused, however, to issue a dispensation to confer more than the customary degrees at one meeting, also to initiate candidates who were physically imperfect.

Several rulings are reported, many of which refer to local interpretation of law. One recommendation which the grand master makes is that masters of lodges shall so plan their work as to be able to present a clean sheet at the end of the year and leave nothing to be carried over. He also thinks that the amount of work which a lodge shall be permitted to do should be limited and no lodge should be permitted to do so much work that the candidate fails to receive individual attention.

The grand master had a table prepared of attendance at lodge meetings. The average as compiled by him is 21 percent. He seems to think that if lodges will quit overloading their meetings, that is to say, if they will avoid having too much work at their meetings, they will be attended more readily. Brother Wood believes in the social side of Masonry and urges lodges to take up the intellectual side, believing that in these features lies much of the future success of the fraternity.

The report of the grand secretary is largely statistical. It would appear from his report that he issued dispensations for general purposes, subject of course, to the approval of the grand master. The total receipts from all sources were $15,192.00. The grand treasurer presented quite an interesting report and shows his general holdings in stock, bonds, etc., to be $142,760.00.

A feature of the annual meeting was the address of the grand chaplain which was interesting in the extreme.

Reports of district deputy grand masters are very thorough and show that these officers are very painstaking in the discharge of the duties of their office. They make suggestions and recommendations, all of which should prove beneficial and helpful to the grand lodge.

Quite a long report is submitted from the Committee on the State of Masonry. This committee take all reports submitted to the grand lodge and from them they formulate a definite plan for the betterment of the society.

The installation of officers closed the session.

Illinois for 1920 is reviewed by Brother E. T. D. Chambers, past grand master. He makes brief reference to the principal transactions of our session of 1920 and quotes liberally from the special Committee on the Masonic Service Association.

In referring to the correspondence report of this writer he is very generous and pays him the following comment, "His comments show thoughtfulness and common sense judgment, and are admirably expressed."

The Grand Lodge of Rhode Island meets semi-annually. What is ealled the semi-annual communication was held Monday, November 17 in Free Masons Hall, Providence. The brethren arose and sang the Star Spangled Banner, after which an extended report was presented, relating to Over Seas Lodge, No. 1, which originated and did the work of Masonry while located in Coblenz, Germany. The total number of members signing the by-laws of this lodge were four hundred eighty-six, of which number thirty-one were from the State of Illinois. The report of the activities of this lodge is interesting and no doubt it accomplished much good. The Masons of Rhode Island have had under consideration, the question of erecting a new Masonie Temple. At that semi-annual communication the committee made a report recommending the construction of a temple to cost $1,000,000.00 and suggested as a means of helping to defray the expenses, a per capita tax of $10.00 to be placed on all candidates.

The one hundred thirtieth annual communication was held in Providence on May 17, opening at 10:00 o'clock Monday. The first item of interest was the address of the grand master. He reports the condition of the fraternity to have been the most prosperous in the Masonic history of the State. One thousand eight hundred fifty-one new members were added to the roll, giving the membership of the State at 12,414.

Much is made of the cordial welcome extended to returned soldiers on the part of the lodges to which they belonged. Some of them received certificates of life membership, while others had tablets in their honor placed in the lodge rooms.

The grand master reports quite a number of dispensations to attend church services, but his dispensations for other purposes were limited in number. From the amendments to by-laws approved by the grand master, it is quite apparent that the lodges of the jurisdictions have been increasing their fees.

The Masonic Service Association of the United States is endorsed as is also the George Washington Memorial Association. For this latter enterprise the State of Rhode Island raised the sum of $3,700.00.

The grand master visited a large number of lodges in his jurisdiction, which showed a desire on his part to keep in touch with the activities of the craft. One thing Grand Master Collins does is to take up the subject of the election of the grand master, which he says has become nothing more than a perfunctory affair. The brethren simply vote for the candidate in line and give little thought to the qualifications of those that are balloted for. He also takes a whack at what appears to be a system of political preferement which is in vogue in the grand lodge and seems to think that grand lodge officers should be chosen solely upon their merits and not because they happen to hold the office of district deputy or some other minor position.

Some very excellent things are said concerning the qualifications of candidates. This is a fruitful topic with all of the grand masters, but with all the preaching there is more or less carelessness in this respect.

It is apparent from the address of the grand master that the blackball is very freely used throughout the State during the year for he reports numerous complaints where candidates have been rejected as a result of spite work. He brings up the question of the large amount of work in lodges and suggests that so many candidates are being initiated that the degrees have lost much of their charm and have degenerated into purely monotonous affairs. He thinks some remedy should be devised whereby the burden which is now so heavy upon lodge officers might be lightened.

What the grand master really would like to see is group work but he has not quite enough courage to come out boldly for something which the craft must ultimately come to. The subject of large vs. small lodges is discussed and suggestions made that the best offices of the fraternity are more manifest in the small lodges than in the large lodges.

One recommendation which the grand master makes is that when a committee on petitions makes an unfavorable report that it should not be necessary to spread the ballot but that the candidate should be declared rejected. Brother Collins concluded his address by declaring the grand lodge to be supreme among all Masonic bodies.

The Committee on Jurisprudence makes a report covering two pages but the subject matter is largely of local interest.

The Committee on Credentials reports the presence of Frederick I. Dana, Illinois representative. One thing the grand lodge did was to levy an assessment of $1.00 per capita on each Master Mason in the State, 75 percent of which is to go to the George Washington Memorial Association and the other 25 percent to be known as the Masonic Service Association Fund.

The report of the treasurer, which appears near the close of the proceedings, shows the grand lodge to be in an excellent condition financially.

The election and installation of officers closed the session. There is no report on foreign correspondence.

SOUTH CAROLINA, A. F. M.

The 184th annual communication convened in the Masonic Temple in the city of Charleston on the 23rd day of February. John F. Fieken, Grand Representative of Illinois, is credited with having been present. Two hundred and sixty-three lodges out of two hundred and eighty were represented at this session of the grand lodge.

The first business was the passing of a resolution appropriating the sum of $50.00 for the purpose of employing a stenographer to take the annual proceedings. The grand master, Samuel T. Lenham, presented a report which is quite long and in which he gave in a very complete manner the various transactions of his office during the year. He refers to the general condition of unrest throughout the country and seems to think that affluence and luxury caused more immorality than poverty. In commenting upon the great wave of crime sweeping over the country, he was disposed to charge it to lack of employment.

The grand master goes much into detail on the subject of Necrology and gives the name of every Master Mason in the jurisdiction who died during the year.

The state of the Craft is reported to be most satisfactory and the general growth in membership is commented upon as healthy and natural. The grand master apparently is very much of a ritualist for he lays great stress upon the importance of the ritual in all Masonic systems.

The Masonic Service Association is commended by the grand master as is also the George Washington Memorial Association. A communication from the Grand Orient of France is reported, wherein they advise the grand lodge of their sincere desire to creet a memorial at Verdun to the soldier Masons who died during the war.

Six dispensations for the formation of new lodges were issued and four corner stones laid during the year.

Fourteen opinions are reported by the grand master. None of them are unusual and relate in a way to the construction of local statutes and regulations. Several recommendations are made by the grand master but they are purely of local significance and concern matters in which the Grand Lodge of South Carolina is alone interested.

Concerning the subject of dispensations, Grand Master Lenham says that he departed from the precedent set by his predecessor and granted dispensations to confer more than the constitutional number of degrees at one communication. His limit was ten Master's degrees, fifteen Fellow Craft degrees and five Entered Apprentice degrees. Appended to the report of the grand master are documents from the several district deputies in which they set forth the various acts performed by them in the discharge of their official duties.

. The grand treasurer gives his annual receipts as $55,768.00 and his disbursements $47,238.00.

The report of the grand secretary is brief and covers such matters as were handled by him during the year.

The Grand Lodge of South Carolina evidently maintains a cemetery, for a committee asked that an appropriation for maintaining the cemetery be granted at this session of the grand lodge.

The Grand Lodge of South Carolina administers its relief in a very generous manner. It contributes to several orphan asylums and at the same time assists its lodges in caring for their dependents.

A motion prevailed that the sum of eighty-five dollars be given to the Gideons for the purchase of Bibles.

The grand lodge held an evening session at which suitable memorials to the distinguished dead of the jurisdiction were read.

The Grand Lodge of South Carolina proposes to remodel its temple, for the sum of $70,000.00 was appropriated for that purpose.

The Committee on Jurisprudence did not agree with the grand master in all of his decisions and in a number of instances made alterations or changes to suit the ideas of this august body.

The constitution of the grand lodge was amended allowing representatives $5.00 per day for each day's attendance at the sessions of the grand lodge.

A resolution providing for the purchase of a suitable portrait of Albert Mackey received the approval of the grand lodge.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence declined to recommend the recognition of the Grand Lodges of Porto Rico, Mexico, Costa Rica, and Colombia. The grand lodge, according to the finance committee, collected $141.00 as penalties from its constituent lodges. There is nothing, however, to show that any of the penalties were remitted and the amounts refunded. An appropriation was made for the Masonic Service Association and the salary of the foreign correspondent fixed at $750.00. The election and installation of officers was the last act of the session.

J. L. Michie prepared the report on fraternal correspondence. He devotes two and a quarter pages to Illinois. He quotes very liberally from the annual address of Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, and takes a generous paragraph from what he said concerning the American language in lodges.

The correspondence of this writer is referred to in very kindly terms although Brother Michie does not like what was said about the past master's degree. He claims that this degree is still conferred in fifty English speaking grand jurisdictions and thinks that the correspondence reporters of Illinois have in times past shown considerable ignorance and stupidity upon the subject.

TENNESSEE, F. & A. M.

The annual communication was held in the city of Nashville, in Freemasons Hall, opening on January 26. The grand representative of the grand lodge of Illinois, J. T. Spaulding, is among those accorded as being present. One of the first items after the introduction of distinguished visitors was reading of the law relating to furnishing information of the proceedings to newspapers.

T. W. Peace, grand master, then presented his annual address. He pays tributes of respect to the dead of his own as well as other grand jurisdictions. He refers to the Board of Custodians as being most important, and recommends that the board be increased from three to five members. Reference is made to the work of the year and it is pointed out as the greatest record the grand lodge has ever made, 4,476 being raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason. The grand master thinks this is a cause for congratulation provided the candidates received were worthy and well qualified. He seems to think that the fraternity has before it a great opportunity for doing educational work, in taking these new Masonic recruits and training them in the ways and meaning of the society. One hundred ninety-five requests to do work by courtesy were sent to other grand lodges and one hundred fifty-two were received and the requests complied with.

The question of the Masonic Home is brought up and the necessity of additional revenue is pointed out. Grand master states that a number of lodges were amending their by-laws, by raising the cost of the degrees. He very truly says that every lodge should have revenue sufficient to provide more than the bare necessities.

Grand Master Peace made a recommendation that the mileage paid representatives be increased from five to ten cents.

Twenty-six decisions are reported. A large number of them relate to questions of jurisdiction. One decision is quite interesting, it reads as follows:

"Rooms under a lodge room should not be used for residential, or other purposes, if, in order to secure privacy for the lodge, it would be necessary for such occupant to lease said rooms while the lodge is in session. Change of mind, sickness, or other cause might prevent compliance with agreement so to vacate."

It is apparent that down in Tennessee they do not believe in experimenting in the matter of conferring degrees, for the grand master rules it unwise to have any person preside and confer a degree unless he is a master or past master of a lodge. Grand Master Peace expresses himself very forcibly on the question of large lodge membership and seems to think that the lodges of State should be limited to a membership, not to exceed two hundred. He points out one ease wherein a very important matter was referred to him. The record shows that the matter in question happened in a lodge of eight hundred members, when only thirty-three were present. The grand master does not hesitate to say that the formation of new lodges should be encouraged.

The grand master made one very generous recommendation. A certain brother took out a life insurance policy in favor of the grand lodge for the sum of $1,000.00. After his death his wife appealed to the grand lodge for the money, stating that it was needed to educate the daughter of the brother. The grand master recommended that the money be returned.

The charter of one lodge was arrested and the usual number of dispensations issued.

Grand Master Peace refused to issue a dispensation permitting a lodge to join a Knight Templar procession on Easter Sunday. He also declined to issue a dispensation, permitting a lodge to celebrate St. John's Day in August, rain having prevented same on June 24.

Four corner-stones were laid during the year, but the grand master refused to perform the service for a tuberculosis hospital on Sunday.

The Masonic Service Association is presented to the grand lodge for such action as it may wish to take.

The grand master gets after the grand lodge for the way and manner that it handles its funds. At the last annual meeting a liberal donation was made from one fund to another and before the year was out the grand lodge found itself compelled to borrow money, until the annual dues commenced to come in.

The question of observing the Masonic birthday of George Washington interested the grand master very much and he states that he was happy to know that many lodges observed this occasion.

Electioneering in the grand lodge receives the condemnation of the grand master and attention is called to a letter written by a brother urging his advancement in the Masonic line.

The grand master closed by recommending that an appropriate picture of the grand secretary be made and preserved among the priceless relies of the grand lodge.

The grand treasurer gives his annual receipts at $135,500.00, and his expenditures as $130,110.00. The grand secretary's report goes much into detail and covers various acts transacted by him during the year.

The grand lodge has one rather unusual committee called Ways and Means, this committee made twenty-three recommendations, many of them appropriating money for various purposes.

Quite a long report comes in from the Masonic Home. It appears that it cost $62,532.00 to operate the home for the year just closed. The General Masonic Relief Association spent $250.00 in earing for needy Master Masons. A motion was made and carried that the grand lodge remain in session three days. It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of Tennessee does not propose to have its business hurried.

The grand lodge voted to continue its membership in the Masonie Service Association. The sum of $1,000.00 was appropriated for the benefit of the local Committee on Education and the committee was asked to coordinate its efforts with similar movements.

Eleven cases were considered by the Committee on Appeals and Grievances. In each instance the name of the defendant is published in the proceedings. At a night session of the grand lodge held on the first day the work was exemplified by the Board of Custodians.

On the second day this board makes quite an extended report of their visitations to lodges and what they accomplished. One hundred fifty lodges were visited and instructed by the lecturers and thirty-nine by the custodians,

The following resolution was presented and adopted: "That the Board of Custodians of the Work be and are bereby instructed to take up and consider the ritual of the second section of the third degree, and agree among themselves on a ritual and make their recommendation to this or to the next communication of the M.W. grand lodge. That they shall especially consider and determine what password and sign shall be given; on the craft work and throne speeches of the master, and shall cause to be printed for distribution among the lodges such parts of these various speeches as is permissible to be printed, as adopted by the M.W. grand lodge."

The Committee on Jurisprudence make quite a long report in which they endorse practically everything that the grand master did. This committee goes much into detail showing that they believe in having the grand lodge know the way and manner that they arrive at their deductions.

A resolution declining to recognize the grand bodies of France was presented and adopted.

The George Washington Memorial Association is commended and the information given that to date $1,100.00 had been raised for that work.

A long report is made concerning the Widows and Orphans Home which deals with the matter of finances and points out what will be necessary to maintain that institution in a proper manner. The election and installation of officers together with the presentation of the signet ring closed this most interesting session.

The report on correspondence is prepared by H. A. Chambers. It is quite brief. He quotes all that Grand Master Fitzgerrell said on the question of physical qualification as well as his paragraph headed "A Pernicious Practice." He thinks the report of the special committee on the Masonic Service Association is quite interesting. The correspondence report of this writer is briefly mentioned and what was said concerning the Masonic Service Association is quoted in full.

The eighty-fifth annual communication was held in the Masonic Temple in the eity of Waco, commencing Tuesday, December 7, 1920. When the grand lodge opened, there was a vacant chair on the dais, properly draped with a beautiful floral emblem, as a memorial to Past Grand Master Walter Acker, Superintendent of the Orphans' Home, who died the preceding April. The report of the Committee on Credentials does not show the representative of Ellinois to have been present. A number of distinguished visitors were in attendance at the session of the grand lodge, all of whom were formally presented and accorded the grand honors. Sixty Master Masons who had been in good standing in their lodges for forty years or more, were presented and duly honored by the grand lodge.

The first business of importance was the annual address of the grand master, George F. Morgan. It required seventy pages to transmit his message to his brothers. He refers to his duties as multitudinous and states that he discharged them to the very best of his ability. He pays elaborate tributes of respect to the dead of his own and other grand jurisdictions.

The foreign relations with the Grand Lodge of Texas have been exceedingly pleasant during the year, nothing having transpired to occasion any discord. The grand master refers to the large number of appeals that have been sent to the lodges of his jurisdiction from various bureaus and charitable enterprises, and states that he instructed the lodges to make no contributions to any concern nuless the approval of the grand lodge was granted.

The Grand Lodge of Texas appears to have been in a quandary as to just what its relations were with the York Grand Lodge of Mexico and considerable correspondence upon this subject is presented for consideration. The observance of the Masonic birthday of George Washington is mentioned and the lodges were invited to observe this anniversary. Both the George Washington Memorial Association and the Masonic Service Association of the United States received favorable mention.

In the State of Texas there are one hundred fifteen district deputies representing the nine hundred active lodges. Reference is made to the faithful and hearty co-operation of these officials and the splendid service which they have rendered the craft during the year. Four lodges had their charters returned to them, the same having been arrested for infractions of Masonic laws. One case of discipline is reported, a Canadian Mason being the offender. Ten lodges were chartered during the year and dispensations issued for the formation of five new lodges. Six dispensations for new lodges were refused because the proposed lodges were less than ten miles distant from the next nearest lodge. Nine lodges received dispensations to publicly install officers and eighteen lodges received dispensations to lay corner-stones. Most of these ceremonials pertain to court houses, churches and school buildings, but few dispensations were issued to confer degrees out of time and one dispensation was issued to permit the examination of a candidate at a special meeting.

The Grand Lodge of Texas exercises complete control over the halls and meeting places of its constituent lodges for the number of permits granted to purchase and convey realty is a long one.

Some of the lodges of the State of Texas must have had the moving fever for an extended list is given wherein permission was granted lodges to move from one location to another. During the year ten trial Masters were appointed to conduct Masonic trials in various Masonic lodges. A full and detailed report is given of each case. During the year permission was granted the Mystic Shrine to use the grand lodge building to hold a meeting for business purposes, it being expressly understood that no degrees were to be exemplified. Twelve cases of invasion of jurisdiction are reported in much detail, all of which were referred to the grand lodge for final approval.

Grand Master Morgan made thirty decisions. One was to the effect that an objection sent by telegraph was not only ineffective but subjected the sender of the telegram to Masonic discipline. Another decision was that an illegitimate was not ineligible to receive the degrees of Masonry. Grand master held that it was wholly discretionary on the part of the master as to whether a non-affiliated Master Mason might appear at a Masonic funeral procession. The grand master held that the use of the Masonic emblem and inscription on the corner-stone of a church edifice was prohibited. He also held that it was permissible for a lodge to conduct degree work in two separate rooms at the same time, providing the proper officers were in charge of each meeting and the degrees being conferred were the same. The grand master takes a rap at a side degree called the Tall Cedars of Lebanon, and states that such a degree is not recognized in the State of Texas and could not be conferred in any Masonic lodge room.

Reference is made to the chain prayer proposition which it seems is so difficult to get stopped at the present time. All matters relating to the conferring of degrees by courtesy are handled through the grand sceretary's office, that official being made responsible for the proper conducting of such correspondence. No dispensations were issued for the initiation of candidates who were maimed. The whole question was left to the grand lodge to decide what it might want to do in the premises.

The Masonic Home and school is commended in the very highest terms and the thanks of the grand master rendered to the craft of the State for the very generous support which has been accorded him during his incumbency of office.

The grand treasurer reports receipts of $94,500,00 and expenditures of $82,392.00. The report of the grand secretary is quite an extended document and covers many matters which passed through his hands during the year. He shows that 12,052 were raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason and gives the present membership as 94,218. The lodges of Texas conferred five hundred forty-three degrees by courtesy for other jurisdictions and the compliment was returned in four hundred eighty-nine eases.

The Grand Lodge of Texas apparently believes in ample devotion, as the grand chaplain offered prayer at both the opening and closing of each session. The report of the Committee on Printing shows that the contract for printing the proceedings was awarded at a cost of $4.50 per page.

An extended report is made by the Board of Directors of the Masonic Orphans' Home and one of the urgent needs which is set forth, is that of a hospital. Both the superintendent of the Masonic Home as well as the board of directors came in for the hearty commendation of the grand lodge. A vote of thanks was tendered them for the splendid services which they had rendered. The grand lodge maintained a committee on Masonic History and Research and quite a long report is made by them of their activities and the work which they have accomplished. It is apparent from the proceedings that the Grand Lodge of Texas is revising its constitution and by-laws, for a preliminary report from a committee, appointed for that purpose, appears in the proceedings.

The Jurisprudence Committee was extremely generous with the grand master and approved most of his acts. The grand lodge operates under the budget system and the Finance Committee makes an appropriation for each department.

It is noticed that the salary of the grand secretary is fixed at $4,800.00. Last year the Grand Lodge of Illinois attempted to raise the salary of its grand Secretary to $4,000.00 and the proposition met with an avalanche of nays.

The proposition to remodel the present grand lodge building was brought before the grand lodge, and the committee to which it was referred made a report expressing the idea that the expense of remodeling would be excessive and when completed the building would still be inadequate for the needs of the grand lodge. They recommended the sale of the building and the construction of a new one. A motion was made that the United States flag be hung in the East of the grand lodge at each session and displayed in every lodge room throughout the jurisdiction. The motion prevailed.

Just before the close of the grand lodge a resolution on dancing was adopted. Resolution was as follows: "That the subordinate lodges of Texas be, and are, hereby prohibited to advertise, conduct or hold balls, dances, fairs, concerts, or any other public assembly, by, through, or under the auspices of the said subordinate lodges, either directly or indirectly."

The election and installation of officers closed a busy session. It is apparent that it does not cost the Grand Lodge of Texas very much to hold its annual meeting for the amount for mileage and per diem paid delegates only amounted to $400.00, while committees and helpers drew $893.15.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by S. M. Bradley, past grand master. He gives Illinois three pages of courteous notice, quoting very liberally from Daniel G. Fitzgerrell. He seems to find no fault with any of our transactions.

The oration of Edward J. Brundage received favorable comment and a number of excerpts are taken therefrom. The correspondence report of this writer is briefly mentioned and what was said upon the subject of physical qualifications was not well received. It is quite apparent that Brother Bradley is a stand-patter who belongs to the old school of Masons who still believe that King Solomon was a grand-daddy of the Masonic Institution.

The fiftieth annual communication opened in the Masonic Temple in Salt Lake City on the 18th of January. The Committee on Credentials credit P. L. Williams, grand representative of Illinois, with being present. It did not take the grand lodge very long to get down to actual business and the first item of interest is the report of the grand master, James L. Cattron. His report is quite brief, covering but twelve pages. Three dispensations were issued for the formation of new lodges, two Masonic Halls were dedicated and a large number of lodges officially visited by the grand master. He states that he had many questions referred to him during the year but in most instances found it unnecessary to render any decisions.

He advises that the Committee on Masonic Education and Instruction performed its duty efficiently and with dispatch and calls the committee one of the most important in the jurisdiction. The Grand Lodge of Utah requires that all amendments to by-laws be submitted to the grand lodge for approval. The list, however, is not a long one. One by-law to exempt members from the payment of dues who are seventy years of age and have held continuous membership for twenty-five years, was disapproved.

Apparently the Grand Lodge of Utah does not look with favor upon dispensations to waive the law for the list submitted by the grand master is a very short one. Among the charitable contributions reported was $120.00 for the relief of a past grand master and $50.00 for the relief of the widow of a past grand master.

The George Washington Memorial Association is endorsed and a long report made upon the Masonic Service Association. This the grand master finds favor with and recommends it to the favorable consideration of his grand lodge. The work of revising the funeral ritual which has been in the hands of a committee, came up for special consideration and the grand master set apart a special hour for the exemplification of this revision.

The charter of one lodge was arrested for infraction of Masonic rules and the condition of the craft reported to be the most prosperous and harmonious in its history. The grand master called attention to the fact that on January 16, 1922, the grand lodge would celebrate its 50th anniversary and recommended that a committee be appointed to prepare a suitable program.

The deputy grand master and grand wardens made reports to the grand lodge dealing principally with official visits to lodges made by them.

The grand treasurer gives his receipts as $6,685 and his disbursements as $5,522.00. The report of the grand secretary is quite a long one and deals principally with matters which passed through his hands as well as some statistics. He gives the net gain for the year in membership at 669.

The Committee on Masonic Education and Research report the issuance of various bulletins and other printed matter which they felt to be helpful to those Masons who were looking for Masonic light and information.

The revision of funeral eeremonies which was exemplified by the Board of Custodians was formally adopted by the grand lodge.

The Committee on Jurisprudence had very little to report, and showed the good taste to omit names of defendants in such cases as were reviewed by them. Incident to the meeting of the grand lodge, the custodians held a school of instruction on the evening of the first day. The Committee on Lodges make an extended report showing that they went very carefully into the annual returns and gleaned such facts as they could concerning the general condition of lodges. They make some recommendations for the betterment and the general welfare of the jurisdiction. A resolution from the Jurisprudence Committee, prohibiting smoking in the lodge rooms during regular and special meetings at all times, was presented and adopted by the grand lodge.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that an adverse report by the Committee on Investigation or any member thereof, shall constitute a rejection of the petition, and no ballot shall be taken thereon. A resolution which had been offered, prohibiting constituent lodges from conferring more than seventy-five degrees in one year was disapproved by the grand lodge.

The Committee on Finance fixed the salary of the grand correspondent at $600.00 and prepared a budget setting apart suitable appropriations for the various departments of the grand lodge. The election and installation of officers and presentation of the signet ring closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by Samuel H. Goodwin who considers Illinois in two and one-fourth pages of very interesting review.

Concerning the grand chaplain's prayer, he offers the following paragraph: "The prayer of the grand chaplain printed in full contains one or two expressions which set this scribe to thinking. Of course, we are out here in the sage brush and may have fallen out of step in the procession, theological. And we are willing to admit that we are just a plain, old fashioned theist in our conception of Deity. The grand chaplain invoked the blessing of the 'All pervading spirit whose presence is in the beauty of the dawn and the purple glory of the twilight.' And again: 'But oh Thon Infinite Spirit of the dawn and the twilight.' We disclaim any thought of being hypercritical or irreverent, but, frankly, we are at a loss to know whom or what is addressed." * * * "In this connection we are reminded that Illinois refused to recognize our French brothers because of their alleged attitude toward Deity and their disinclination to fasten upon their membership a personal creed of a particular type—the scope of which many American Masons insist upon enlarging. But we very much doubt if there is a member of any lodge in France, whatever his intellectual or philosophical difficulties might be, who could not join the brethren of Illinois in the worship of the 'Infinite Spirit of the dawn and the twilight.' "

The annual address of Grand Master Fitzgerrell is tersely analyzed. What is said concerning the George Washington Memorial Association received the following comment: "The grand master favored the George Washington Memorial Association and expressed himself on 'The magnitude and importance of this great movement to establish a Masonic center at the capital.' Talk about a 'wedge of a general grand lodge.' Wow! Some timid, distrustful brothers have seen just this in the Memorial Association.' He seems to think Illinois can live very comfortably and happily without the Masonic Service Association.

Concerning the correspondence report, the following comment is made: "The correspondence report is again by P.G.M. Darrah. A chief cause for regret is that this part of the Illinois proceedings is shrinking in size year by year. As told in figures, the tale is as follows: Three reports prepared, the first one of 325 pages, the second 275 pages, and the third 127 pages. Thrift and economy are good things, but speaking generally, let economy strike the waist-line first, not above the shoulders. We are glad to see that our brother recognizes the fact that Masonic effort should be co-ordinated, and that it is desirable for grand lodges to pull together so that the energy and power of the craft may be directed to the accomplishment of ends worthy of the fraternity. Utah for 1920 is given careful attention and all of general interest in our proceedings noted. We sincerely hope that this brother may be given the space in the proceedings of Illinois which his talents deserve so that Masonry in and out of his own jurisdiction may profit more largely by his clear insight, broad outlook and ability of expression."

VIRGINIA, A. F. & A. M.

The communication under review is the 143rd and was held in the Masonic Temple in the city of Richmond on Tuesday, February 8, 1921. The opening ceremonies were very brief and the grand master immediately read his annual address. It is a document of thirty-seven pages in which the various acts performed by him are set forth in a businesslike manner. Masonry in the grand jurisdiction is reported to be in a highly flourishing condition and the grand master speaks of the wonderful work being done by the grand lecturer. Comment is made on the fact that candidates are not receiving proper instruction, due to the large amount of work which the lodges are doing. He believes in the social side of the fraternity and thinks that the officers and members of the lodge ought to meet more often in social relationship.

Quite a number of visitations to lodges were reported by Brother Galt, he having made fourteen visits in sixteen days.

The George Washington Masonic Memorial Association receives a most hearty boost and the Masons of Virginia urged to make their contribution 100 percent. Quite a number of dispensations were issued, all of them appearing to be for legitimate reasons. The grand master, however, refused to issue a special dispensation permitting a lodge to confer all three degrees without examination. Seven dispensations for the formation of new lodges were issued and thirty so-called decisions rendered.

One decision was to the effect that a petitioner does not have to declare his intent of residing in a place any length of time in order to establish a residence. If he has lived there for a year and claims no other place as residence that constitutes his Masonic abode. Another decision rendered was that the master of a lodge can dispense with the reading of the minutes should he deem such action wise. All the other decisions rendered by the grand master are merely local constructions of existing laws.

Nineteen lodges received permission to lay corner-stones during the year. It is apparent that the grand lodge does not care to be burdened with ceremonies of this kind and is perfectly willing that its constituent lodges shall assume the responsibility and pay the expense.

One lodge surrendered its charter during the year while another lost its charter by fire. The grand master recommends that November 4 be commemorated as a Masonic anniversary, thereby honoring the Masonic birthday of George Washington.

Attention is called to the cost of the proceedings, for 1920, the grand lodge having paid $6.00 per page for its printed book. The grand master thinks that the custom of publishing the names of members of lodges which took 302 pages, is not only unnecessary but decidedly expensive.

The sum of $240.00 was authorized to be paid to the Near East Relief Fund to feed two Armenian orphans.

The grand master does not hesitate to indicate wherein the by-laws of his grand lodge should be amended for he makes a large number of suggestions proposing changes.

In his address the grand master makes a reference to Henry Clay, stating that when the anti-Masonic party invited that individual to become a candidate for president he originated the declaration, "I had rather be right than president." The facts are that when Henry Clay was invited to run for president on the anti-Masonie ticket he told the committee that waited upon him that in his younger days he had been made a Mason and had taken some interest in the fraternity, but that in his later years he had been entirely inactive and paid little or no attention to the society. The facts are that Henry Clay practically renounced the Masonie fraternity, an act which does not stand to his credit, at least so far as Freemasonry is concerned.

The grand treasurer gives his total receipts at $132,149.00 and his disbursements as $97,500.00. The Masonic Temple in Richmond is valued at $279,710.00 on which there is a mortgage of $60,000.00.

The report of the grand secretary is extremely brief and is purely financial. The board of governors of the Masonic Home of Virginia called attention to the necessity of an addition on the present building for the accommodation of its constantly increasing number of children in the Home. It was estimated that the addition would cost $30,000.00, and the grand lodge ordered a tax of $1.00 per capita levied in order to meet the expense of this enterprise.

The Committee on Grand Master's Address disapproved of a number of decisions that the grand master had presented. The claims of the committee were that the decisions objected to were not in accordance with the latest Masonic Code,

The following rather peculiar amendment to the law was adopted:

"The grand master, unless he decline, shall always be in nomination for re-election, and the deputy grand master shall always be in nomination for election as grand master, and any member may make an additional nomination."

The reports of the district deputy grand masters are more or less interesting, some of them are brief in the extreme, while others go into detail, concerning the condition of affairs in their respective bailiwicks.

During the grand lodge session the Committee on Work held frequent sessions at which the several degrees were exemplified for the benefit of those brethren who were seeking further light.

The election and installation of officers together with the presentation of the jewel to the retiring grand master closed the session.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by Joseph Eggleston. He reviews Illinois for 1919, also for 1920. Brother Eggleston takes very liberal paragraphs from the addresses of Grand Master Daniel G. Fitzgerrell and quotes in full the report made to the grand lodge in 1920 on the Masonic Service Association. Brother Eggleston uses the seissors quite liberally.

WASHINGTON, F. & A. M.

The proceedings under consideration cover the sixty-third annual communication which convened in the city of Tacoma on Tuesday, June 8, 1920.

The first business of the session after opening was the reception of grand representatives and according to them the grand honors of Masonry. The ambassador from Illinois does not appear to have been present. All the lodges in the jurisdiction were represented with the exception of ten. A short address of welcome was delivered on behalf of the Masons of Tacoma and the same was acknowledged by the junior grand warden of the grand lodge. Then followed the annual address of the grand master, Thomas E. Skaggs.

He refers to the past year as one of unprecedented prosperity. All the lodges of the state shared in the good things which come to the craft.

Two lodges were constituted and five corner-stones laid. None of them were for Masonic edifices, one being the corner-stone of an insurance building. Three Masonic Temples were dedicated during the year and six dispensations issued for the formation of new lodges. All dispensations granted for waiving existing regulations were reported in full. None of them appear to have been for unusual causes. The grand master did refuse to grant a dispensation to a lodge to hold a special election to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the senior warden. His reasons were that the lodge still had its master and junior warden and the special election appeared unnecessary.

The by-laws of a large number of lodges were submitted to the grand master and approved by him and several lodges were granted permission to change their places of meeting.

The grand master states he received numerous requests for rulings upon matters of law but that he refrained from making decisions upon the ground that existing regulations were plain enough to cover all conditions.

The Masonic Home is reported to be in a most satisfactory condition. The members received splendid care on the part of the superintendent and his wife.

Grand Master Skaggs believes in Masonic education and states that he has a plan in this direction which he expects to present to the grand lodge sometime during the session. The George Washington Memorial Association is strongly commended and the Grand Lodge of Washington urged to raise its per capita at an early date.

Quite a long report is made on the Masonic Service Association. After going into much detail the grand master recommends to the grand lodge that it withdraw from further membership in this society. The principal reason assigned is that the association appears to have departed from its original scope and plan.

In the State of Washington the grand lecturers are under charge of the grand master and work under his direction. The grand master states that these officials found plenty to do during the year.

The grand treasurer in his report, states that he received from the grand secretary the sum of $45,000.00 and disbursed $47,000.00 He also makes reports of numerous special funds which are in his hands.

The grand sceretary makes an extended resume of the affairs of his office. He gives the total number raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason to be 3,194 and states that the present number of Master Masons on the roll is 28,617.

The Finance Committee gives the total assets of the Grand Lodge of Washington at $211,725.00. A resolution was presented levying a tax of 25 cents for a period of four years for the benefit of the George Washington Memorial Association.

Quite a report was made by the Committee on Correspondence concerning eigher rituals which it is claimed are being indiscriminately used. This committee likewise goes on record as being opposed to large lodges and thinks that the interest of the fraternity are best subserved in the smaller organization. This committee also wrestled with the problem of outside organizations. They seem to think that something should be done to prevent newly raised Master Masons from being solicited to take the so-called higher degrees.

A rather unusual event in the proceedings of the grand lodge was the receipt of greetings and salutations from the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

An interesting item appears in the proceedings to the effect that the grand secretary announced that at 7:30 o'clock in the evening the Secrets of the Chair (whatever they may be) would be imparted by courtesy of the Pierce County Past Masters Association to master and past master who had not received the same.

The Masonic Research and Educational Committee submitted a report which shows that the Grand Lodge of Washington is earrying on this work according to plans and specifications of its own.

The Jurisprudence Committee made a report limiting the time between the conferring of degrees upon candidates to two weeks unless by special dispensation of the grand master.

The report of the Trustees of the Masonic Home shows that there were in that institution during the year a total of fifty members who were maintained at a cost of $17,923.00. The farm earned $7,327.00 of which produce to the value of $5,677.00 was used in the Home.

The grand orator, Tom W. Holman, delivered an oration on the afternoon of the second day. It was general in character with many Masonic references.

Several memorials were presented to deceased brethren of the jurisdiction, all of which are quite lengthy but show that the Grand Lodge of Washington is disposed to pay tribute to its honor dead.

The grand treasurer who had been elected for twenty-one successive years declined re-election and received a vote of thanks for the services he had rendered the grand lodge.

The Board of Custodians of the Work recommended that the flag should have a place of honor in the East of every lodge and offered a short eeremony relating to it.

The Committee on Finance presented a very complete report making appropriations under the budget system for the various departments of the grand lodge.

The grand secretary's salary is fixed at $3,000.00 per year with a liberal allowance for office assistants.

A resolution was sent to the Jurisprudence Committee raising the number of candidates to receive the degrees at one time from five to ten. The committee concurred in the resolution having stipulated that the grand master must issue his dispensation before a lodge would be permitted to increase the number.

The installation ceremonies were the closing event of the session after which the grand master was presented with a solid gold watch, chain and charm.

The report on foreign correspondence is prepared by Ralph C. Mc-Allister. It is brief and directly to the point.

He refers in very terse sentences to the principal acts of our session of 1919 and a paragraph is taken from the correspondence report under Victoria Australia concerning the grouping of candidates for the several degrees from which it is inferred that Brother McAllister is not inimicable to the group system of conferring degrees.

James H. Begg, G.M., Seattle. Horace W. Tyler, G.S., Tacoma.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA, A. F. & A. M.

This particular grand lodge holds quarterly communications. Meeting as it does, four times per year, its transactions are more or less divided up, and follow very closely the traditions of our English cousins. It appears from the proceedings in the hands of the writer that the eraft in this far away jurisdiction is in a most excellent condition and enjoying the same degree of prosperity which is apparent in all sections of the world. The usual number of visitations to lodges of the State is recorded in the proceedings. These were made by the various grand lodge officers. The grand lodge exercises very strict supervision over the affairs of its constituent bodies, as is apparent from the numerous dispensations which were issued, some to change night of meeting to initiate candidates, or night of election, and to confer degrees with limitations, whatever they may be.

Considerable capital is made out of the fact that the Prince of Wales has been initiated into the fraternity and the proceedings said that this announcement will be received with great satisfaction by all of the Freemasons of the Empire, and the more so because the whole procedure in connection therewith was carried out in strict conformity with the book of constitutions. Much stress is laid upon the work of repatriation and the craft is everywhere urged to do their full share towards sustaining those who are today suffering from wounds and sickness as a result of the war.

One mighty valuable subject was considered by the grand lodge during the year and that was providing Masonic scholarships in various schools and universities for the children of those Masons who paid the supreme sacrifice during the war.

The grand secretary received a very substantial increase in salary. From the various tables which appear it is apparent that the Grand Lodge of Western Australia administered to charities in a true Masonic manner, for the sums which are collected are generous and the expenditures by no means meager. It appears that during the year alterations were made to the offices of the grand lodge and the same are now reported to be in excellent condition.

One rather interesting item is gleaned from the proceedings and relates to social evenings. It appears that since the close of the war, a number of lodges have again resumed the practice of holding social meetings but on some occasions ladies have appeared before the candidates had retired or the lodge been closed. This led the Board of General Purposes to pass a ruling that when a lodge proposes to indulge in a social evening, there shall be no work.

It appears that the eraft in Western Australia must be prospering, for the record discloses dispensations issued for the formation of new lodges. One rather peculiar incident is reported. The worshipful master refused to initiate a candidate and the members present declined to agree with his decision and passed a motion that his wishes be disregarded and the candidate initiated. The Board of General Purposes, which happened to be in session at the time, was appealed to. The board adjourned and visited the lodge and after ascertaining the circumstances ordered the work stopped. The obstreperous brethren then questioned the right of the Board of General Purposes to interfere in the affairs of the lodge and declared that only the grand master himself could stop the proceedings. The grand master was appealed to and issued an order that the work be stopped at once and the whole matter resulted in the suspension from the fraternity of eight brothers who were supposed to have defied supreme authority. The matter finally reached the grand lodge on appeal and caused a regular tempest, with the result that the action of the Board of General Purposes was fully sustained.

Fifty-four lodges in Western Australia applied to the grand lodge for exemption from the payment of grand lodge dues, assigning as a reason that their members were in active service.

The grand lecturer in his report, which is quite extensive, ealls attention to remissness on the part of certain lodges in not reciting the traditional history of the third degree on the same night that the candidate receives his third degree. He says to relate it two or three months afterwards, would be entirely ineffective.

It is apparent that in Western Australia, the legend of the third degree has not yet been dramatized and is still given in the old form in which it was first used, just about one hundred fifty years ago. A lot of brethren, who seem to think that the drama with its character actors as portrayed today, has been handed down from the days of King Solomon, will do well to take note of this fact.

The report on foreign correspondence covers Illinois for 1918 as well as for 1919. The reviewer quotes very liberally from the address of Grand Master Austin H. Scrogin in 1918 and fully endorses all that he said on the subject of physical qualifications. Liberal quotations are taken from the correspondence report of this writer, while the reviewer for Western Australia does not always agree with what was said, yet he has been very kind in a good many instances and there can be no complaint. In the review for 1919 the reviewer quotes all that Grand Master Fitzgerrell said concerning the death of Austin H. Scrogin and also takes his opening lines on the close of the great war. Two pages are given over to quotations from the correspondence report of 1919, in which liberal quotations are taken and some criticism accorded.

In reply to the following paragraph which appeared last year, the following comment is made:

"It appears that among our brethren of Western Australia the idea of a title holds fast in the mind, for the grand master conferred a large number of honorary titles upon brothers who had faithfully served the eraft."

"For the information of our brother reviewer we might say that we have many brethren who have faithfully served the craft in outlying portions of the State, at a distance of anything from 500 to 1,000 miles from the usual meeting place of the grand lodge. As it would necessitate a journey of anything from three to ten days for these brethren to attend grand lodge and the various duties thereof, and an equal time to return, it is impossible for them to fill an active office in grand lodge. As a reward therefore for their services to the craft, the grand master exercising the authority given under our constitution conferred upon them honorary grand lodge rank."

J. D. Stevenson, G.S., Western Australia.

WEST VIRGINIA, A. F. & A. M.

The annual communication was held in the city of Huntington, on the tenth day of November, 1920. The grand lodge was opened briefly after which the representatives of other grand lodges were received and accorded the grand honors. Illinois was represented by Fred C. Steinbicker. Wm. K. Cowden, grand master, presented a report to the grand lodge which covered ten printed pages. He declared the state of the order to be most gratifying and says that West Virginia has 155 chartered lodges with a total membership of 22,880. The net gain for the year was 2,573. Tributes of respect are paid to the dead of his own and other grand jurisdictions.

Seventy-one requests were sent by grand masters of other jurisdictions to confer degrees by courtesy, while the Grand Lodge of West Virginia sent eighty-three requests for courtesy work to other grand jurisdictions.

Grand master reports issuing twenty-one special dispensations, all of them he says were for legitimate purposes.

Two new lodges were formed during the year and proper dispensations issued. Four decisions are rendered by the grand master, one was that a petitioner having moved out of the jurisdiction of the lodge after presenting his petition, lost his right to election and the lodge should return him his petition and money. Another decision was that a member of a lodge could have his name changed upon the records of the grand lodge by presentation of a court record showing that he had been given authority to change his name.

Mention is made in the grand master's report of the funeral of Lawrence Washington, the last of the Washingtons to be born in Mount Vernon. The George Washington Memorial Association is heartily commended and the Grand Lodge of West Virginia urged to do its full share in assisting in this laudable enterprise.

Grand Master Cowden is very frank in declaring that he does not favor the Masonic Service Association and states that no matter what its expressed purposes may be that it will in time be used as the entering wedge for the formation of a general grand lodge.

The grand treasurer gives his receipts at $35,165.00 and his expenditures $37,558.00.

The report of the grand secretary is a very complete document and sets forth various matters pertaining to his office.

The grand lecturer presents a report in which he refers to the text book having enjoyed an unprecedented sale. Just what is meant by the textbook is not clear. It may mean a cipher ritual and it may mean a monitor.

The reports of the district deputy grand masters go much into detail concerning the various acts performed by them during the year.

It cost the grand lodge $33,000.00 to maintain the Masonic Home during the year, while the sum of $963.50 was appropriated from the charity fund to relieve worthy Master Masons and their families. Two hundred dollars was used by the grand lodge to help educate the children of a deceased member of one of the lodges.

The Grand Lodge of West Virginia is to be commended for the splendid work which it is doing along this particular line.

The Committee on Jurisprudence made a very brief report approving all the decisions of the grand master.

Just before the close of the grand lodge a resolution was introduced fixing the minimum fees of degrees at $40.00. This will come up for action next year. The election and installation of officers closed the session.

In reviewing the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of West Virginia the writer is impressed with the idea that the grand lodge is disposed to let well enough alone. Most of the reports which were made were purely perfunctory and relate in the main to routine matters. It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of West Virginia is becoming stabilized.

George W. Atkinson reviews the Grand Lodge of Illinois for 1919. He quotes in full what Daniel G. Fitzgerrell says concerning Sea and Field Lodge of New York City, and in brief terse paragraphs reviews the principal transactions of our session of 1919. Almost one page of his report is given up to a quotation from the oration of Edward J. Brundage. He is very generous to the Illinois correspondent, quoting liberally from his report and refers to him as a liberalist on the subject of physical qualifications. Brother Atkinson is quite right, this writer is by no means one of the "dyed in the wool" adherents to the illegitimate idea of physical perfection.

WYOMING, A. F. & A. M. 1920

The forty-sixth annual communication opened in the city of Buffalo on Wednesday morning, the eighth day of September.

The Committee on Credentials reported the presence of all grand officers as well as representatives of lodges.

Among the telegrams received was one from Brother F. C. Barnett, past grand master, dated at Peoria, Ill.

The grand master, Arthur K. Lee, presented a report to his grand lodge covering twenty pages of printed matter. He opens his remarks by referring to the close of the war and the spirit of unrest which prevails in this country. He refers to Masonry as a great stabilizing influence provided it is rightfully understood and used. The grand master calls attention to the fact that the Grand Lodge of Wyoming joined the Masonic Service Association and he goes to some length in explaining the object and purposes of this society.

During the year, the grand lecturer resigned and the work had to be carried forward by the deputy grand lecturer. Several dispensations were issued, all of them appearing to be for legitimate Masonic purposes.

Quite a long list of visitations were reported by the grand master showing he made every effort to get out among the lodges in his jurisdiction and affiliate with his brethren.

Twenty-two so-called decisions were rendered, all of which were approved by the Committee on Jurisprudence. However, none of the so-called decisions can be considered as out of the ordinary or introducing any new construction of Masonic law. One ruling was that a lodge could not confer the degrees on a minister for less than the lawful sum prescribed by the by-laws.

Grand Master Lee likes the Iowa method of selecting the grand master and recommends to the grand lodge that, in the future, the grand master be selected from the eligibles and that less attention be paid to rotation in office. This simply means that the brother who is most diligent in his services to the craft will be the most likely to receive the honors and awards of the grand lodge. Among other recommendations made, is the one that the grand master be provided with a stenographer.

The grand secretary gives quite an extended report wherein he goes into detail concerning many matters relating to the affairs of his office. He gives the total number raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason as 722 and the present membership of the lodges of Wyoming to be 5,167. The total receipts given by the grand treasurer are $7,500.00 and his expenditures $5,265.00. The Masonic Home fund appears to be growing, judging from the report of the trustees for they show the sum of $19,100.00 now in their hands. The Committee on Finance fixed the mileage and per diem of representatives. Two representatives traveled 1,047 miles and drew as compensation $109.93.

The report of the assistant grand lecturer is complete and disclosed the activities of his office during the year. He proved himself to be diligent in visiting lodges and giving them proper instruction. It is apparent that the Grand Lodge of Wyoming is getting out a new monitor, for a special committee make a report on that subject.

The Jurisprudence Committee approve practically all the acts of the grand master and delve into the subject of titles and announce the proper title of the presiding officer of the lodge as Worshipful Master and grant him the right to sign notices, etc., in that capacity.

A supplementary report by the Jurisprudence Committee recommends that the grand lodge exact a per capita tax of $1.00 from each lodge and a librarian be appointed to look after the grand lodge library and keep it in proper condition.

The election and installation of officers together with presentation of the jewel closed the session.

The report on correspondence is prepared by Joseph M. Lowndes, grand secretary. He treats Illinois very courteously, giving it three pages of very generous treatment. He quotes liberally from the address of the grand master, Daniel G. Fitzgerrell, and takes quite a long extraction from the oration of Edward J. Brundage. A liberal quotation is taken from what this writer said upon the subject of co-ordination.

William O. Wilson, G.M., Casper.

Joseph M. Lowndes, G.S., Casper.
